REMINDER FOR ALL TOBACCO GROWERS

Farmers in Boone county who are considering leaving strips of idle or fallow land in an alternate row arrangement with tobacco rows were reminded by Lassing Huey, chairman of the county ASC committee, that the strips of idle or fallow land must be as wide as, or wider, than four normal rows of tobacco to be deducted from the tobacco acreage.

A "normal row" is described by Mr. Huey as being at least 36 inches wide or the actual distance between the rows of tobacco on the farm, whichever is wider. Mr. Huey said that anyone planning to leave idle or fallow strips of ground in the tobacco field should contact the county ASC office before setting tobacco.

BAPTIST BIBLE SCHOOL

The Intermediate Department and its faculty will visit the Southern Baptist Seminary, the Carver School of Missions, and the Baptist Hospital in Louisville; the new Baptist Building at Middletown, where all state offices are located, also the printing plant of the Western Recorder, Kentucky Baptist paper. They will also stop for a visit at Spring Meadows, the Baptist Children's Home, Middle-town.

Other departments will have their annual picnic June 14 or June 16 at Bethel, Baptis; Encomment on the Licking River at Visalia.

The bus will leave the church each morning at 7:30, take U. S. 25 to Richmond, return by way of Old Lexington Pike, turn left at Nicholson Road, go to Banklick Road, retroce route to Walton, pick up those on Alla Vista, and return to church, then make a run on Edwards Avenue, back out the Vanna Road to stockyards, then return to church.

Every boy and girl, between the ages of 3-15, who is not attending Vacation Bible School at another church is invited. We will take every precaution to keep them from being hurt and expect full cooperation from the child. A special program for parents will be given on June 19, at 8:00 p. m.

Note of Thanks—

I wish to thank everyone who has been so kind and helpful since the recent fire at my home. Especially do I thank the Walton Volunteer Fire Department for their efforts in extinguishing the blaze.

Planning and recruitment for the 1960-61 United Appeal for the Community Chest and Red Cross is well underway in Boone County, it has been announced by Fred R. Rauch, U. A. chairman for the Northern Kentucky Division, and Beattie M. DeLong, Northern Kentucky residential division chairman.

The first step for this fall's United Appeal in Boone County was launched recently with a training meeting for Boone County chairmen at the Southern Trails restaurant in Florence.

DeLong, who is supervisor of lighting sales for the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company, praised the excellent leadership and outstanding performance shown in previous years by Boone County U. A. campaigners. He pointed out that Boone County has been the leading group in percentage of quota in past U. A. campaigns in Northern Kentucky.

At the meeting, DeLong introduced John Pierce as Boone County residential chairman for the 1960-61 United Appeal. Pierce, who lives at 128 Hopeful Road, Florence, with his wife, Betty, son, John, and two daughters, Sheila and Lisa, is a field underwriter for the New York Life Insurance Co. He served as district chairman in the Florence area for last year's successful United Appeal.

Pierce has named his "cabinet" of chairmen who will work with him in putting Boone County over quota this year. Dr. Ferd J. Metzger has been named chairman for small business solicitation. James R. Moore has been named special gifts chairman. The Rev. Donald Nunnally, Boone County U. A. chairman last year, has been appointed to head the training of residential campaigners in Boone Co. James S. Walsley, of Walton, has been appointed auditor for Boone Co.

The Golden Rule

Lesson for June 5, 1960

WHAT IS THE Bible driving at? What is the essence of the Bible, what is it that can't be thrown away or left out? Jesus put the answer to this pretty strongly once. He did not quote any verse from the Old Testament (this Bible); He gave a single sentence of his own, and said "This is the Law and the Prophets." He never said as much about any other sentence.

No wonder the Christian church hit on the name "Golden Rule" for this sentence. Dr. Foreman which Jesus boldly identified with the Law and the Prophets. It is indeed golden. But "rule" can be misunderstood. Most rules are designed to save people the trouble of thinking. Applying rules is a scientific procedure. But this "Golden Rule" is of such a nature that applying it is an art, not a science. So far from saving any one the trouble of thinking, it demands thought. The Golden Rule, in the life of a stupid and selfish person, produces only a mess, and can do great harm.

Intelligence

At least three things are necessary in order to make the Golden Rule work. What is this Golden Rule? "Whatever you wish that men would do to you, do so to them." This is a challenge. First of all, to intelligence. It is really a principle, not a rule. It does not tell you to do any particular act. It does not describe any particular situation. It is open to being misunderstood (as all wise sayings are) by the foolish and the stupid. What could we say of a man who would give his wife a shotgun just because he would like to have one?

Imagination

The Golden Rule calls for imagination as well as intelligence. If the man who gave his wife the shotgun would try to put himself into his wife's place, he would ask, "If I were my wife, what birthday present would I want?" And he might remember that he had said something about wanting new bathroom curtains. Or, if he had an even stronger power of imagination, he could think his way into her mind and guess at something she had never so much as mentioned—an extension telephone, or a trip to her old home. Whatever you would wish people to do to you — if you were in their place — do so to them. That is the real meaning of this rule.

Sometimes it calls for the kind of imagination that can look into the future. Parents and teachers need this greatly. You can perhaps imagine what this child, this student, wants you to do now. He wants you not to punish him. He wants you not to require hard work of him. Now you can let the child do as he pleases without lifting a hand against him, and that will suit his down to the ground. But ten years from now you—and he too—may sorely wish you had spanked him good when spanking would do some good. Likewise the teacher can be easy on the class—with the consequence that they learn nothing. Years later they may fail in competition with those who once studied under harder-driving teachers. Then they will wish the teacher had put on the screws.

The Christian Heart

The Golden Rule calls for something beyond, or rather underlying, intelligence and imagination. Its right use calls for the Christian heart, that is to say, a heart in tune with the heart of Jesus, a heart wherein dwells the Holy Spirit; a heart sensitive not merely to the wants of others but to their needs. Jesus himself gave an illustration of this when the paralyzed man was brought to him by the man's four friends who let him down through the roof. The first thing Jesus said to him was "Your sins are forgiven." Some people would have criticized Jesus for that. Where was any evidence that this man wanted his sins forgiven? Would his friends think a trick had been played on them? A forgiven cripple weighs just as much as an unforgiven cripple, doesn't he? But our Lord knew what the man needed most of all was forgiveness. Only a Christ-like heart can see through want to need.

One of the most picturesque courthouse domes in Kentucky is on the Greek Revival structure at Paris in Bourbon county.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verse
Sunday	Galatians	5	8
Monday	Galatians	11	64-48
Tuesday	Peter	2	12-20
Wednesday	Romans	8	31-39
Thursday	Romans	12	1-9
Friday	Romans	12	10-21
Saturday	Romans	16	1-7

Our future presidents and prime ministers — from what spiritual heritage shall they arise? The ultimate giants of science and industry — what faith will they profess?

The fathers and mothers of our grandchildren and great-grandchildren — what convictions will be taught in their homes?

All this we are deciding today . . . in our churches . . . in our families.

For one generation can bequeath only to the next that which it, itself, possesses.

Our own religious life, our own determination to provide our children with thorough spiritual training, our own faithfulness in filling our churches with families — these positive purposes, expressed Sunday after Sunday, will mold TOMORROW'S LEADERS.

Firemen End Vigil; New Alarm System Now In Operation

This week firemen completed the new home fire alarm system, thus ending a 24-hour fire guard at the local firehouse. There has been someone on fire duty at the firehouse from the time the dial phone went into operation until the past week, when the "new home alarm system" was completed.

City employees were on duty eight hours a day five days a week, the rest of the time it was up to the fire department or local auxiliary or outside help to answer the alarm. A total of 1910 hours were logged by volunteers.

Officers and firemen would like to take this opportunity to express their appreciation to the people who helped make the stay at the firehouse as pleasant as possible, and also, Chief Charles Worthington would like to express his appreciation to the following people: members of the fire department, who volunteered their services and spent time in fire guard at the firehouse.

Nathan Northcutt, Sr., Mrs. Mary Worthington, Claude Chestnut, Andy Matthews, Dale Stephens, and all City employees, who answered the alarm during week days.

Chief Worthington issued these simple instructions for reporting a fire on the new alarm system:

1. Dial Hudson 5-A-4141.
2. When person answers, give him or her your name and purpose of call, whether a fire or needing emergency equipment, etc.
3. Nature of fire, whether grass, barn, auto, etc.
4. Best way to reach fire.
5. Lost, but not less, remain calm, do not hang up until you have given all information the person taking the call needs.

Firemen Attend Church Services

The first Sunday in June is Fire Department Sunday, and on this day members of the Walton Volunteer Fire Department attend church services at one of the local churches. Chick Worthington, Guy Carlisle, James Bonar, Gene McElroy, Russell Groger, Edward Egan, Charles Simpson, Lloyd High, Jess Thornton, Russell Acra, Edward Berkemeyer, Jack Rouse, Don Menke, and Harold Marsh.

Aid Crittenden Department

Provisional Rating Given To Walton-Verona High School

On Monday, May 16, the State Board of Education announced that 412 of the 527 public and private high schools of Kentucky were fully accredited by four different standards. These were broken down into 24 with the comprehensive rating, 173 with selective rating, 173 with standard rating, and 213 with provisional rating. The remainder of the high schools received a conditional accreditation.

Supt. Eugene Robinson received a notice from the Department of Education that Walton-Verona High had received a rating of provisional, as did 212 other high schools in the state of Kentucky. The new system of accreditation supplants the old standards of size under which, for example, no school could be accredited with less than 100. The new approach is quality of the education program rather than quantity.

1. To be comprehensive, a school must offer at least 43 full-term courses in twelve curriculum areas.
2. To be standard it must offer at least 33 full-term courses in the twelve areas.
3. To be provisional it must offer at least 24 full-term courses in twelve areas.
4. The selective high school has the same requirements as comprehensive and is so rated because of restricting enrollment to boys or to girls, as the case may be.
5. Provisional emergency rating drops to seven areas and at least 18 full-term courses.
6. The conditional temporary rating, the lowest, drops to less than 18 full-term courses in an unspecified number of areas.

The first four ratings are equally good from the academic standpoint. It was emphasized to the State Board of Education by Don C. Bale, Director of Instruction. It is just that the comprehensive is a bigger school than the standard and the standard is bigger than the provisional. "One is as good as the other, so far as it goes," Mr. Bale said.

The highest rating of comprehensive was concentrated on schools in Louisville, Jefferson County, and the second class cities. This coveted rating follows: Bell County, Daviess County, Lafayette and Bryant Station in Fayette County; Butler, Durrett, Eastern, Fern Creek, Southern, Valley and Wagoner, all in Jefferson County; Dixie Heights in Kenton County; and Knox Central in Knox County.

Fort Thomas, Newport, Owensboro, Henry Clay of Lexington, Asherton, Central, Male, Manual and Shawnee of Louisville, and Holmes of Covington, and Tighman of Paducah.

The State Board of Education ratings range from these 24 large high schools to 16 public high schools—eight of them for Negroes—being rated as "conditionally temporary."

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—FL 7-5018

The Elmer Sturgeon family spent Sunday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth on Bowman Road. We have learned to love the Ricketts family during their short stay among us and regret to see them leave. However, we are glad that Mrs. Ricketts has found a place in the school system at LaGrange.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parish, Mrs. Dorothy Ricketts and sons, David and Stephen, were guests one evening recently of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton and children, Louise and Lynn, spent the holiday weekend here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Richardson were recent weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson. Lou Ervin is improving steadily, we learn, though he has been ill for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Raceland, Ky. were recent Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Deuser. Mr. and Mrs. Beech Craigmyle and children of Louisville, visited their parents and other relatives in this county over the holiday.

We had a pleasing variation in our worship service May 29, when we had as our visiting minister, Rev. Mrs. E. L. Mann. This being layman's Sunday, at the end of the service the new officers of the W. S. C. S. were installed.

J. A. Keeney enjoyed getting out on Wednesday of last week when Rev. Parish came and took him to his home to spend the day. Misses Naomi Wolf, Phyllis and Sandra Hall stopped and took his picture. Then on Sunday evening, Misses Mary and Alma Stephens came for a covered dish meal. He also had a number of callers during the week. He really appreciates every attention.

Note of Thanks—

We sincerely thank everyone for their wonderful kindness and sympathy during the recent loss of our loved one. May God's richest blessings abide with you.

MARY PHILLIPS

Mrs. Ralph Howard—FL 7-5858

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Susan Cross, who passed away suddenly Thursday afternoon at her home on Cruse Creek of a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Mintkenbaugh have returned from their trip to Mammouth Cave and the Smokies with a hole in the top of their car, where a hungry bear, jumped on it and tore a hole in the top with his teeth trying to get to some fried chicken. Last report they felt safer sleeping at home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Binder and children spent Sunday at Ross, Ky., picnicking and swimming.

Mrs. Herbert Barrow and daughter and Mrs. Ralph Howard spent Thursday afternoon at River Dams.

HIS FEET ARE ON THE GROUND!

This man can see for many, many miles, but he's not up in the clouds; his feet are on the ground! Contrary to what some people think, that's what the Church does for a man, too. Certainly it gives him a broader vision; it lifts up his eyes to see God and the eternal values of love, truth, justice and service which God inspires. It gives him a divine perspective from which to view his job, his family, his country — his life!

But the Church always keeps that man's feet on the ground! It accepts him for what he is — regardless of the clothes he wears or the job he holds. It looks evil in the face and sees it for what it is — a devilish cancer which only God can cure. It keeps a man squarely in this world while it lifts up his eyes to see another beyond the horizon.

And this is what the Church can do for you! It can give you greater vision. But it's not up to the clouds. It keeps your feet on the ground!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Miss Betty Joyce Justice became the bride of Rev. Calvin Perry at a beautiful wedding held at the Vine Run Baptist Church in Grant County at 7:30 p.m. June 4th. The bride wore a lovely wedding gown of organza and white lace, made with a fitted bodice and a full flowing skirt. She wore a rhinestone tiara from which hung her fingertip veil of nylon net. She carried a white Bible with white ribbon streamers and a lavender orchid. Her bridesmaids and maid of honor wore identical gowns of lavender silk, organza and carried nosegays of white and lavender asters. The bride's niece and nephew served as flower girl and ring bearer. The groom's cousin, Donald Perry, served as his best man. The bride's mother wore a sheath dress of black crepe with a lace yolk, and her corsage was of yellow roses. The groom's mother was accompanied by her brother, Jerry Richardson, of Indianapolis. She wore a sheath dress of beige lace and had a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. When they return from their honeymoon, the young couple will move into the parsonage of the Bullittsburg Baptist Church in Boone County, where the groom has been called as Pastor.

BOONE PLANNING
SETUP IS STUDIED

The possibility of establishing a joint countywide planning commission for Boone county will be discussed at a meeting at 8:00 p. m., June 16, at the Old Town Hall, in Florence.

The meeting was set up last week by Boone County Fiscal Court, which invited city officials and planning board members from Florence and Walton to attend.

Heretofore, county planning commissions were denied counties which did not contain second class cities.

However, legislation was introduced in the 1960 Legislature by State Representative Dan J. Roberts, chairman of the Walton Planning Commission, permitting county planning commissions regardless of the size of the cities involved.

Good Fruits

Lesson for June 16, 1960

CHRISTIANITY is not an impossible religion. Some people think it is, but they don't understand it.
Two very common mistakes are made at this point. One is to think that Christianity is essentially a set of dogmas, a creed too complicated to understand. Now of course, if you are going to talk about God, you are sure to strike mysteries sooner or later, in the nature of the case. God cannot be put into words. But Christianity is not words, though it has never thrived without them. Christ did not choose his first followers for their theological skills. The other mistake is to think that Christianity consists of the perfect performance of very difficult deeds.
And since all of us who are honest must confess that our deeds are not terribly difficult and we do not do them with spectacular success (to say the least of it)—and so we are inclined to give up Christianity, because it's "not possible."

What you can't see

The truth is, Christianity is neither ideas you can't grasp nor deeds you can't do. Nevertheless, Christianity is concerned both with ideas and with acts. In the Sermon on the Mount Jesus concentrates on acts: actions and habits, but also motives, for motives are part of every action. He speaks of them plainly, and also poetically. His
mentions false prophets, and offers a simple way of telling a false prophet from a true one. "By their fruits you shall know them," he says. We must bear in mind that Jesus did not say, "By their fruits God knows them." God's wisdom sees into the hearts of all women and men, sifting the bad from the good. We ourselves can never fully explore one another's hearts. Indeed, who of us can fully explore his own heart? Who knows the full truth about his own motives, desires, disposition? When grain first comes out of the ground, a tiny green shoot, only an expert can tell whether this is wheat (say) or rye. It all looks alike to the city man dashing through the country.
But when harvest time comes only a very unobservant city visitor could mistake wheat for rye.

What you can see

It is we human beings who need to see the fruits before we can tell about the plant, be it grain or trees.
Kindly observe how practical Jesus is. He talks of "good fruit," not "perfect fruit." Some odd thinkers have thought that Christ, in the Sermon on the Mount, was doing his best to discourage us, to show that the Christian life is impossible.
On the contrary, doesn't it sound as if Jesus were trying to encourage us? He assumes that people admire good fruit, and that there can be good fruit in their lives. Let us put that into non-poetic language. Jesus teaches here that all men understand what good actions are; that all men prefer—in others at least! good actions; and that we can tell whether a man is good by watching what he does. To make all this perfectly plain, Jesus draws a sort of picture of the Last Judgment. Some persons who have been quite "orthodox"—that is, they always gave him the right title of Lord—will miss eternal life, because their lives show no fruits that can be called good. Right opinions never make up for wrong actions.

Not for credit

Jesus had little use, on the other hand, for people who were all wrapped up, so to speak, in their own good deeds; people who called attention to themselves and considered themselves better than others; people who want to be sure God notices their good actions so that they will receive proper credit.
In Matthew 23 Jesus draws a picture of the Last Judgment which shows the kind of good deed which God finally rewards. The people who will stand at Christ's right hand are those who have done good as well as been good; but what kind of good? Unconscious acts, that is, acts which come out of a person's real character rather than being undertaken as a demonstration of one's own righteousness. Unselfish acts too; doing yours, a good turn (and how sick we are at it!) is not Christ's idea of good fruit.

sufficient unto the day

Are you a worry expert?

Some people gather up all the worries of the past and combine them with the anxieties of the future. These they add to the burdens of the present — a huge bundle indeed.

What a difference it would make in their peace and happiness if they could take each day as it comes.

Jesus said, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." He not only taught but He lived this lesson. Told and misunderstanding filled the days of His ministry. Yet He met each one with calm assurance. Forgetting the past, He faced each tomorrow with inward peace.

This peace He willed to His followers through all the ages. Come to church and learn how to make this heritage your own.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a source of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, without democracy and civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his

COOPERATION Is a Kentucky tradition!

HOUSE WARMINGS . . .
OR WARMING HOUSES!

A new house has always meant a house warming here in Kentucky. Old friends and new neighbors all turn out. All the new modern conveniences from electric heat to built-in ranges get demonstrated. Dinners get cooked and children bedded down. And everyone shows up with one of those small gifts that quickly turn a house into a home. Taking the work out of moving is another example of neighborly cooperation.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops . . . created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves . . . are a good example of how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in cities and towns.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—FL 7-5018
I think the best news of all today is the wonderful rain that we had last night. Let us give Him thanks!
A painful accident befell Mrs. Caroline Armstrong on Thursday morning. They were putting the cows in the barn to milk when she either tripped or a cow knocked her down in the stable and another stepped on her hand. Two fingers were lacerated and a place on her arm bruised. Her son took her to the hospital to have the fingers dressed. She says this morning they are better.

Rev. Parish called last week on several of his parishioners who are ill or unable to get out. Among them were Thomas Borkers, Mrs. J. P. Riggs, Paul Daman and J. A. Keeney. They and all of us will miss Bro. Parish and family as they leave at the end of June.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger called on Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hileman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shaw had as guests on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stewart (Dune Swinford) and two children of Pasadena, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp called on Mrs. Caroline Armstrong on Sunday evening.

The Homemakers Club met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Blum Rich. The lesson of the day was much enjoyed since it was an outdoor cookery.

A most enjoyable occasion Wednesday was a reunion of old friends and class mates at the home of Mrs. Lee Faulkner on McCollum Road. Among the guests were Mrs. Christine Mitchell, Covington; Mrs. May Collins, Cincinnati; Mrs. Virgie Hays, Covington; Miss Pearl Crosswath, Mrs. Lillian Reynolds, Mrs. Meggie Mathis and Mrs. Ina Colvin of Cynthia; Mrs. Naomi Brown and Mrs. Naomi Catherine Allison of Lexington; Mrs. Opal Shaw of Taylor Mill Road.

Mrs. Harold Faulkner recently joined her husband stationed with our military forces in Germany.

Friends of John Crawford of Richardson Road, who lived in this neighborhood at one time, regret to learn of the near fatal accident when his tractor overturned with him. He was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Faulkner entertained with a dinner on Sunday for their son, Sgt. Allen Faulkner, recently returned from Korea.

Some forty members of the family and friends were present. Sgt. Faulkner and family will be stationed at the Electronics School in Alabama.

W.S.C.S. Meeting

The W.S.C.S. met at the home of Mrs. Dewey Parsons on Thursday evening. Mrs. Parish gave the devotional, her theme, Worship in the Home. Mrs. Dorothy Ricketts read a letter from a mission worker on the need for more workers. At the close of the program Mrs. D. Kennedy presented Mrs. Parish a life membership, a gift from society and friends. This was the first meeting with Mrs. D. Ballinger as president. She is most efficient. Sharon Parsons assisted her mother in serving a delightful refreshment. Others present were Miss Helen Richardson, Mrs. H. Rees, Mrs. G. Fennell, Mrs. A. Fennell Jr., Mrs. R. Losey, Mrs. C. Faulkner, Mrs. M.

Bruggen, Mrs. C. Rapp, Mrs. E. Rich, Mrs. R. Cooper, Mrs. D. Keeney and Mrs. J. Keeney.

A fellowship supper will be held at the church on Saturday evening at 6:30. A farewell to Rev. and Mrs. Parish and family. A rather interesting program is being prepared. Hope we can have a good number present to enjoy the occasion.

"His Followers" Entertained

Miss Linda McMillan entertained her Sunday School class, "His Followers," at her lovely home recently. Those present were: Misses Sherry Stephenson, Paulette Chance, Debbie Afterkirk, Linda McMillan, Brenda Duchemin, and the teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Kinnon. Some of the girls were away in camp and visiting relatives.

The next meeting will be with Miss Marilyn Stephenson.

McNeely Circle Meets

The McNeely Circle of First Baptist Church, Walton, met June 9th at the church with Mrs. Joe Tackett teaching the book on Mission Study. Those present were: Mrs. Bryan Rector, Mrs. Ora Stone, Mrs. Bess Conrad, Mrs. James Burden, Mrs. Omer Black, Mrs. Grace Knox, Mrs. John Gurley, Mrs. Blanche Franks, and Mrs. Maude Wilson.

Higher Hog Prices Seen For This Year

The UK Agricultural Experiment Station's economics department said this week that hog prices will average higher in 1960 than in 1959.

This forecast was made in the department's bi-weekly business outlook letter this week.

'Starting in mid-May,' the letter says, 'hog prices will probably continue their upward trend through June and July.' This is based on reports of anticipated and actual farrowings, expected to be down about 13% from the December-through-May period of 1959. Farrowings in the June-through-August period are expected to be down about 4%.

The economists predict that the summer price peak in hog prices this year probably will come between July 15 and August 15. This is when the smallest number of hogs is expected to be marketed. They think the peak in prices will be close to $19 a hundredweight or slightly higher.

'Hog prices after August, 1960 will likely average considerably higher than they did for the last part of 1959,' the letter says. Prices then will decline as marketings increase in the fall and winter of 1960, but probably will not drop to the 1959 levels.

IT'S GREAT TO HAVE MY FAMILY IN MY OWN HOME!

My wife and I have been wanting a home of our own for a long time. I'm a small salaried man and I didn't think that we could afford one. Then one day a friend told me about Rosedale Federal's Home Ownership Plan. I went in to talk it over. The friendly officers showed me how I could own a home of my own and pay every expense connected with it in one lump sum. I pay monthly just the way I used to pay rent.

I'M FINE

"There's nothing whatever the matter with me, I'm just as healthy as I can be, I have arthritis in both my knees. And when I talk, I speak with a wheeze. My pulse is weak and my blood is thin. But I'm awfully healthy for the shape I'm in."

I think my liver is out of wack, And I have a terrible pain in my back. My hearing is gone and my eyes are dim. Most everything seems to be out of trim. I'm likely to fall at any time, But, all things considered, I'm feeling fine.

Arch supports for both my feet, Or I wouldn't be able to walk down the street. My nails are impossible to keep in points, Complexion is bad, due to dry skin, But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

My dentures out. I'm restless at night, In the morning I'm a frightful sight, Memory's failing, head in a spin. I'm practically living on Aspirin, But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

Now the moral is, as this tale we unfold, That for you and me who are going old, It's better to say, "I'm fine," with a grin, Than to tell everyone the shape we're in."

Evaporated milk, which has a higher concentration of milk solids than whole milk, is suggested for flavorful cream soups, sauces, and other foods where a fine, smooth consistency is desired. When selecting furnishings, decide on a color scheme for your rooms. Choosing certain colors before you go shopping will save time and trouble by narrowing the range of choice.

Note of Thanks—

When cooking macaroni foods, add them slowly to boiling water and cook until they are just tender and slightly chewy. Stir gently to prevent sticking to the bottom of the pan; allow 5 to 10 minutes depending on size and shape. Macaroni products are more appealing if not overcooked.

Zachary Taylor, 12th president of the United States, grew to manhood on a farm in the Beargrass Creek area near Louisville.

For best results, buy cottage cheese from refrigerated cases at the store and keep it cool at home. Keep the container tightly closed to prevent drying and absorption of off-flavors from other foods.

The Walton Christian Church will hold its annual meeting this coming Sunday evening at 6:30, beginning with a potluck supper. There will be a special speaker for the occasion, James A. Mook, General Secretary of Christian Churches of Kentucky.

The supper is under the supervision of the Evangelical Committee with Ben Doan as chairman. The committee will also be responsible for the devotional service before the meeting. The church clerk, Mrs. Lloyd High, will report on gains and losses of members during the past four years with a prediction of the trend of membership for the Decade of Decision, the Christian Churches long range plan for the '60's.

Local Schools to Get Increased RevenueAs Result of The Sales and Use TaxNO SURPLUS TOBACCO PLANTS IN KENTUCKY

There are no surplus tobacco plants at the present time in Kentucky. Tobacco beds in central Kentucky have been contracted by neighbors, warehousemen, and growers from Virginia, Indiana, and Ohio. These beds have been sold from $1.50 per foot up, according to the Extension specialists in tobacco work at the University of Kentucky.

Tom Riley, Kenton County Agent, and Joe Cason, Boone County Agent, urge growers in these two counties to conserve every available plant. Growers should use extreme care in pulling plants so as not to injure other plants.

Flea beetle damage has been reported quite widely and growers should use DDT to control these insects.

Christian Church Vacation School
Most Successful

One of the most successful Vacation Church Schools of recent years was concluded Sunday at the Walton Christian Church with the children taking part in the worship through song.

The Kindergarteners sang the professional and a special number, introducing the people who taught and helped in the school. The Primitives sang the call to prayer and the offering. The Juniors sang the anthem and led the responsive reading. They also gave a worship service which they had given during the week, which furnished the basis for the sermon by the minister.

Those who taught in the school were Martha Miller, assisted by Jessica Hopperton and Sandy Spindler, in the Low Kindergarten; Mrs. Andy Coyle, assisted by Carol Groger, in the High Kindergarten; Mrs. Joe Wood, First Grade; Mrs. Finley Jacobs, Jr., Second Grade; Mrs. Charles Holder, Third Grade; Mr. Paul Simpson, assisted by Jo Simpson, Fourth Grade, and Mrs. Pete Miller, Fifth and Sixth Grades.

The staff consisted of the Rev. George Fiske, superintendent; Mrs. Don Stephenson, secretary; Mrs. Geo. Fiske and Mrs. Ed Egan, music; Mrs. Russell Groger and Mrs. Floyd Shields, Jr., refreshments; Lynette Worthington and Roetta Hall, hand crafts for primaries; Mrs. Don Menke, assisted by Bob Jones, Mike Simpson, Ruth Menke, Betty Waters and Dennis Lusby, in charge of recreation, and Mrs. Layne Cheesman, nurses.

A number of people assisted in a variety of capacities during the two-week school. Mrs. Dale Stephens acted as substitute teacher as well as helping with transportation. Mrs. Ed Scott, Mrs. Jack Rouse, Mrs. Jack Alphin transported pupils and helped in a variety of other ways, and Mrs. Stanley Bush and Mrs. Albert Parker helped with refreshments.

The Walton-Verona schools may receive as much as $26,000 in additional funds from the state in the 1960-61 school year, Superintendent Eugene Robinson said this week.

In addition, the district's school children will benefit handsomely from the state government's full financing, for the first time of the free textbook program.

The extra benefits for education in Walton-Verona, Superintendent Robinson explained, are made possible by the state's new revenue program, which includes the sales tax, effective July 1.

Estimates, based on 1959-60 figures of the State Department of Education, indicate that Walton-Verona could possibly receive $73,000 in state funds under the Minimum Foundation Program in the forthcoming school year. This compares with $46,000 which the school district received in the 1959-60 school year.

"The new revenue program will provide much needed relief to education in our district," Robinson said. He added that the additional funds would enable the school district to provide more free textbooks, more classroom space and better equipment, a broader course of studies and higher instructional salaries.

Wendell P. Butler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said in advising local school districts of the funds, "Our legislature has done well in carrying out the will of the people, who demanded better schooling for Kentucky's children."

Teachers in the Walton-Verona schools will receive a substantial increase.

On The Rock

Lesson for June 26, 1960

PLEASE NOTE the title of this column. It is On the Rock, not On the Rocks. The English language is peculiar. On the Rocks is a nautical expression referring to a ship cracking up on a rocky reef. On the Rock is a builder's expression, referring to solid foundations. You could mix the metaphors by saying "You'll never go on the rocks if you're on the Rock."

Bypassing Jesus

We are not surprised when people who make no claim to being Christians lower Jesus and refuse to consider him an authority. But it is surprising, and saddening, and besides, to find professing Christians bypassing Jesus as Number One authority in their lives. One way of doing this is to say that Jesus was not giving directions for this life, even for this world; but that he was telling us how we should live when the Kingdom of God comes on earth. In other words, that Jesus was giving directions for some future era, not for then and there in Palestine nor for here and now in America. Another way of bypassing Jesus is to take the opposite tack, and claim that Jesus was speaking only for the old dispensation or period of the Law, and that all his moral directions and ideals went out when the Holy Spirit came at Pentecost. Still another way to bypass Jesus is to allege that his commands were impossible, and that he knew it; but he wanted to set the standard so high that people would give up trying to be good and rely on faith instead of works.

Taking Jesus seriously

Jesus himself gave no support to such lopsided caricatures of his teaching and intentions. "Everything he said indicates that he intended to be taken seriously. He speaks distinctly of some who would one day call him Lord—but 'not do what I tell you' (Luke 6:46); and he has nothing good to say of such people. Jesus talked to real people with real problems. What mainline Christians have discovered down through the ages is, that what Jesus said to the people he met face to face is still good for our day and for all time. It is nothing better than double-talk to call Jesus "Lord" or even "God" and refuse to pay attention to him when he gives directions for living.

Building on the rock

The exact word (in the Greek) is "THIS rock," not "a rock." Anywhere in the world, if you go down far enough, you strike rock; and all the rock of the world is connected together by the mighty forces God has created. So there is one Rock on which an enduring life can be founded: Christ and his teachings. But a question may come to mind: Human beings are of enormous variety. Their problems are innumerable. Jesus could not, and did not, give us his mind as to many of the most difficult problems of our time. How then can we say that his teachings are the bed-rock of all truly successful living?

Jesus could say this, not because he was a new Moses, not because he was delivering rules for everybody on all occasions. He could say this because his teachings are the universal bedrock beneath all the variety of human personalities and situations. As we saw when looking into the "Golden Rule," Jesus gave us principles rather than rules. He does not do our thinking for us. He furnishes the foundation; each of us has to build his own house on it.

Tested by storm

A house of cards will stand up so long as no one breathes on it. A house with any flimsy underpinning, or none, will stand so long as the weather is good. The test of a house is not sunshine but storm. And if there is one thing certain about every man's life, it is that the sun will not always shine upon it. Bright days may be certain to come, too; but they are not the terrible test. The dark days, the blizzards and the floods and the hurricanes, are the times sure to come for each of us. Two houses may look just the same before the storm. How they look afterwards is what counts.

FENCE-SITTING

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—FL 7-3018

Misses Judith Rapp, Karen Bruggen and Sharon Bruggen attended Kentucky State Council of Jobs Daughters at Richmond, Ky., last week. The girls enjoyed a wonderful time and were quite proud when Karen was chosen senior Princess and Judy, recorder in the State organization.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Ross were the guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Binder and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Binder.

Mr. and Mrs. Holly Carr are enjoying a well-earned vacation.

Mrs. Edna Mae Bradford of Butler was a recent guest of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rees.

Mr. Thomas Borkers is improving since he is back at his home.

We are so glad to welcome back home, our old friend, Tom Burke. He left this neighborhood almost 40 years ago but lived in Covington for quite a good many years. Some 20 years ago he and his wife and son, moved to Phoenix, Arizona. They are now living in Palo Alto, California. Tom expects to see all of his old friends before starting home.

The Fellowship Supper at the church on Saturday evening, was quite well attended and the delicious food was enjoyed by all. Since this affair was a tribute to our pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Parish, quite a lot of things were recalled from their life history and woven into a little presentation. At the close a "love gift" was presented to the retiring minister and his wife.

Forest-Value Survey Issued In Kentucky

A publication listing the prices of various forest products has been issued by the state Division of Forestry and the UK forestry section.

Main use of the survey is to let landowners know the value of their standing timber in any of the forest-product categories if the land is sold. The report is entitled "Forest Utilization Survey No. 9" and copies are available at the UK Forestry Section, Horticulture Department, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.

James Newman, UK Cooperative Extension Service forester, says the state was divided into five marketing areas for the survey. Price information was obtained for each major forest product purchased or sold in each of the five areas. Some examples of products are standing timber, cooperage, pulpwood, veneer logs, handle-stock, fence posts, poles and piling, dogwood bolts and charcoal wood.

TAX TO AID SCHOOLS

crease in salaries for the coming year. A teacher with a degree will receive an annual increase of $900. Other increases range from $300 to $400. A few of the other improvements which the local board has planned for the coming year are:

1. New Science laboratory for the Walton-Verona High School, which will include new furniture as well as new equipment and apparatus for students to work with. This is being done at a cost of $10,000 of which $5,000 is matching money from the federal government.

2. The Verona school will have all new window blinds for the second floor; outside entrance in the lunchroom, plus painting and general reconditioning.

3. Outside of all windows in the Walton building are to be painted; new blackboard space for mathematics; drive around the building completed; new furniture for the lunchroom (PTA has given some help here), and some inside painting.

4. The appropriation for library books and instructional materials has been more than doubled. This amount has been increased from about $800 to over $2,000.

5. A full time public school music program will be started this fall. This is to include all grades in both schools. Additional money has been appropriated to buy class room materials for this program.

The increase in salaries and the improvements listed above, as well as others through the year, will be made possible because of Kentucky's new revenue program, which includes the sales tax. On behalf of the teachers and students of the Walton-Verona schools, Sept. Eugene Robinson expresses appreciation to the people of the Walton-Verona School District for the additional money that the schools will receive from the sales tax. In expressing this appreciation Mr. Robinson said, "It is with heart felt gratitude that we say thank you for your support and the additional revenue and as Superintendent of Schools I pledge to you that the money will be used to give each and every child in the district better educational opportunities."

KENTON COUNTY 4-H CLUB COUNCIL

The next meeting of the Kenton County 4-H Club Council will be held on Wednesday, July 6, at 8 p.m., in the Courthouse in Independence. The 1960 Kenton County 4-H Club Council will be the main subject for discussion. The fair will be held on August 5-6 so final plans must be made at once. Every 4-H leader in Kenton County should attend this meeting to find out what needs to be done and what you can do to help make the fair a success this year.

PLANNING MEETING

Mr. David P. Fagle of the Division of Zoning and Planning, has been appointed planner for Walton and will meet with the local committee on Thursday night, according to Mr. Don Roberts, chairman.

Entertain For Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Soden and family entertained one evening recently at dinner for the following guests:

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Soden, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frakes and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Speagle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frakes, Rev. and Mrs. J. Harold Soden and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Soden and family, and Miss Alice Grayum.

Measurement of Tobacco Under Way In Kenton

Kenton county's more than 875 tobacco farms will begin receiving visitors soon. Approximately nine hundred farmers, chosen on the basis of their ability and willingness to do careful and accurate work, have been especially trained for acreage measurement work and are now beginning the summer job of checking acreages on allotment and soil bank farms.

In announcing the start of 1960 measurement work, Russell Rector, ASC Committee Chairman, urged cooperation of farmers in assisting the reporters with measurement work: "Producer cooperation," he said, "helps us do the kind of work that is necessary to make ASC programs operate efficiently, effectively, and economically." The work of reporters is only part of the performance check, Mr. Rector points out. The reporter outlines planted acreage on an aerial photograph, then the completed photograph is returned to the county office where operators, under the direction of Mrs. Frances Gross, use an instrument known as a "planimeter" to get the exact acreage of the field of tobacco takes up. Planted acreages are then compared with the allotment and appropriate notices are mailed. The goal is to have original measurements completed by August 1 and all excess destroyed before August 26. Since most producers destroy the excess acreage and avoid the payment of penalty, Mr. Rector encourages producers to file for destruction as soon as possible so the excess can be destroyed before maturity and the last-minute rush just before harvest.

Family Dinner Enjoyed

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Soden entertained with a family dinner on Sunday, June 19. Guests included Miss Alice Grayum, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Soden and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Keeney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Speagle and family, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Soden and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Slaughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Soden and family.

In the afternoon, everyone enjoyed playing badminton, croquet and just talking.

Grubbs-Poore Wedding An Event Of Saturday, June 25

Miss Mary Elizabeth Grubbs, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace K. Grubbs, and Mr. Moreland Deane Poore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Poore, were united in marriage Saturday, June 25, at 3:30 p. m., in the home of the bride's parents in Walton.

Reverend R. F. DeMoisey, a lifelong friend of the bride's family, performed the double ring ceremony. The residence was beautifully decorated with white gladioli, philodendron and white tapered candles.

Miss Sue Osborne, of Indianapolis, Ind., a college friend of the bride, sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Mr. James W. Spencer at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in her white lace ballgown with long sleeves, a high neckline and tiny cap sleeves. The bride's veil was held with a cluster of Stephanotis. The bridal bouquet consisted of white orchids and Stephanotis.

Mrs. George Anderson was matron of honor, and wore a dress of pink organza. She carried a bouquet of pink asters.

The flower girls, Margo and Melodie Grubbs, nieces of the bride, were attractive in their pink cotton and organza dresses, each carrying a basket of pink roses and daisies.

Mr. Poore was best man, and his brother, Mr. Lloyd Poore, and the bride's brothers, Wallace S. and James D. Grubbs, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Grubbs wore a navy dress, while Mrs. Poore wore a dark blue dress. Their corsages were pink carnations.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Poore left on a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains. They will be at home to their friends at 109 North Main St., Walton.

The minister's sermon will be, "Is Our Country A Christian Nation?"

The local church has a resident membership of 260.

Rev. George Fiske

The congregation at its quarterly meeting last Sunday night also noted growth in stewardship both for local needs and for the world mission of the church. Paul Simpson, church treasurer, indicated that over 70% of the support of the church was through pledges or regular gifts.

Russell Grager, church school superintendent, pointed out that eleven church school teachers attended the leadership training school of the Eighth District of Kentucky Christian Churches in Covington this spring and that the instructional program of the church school had been improved substantially thereby. Among those who attended were Mrs. Pete Miller, Martha Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd High, Paul Simpson, Ruby Wood, Harold Marsh, Mrs. Andy Coyle, and Russell Grager.

This Sunday, the choir will be recognized for faithful service in assisting in the worship program of the church. They will sing two special numbers for Democracy Sunday, "Sing Unto the Lord," and "Thank God for Our America."

WOMANLESS WEDDING

At a meeting last week of the Walton-Vernon Band Boosters Club it was decided to present a Womanless Wedding with the proceeds to be used for uniforms and band instruments. Anyone interested in participating can get information by contacting Mrs. Doris Taylor or Mrs. Helen Belcher.

The club also wishes to take this opportunity to thank American Legion Post 277 and its Auxiliary for their generous donations totaling $175 for uniforms.

Beechgrove Homemakers

Plan your menus to satisfy your family's needs and food desires—eating out of doors sharpens the appetite—a good rule is to serve simple meals that consist of a few foods but plenty of each, which was stressed in the lesson on "Out-Door Cookery" at the June meeting of the Beechgrove Homemakers. Mrs. Russell Quick was hostess with Mrs. Raymond Dickson, co-hostess.

Mrs. Frank Aelterkirch, president, requested all Federation chairman reports be mailed by July 1.

The annual picnic for members and their families will be held at the home of Mrs. William Endres on July 31.

Two work days were planned, one on textile painting and one on weaving stools. The club will again sponsor one of the projects at the 4-H Fair in Kenton county this year.

4-H Club Leaders Are Needed In Kenton County

The 4-H agents of the Kenton County Agricultural Extension Service would like to locate persons in Kenton county who are interested in working with young people between the ages of 12 and 21 years.

The 4-H Clubs are made up of boys and girls between the above ages who agree to "Learn to do by doing." These clubs are under the guidance of cooperative extension workers and local volunteer leaders. There are 4-H Clubs in practically every county and many cities of every state in the United States and in many foreign countries.

Every member of a 4-H Club has at least one project, some of these projects being beautification of homes, good grooming, clothing, clothing, dairy, electric, entomology, forestry, gardening, health, home improvement, recreation, safety, swine, tractor maintenance, and automotive care, and safety for older youth. This is just some of the projects in which information can be gained. As you can see, some of these projects are for farm boys and girls but there are some, such as electric, good grooming, and entomology, for example, that are for all young people regardless of where they live.

Anyone who is interested in organizing a 4-H Club in their locality please call the Agricultural Extension office, CO-1041-1-2365 for further information or stop in and talk with us in Room 6, Post Office, Covington.

Other members in attendance were Mesdames Marion Martin, Frank Elliott, C. E. Flynn, Angelo Peltz, Robert Bell, Malcolm Oliver, Leslie McKillion, Stephen Rich, and Roy Tomlin. Guests were Mrs. David Souder and Mrs. Ernest Mann.

The big annual meeting and farm show of the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative will be held on July 12 at Dry Ridge, Grant County, according to C. A. Richardson, co-manager.

The four-hour program will consist of entertainment by professional performers, a beauty contest, two drawings for free prizes, a business meeting and two dramatic presentations dealing with the progress of rural electricity and electrical safety.

Local beauties, 16 to 23 years of age, previously unmarried and members of co-op consumer's family, are eligible to compete in the beauty contest.

The young lady selected by the judges will be crowned "Miss Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative of 1960." She will also represent Owen County RECC in the annual beauty contest which will be held in Louisville at the Kentucky State Fair and Exposition Center on September 14.

Applications for the beauty contest may be obtained from the Owen County RECC office at Owen.

Visitors, in addition to members, are invited to attend the show and will be entertained by five professional acts. These include witty Tommy Windsor whose pitchman's act extolls the powers of his Snake Oil and Indian Ellixir; the Julindas, an acrobatic family of incomparable skill; Cliff Berry, a talented singer, dancer and juggler who is accompanied by his beautiful wife, Karen; Bill DeMar, ventriloquist and comedian and his sidekick, Chuck Norwood; and Dottie and Gene Stanford, a pair of superb ballroom dancers.

Ken White, master of the keyboard, will create a showtime atmosphere with his organ music.

This top-talent will present a fast-paced, well-rounded, one hour variety show.

Consumer members are encouraged to register for the valuable prizes that will be given away at two drawings during the program.

Notify ASC Office If Farm With An Allotment Is Sold

The county ASC office should be notified whenever farm land which involves an acreage allotment or a Conservation Reserve contract is bought or sold. J. Lessing Huey, Chairman of the Committee of that office said today.

There are certain regulations concerning the combination and division of farms which must be carried out whenever land with acreage allotments changes hands. Notification of the county office will enable the necessary changes to be made an office records.

In many cases, Mr. Huey said, it is even better if the ASC office can be consulted before the farm real estate deal is closed. This may prevent later misunderstandings as to how allotments or Conservation Reserve contracts may be affected.

A Leap

High hopes for recreational facilities along the Ohio River and tributaries will have to wait.

That's the story from the House Appropriations Committee. It was suggested that some $600,000 be spent to provide parking places and ramps for boats at 16 different locations.

But the committee, looking over the problem, decided to wait until the matter could be examined further.

Money For Projects:

The committee, however, did provide funds for other Kentucky projects. For example, there's more than 12 million for the Warsaw-Midland Dam and 15 million for the dam at New Richmond.

The Upper Licking River was also included with a small amount—$20,000—for a study of various projects and needs. About 10 million was allocated for the new dam and locks at Greenup.

Highway Engineers:

Federal highway engineers here—and elsewhere—are watching the Delaware General Assembly. Those lawmakers are working on a bill to construct a big toll road, much like the ones proposed in Kentucky.

Uncle Sam, in his super-highway program, does not participate in toll road construction but portions of the pay-as-you-drive highways will be connected with the free federal expressways, just as in Kentucky.

Kentucky Teachers:

Kentucky teachers, looking forward to salary increases come the fall term, will also be interested in knowing if effort being made here to get a raise.

Congress acts on such matters in Washington and it has been proposed that beginning teachers with an A.B. degree get $4500 a year. Increases will come along with term of service and the maximum salary would be set at $8100.

Changing State Agriculture Shown By Mixed-Feed Sales

Did you ever wonder how much Kentucky agriculture has changed in the last 40 years? Then take a look at the recently issued mixed-feed sales figures for 1959 and 1920.

For instance: In 1920, farmers in a "horse-economy" type operation bought 42,920 tons of horse-and-mule feed. But in 1959 the figure was down to 12,367 tons.

The contrasts were shown in the UK Experiment Station feed and fertilizer department's sales report for these years. Some of the other marked changes, with 1959 figures first and 1920 figures in parentheses: Calf feed, 5206 tons (225); cattle feed, 15,901 tons (none reported); dairy feed, 87,583 tons (21,475); dog and cat feed, 10,794 tons (none reported); mineral feed, 5,874 tons (none reported); poultry mash, 186,475 tons (2,450); turkey mash, 6,840 tons (none reported); miscellaneous mixed feed, 14,381 tons (30,600).

In the 40-year period (for not all of which report figures are available) the total mixed feed figure moved from 131,230 tons in 1920 to 445,212 tons in 1959.

In the same period, feed materials (alfalfa products, animal products, barley, brewers' corn, distillers', molasses, etc.) moved from 244,404 tons to 578,148 tons in 1959. Fertilizer materials have moved from 65,150 tons in 1940 to a 1959 figure of 489,053 tons, the report showed.

House Fly Control Is Unending Task

Man's major insect pest, the common house fly, takes constant warfare for control or elimination.

Best way to accomplish this, says Lee Townsend, UK Cooperative Extension Service entomologist, is by (1) making breeding and collecting places unavailable or unattractive to flies; (2) starting and keeping going a spray schedule.

First, says Townsend, screen the house well; this keeps out most of the flies. Second, dispose carefully of all garbage, decomposing food such as fruits and vegetables, and animal droppings. These spots always attract flies—from great distances sometimes—and make the control job harder. Put garbage in tightly-lidded containers; keep premises free of droppings, and store foods and sweets carefully and properly.

Malathion insecticide is a good control material. Spray surfaces such as light fixtures, cards and windows inside the house if flies congregate there. Outside, spray screens, window frames, doors, outside light fixtures, porch ceilings, garbage collection areas, etc. Completely wet the surface, but not to the point of runoff. To make this spray, mix eight tablespoonsful of 50 to 57 percent emulsion concentrate Malathion with one gallon of water. Malathion also is commercially available in the aerosol bomb container, follow manufacturer's directions.

Pyrethrin space sprays will control flies in enclosed spaces. Apply daily with hand sprayers, aerosol bombs or mist sprayers. This gives a quick kill of flies but there is no "residual" effect, Townsend points out.

White Bass Fishing Good In Kentucky

Many white bass are caught during the summer in Kentucky by fishing the deeper confines of lakes and streams, advises the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort.

The department's biologists point out that these fish make their trip back down the lakes and streams after spawning. They travel deep and hungry.

Many fishermen descend on the lakes at night with gas lanterns, rods and reels and minnows. On Herrington lake, one of the first producers of the white bass, many fishermen seek a dead snag and tie up to it for a night of fishing. At most other lakes, these snags are not present, and so a deep rocky bank usually serves.

The gas lantern not only furnishes light for the fisherman but also serves as an attraction to the fish. Most fishing is done from 15 to 40 feet.

Later in the summer, after the shad have grown to one to two inches, the angler will meet with much success by using a different method.

Since white bass prefer small food, anglers have devised small dummy casting plugs onto which is attached about three feet of leader material.

At the end of this small feathered hook is attached and used to cast into the junks when the bass congregate to feed near the surface on small minnows and shad.

In Western Kentucky, below Kentucky dam on the Tennessee river, another method is used. Here the fishermen stand on the bank and cast a small jig into the fast waters. While fishing this way many jigs are lost on the rocky bottom of the river but in the process many strings of white bass are caught.

Look for these features when buying fresh or frozen hens: A clean skin, free from pinfeathers, to save time in preparation for cooking; and a well-distributed layer of fat under the skin which gives a yellow cast, meaning good flavor and juiciness.

The average value of food consumed in 1960 will be about $400 per person, predicts the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This includes the food raised by farmers for home consumption.

When you select head lettuce, choose one that is fresh-appearing and crisp. The outer leaves should be free from wet or translucent areas, and the core firm and light in color. Discolored leaves, leaves with brown edges, or russet spots indicate the head will not keep well.

Butler State Park Has Historical, Scenic Interest

One of Kentucky's complete family vacation state parks is General Butler at Carrollton, near the confluence of the Ohio and Kentucky Rivers, the valleys of which create a scenic vista.

The park, named for Major General William Orlando Butler, Kentucky hero of the Battle of New Orleans and the Mexican War, has completely furnished vacation cabins, facilities for group camping, a wide lake providing swimming, fishing, and boating, and a historical museum, the renovated and refurbished mansion of General Butler, who is buried in a nearby family graveyard.

The park's cabins range in size from the efficiency, with one bedroom, bath and kitchen, to large buildings with three bedrooms, bath and kitchen. They are furnished with electric or gas ranges, refrigerators and hot water heaters and all eating and sleeping living facilities.

Group camping facilities include cabins, dining halls, kitchens, wash rooms, rest rooms, stoves, refrigerators, utensils, and counselors' quarters. Buildings are arranged so that two groups totaling as many as 160 campers can be accommodated at one time. Tent camping areas for smaller groups are also available.

A park observation tower affords a view of the river valley countryside for miles. Nature trails, with trolleyside shelters, and horse riding paths wind their way through the 809-acre park.

The lake's beach area is well developed with a nearby bath house having showers and dressing rooms. The park also has a convenient boat dock. A picnic area is furnished with ovens and tables.

As a precaution against fire destroying his log cabin, the Kentucky pioneer built his chimney so that if it did catch fire he could pull out a key log and collapse the burning chimney.

A WONDERFUL PLACE TO EAT—

The Robertson's Restaurant, located on Dixie Highway, in the Fort Mitchell area, has developed in about one year's time, into one of the best known and liked eating spot in Northern Kentucky. They offer every type of eating pleasure one would desire: short order, dinners, breakfast (at any time) smorgasbord, private party facilities, in fact any type of service that you desire.

One of the main reasons for this rapid progress is the efficient management of Clifford Robertson, who has been in restaurant business his entire life, knowing every phase in the 19th degree. He is always striving to better his food and service, never leaving "a stone unturned" to give above-standard service.

One of the top drawing cards to Robertson's Restaurant is the quality of their coffee. Mr. Robertson has developed such a high standard of "brewing" coffee that there never is any variance from his standard. It is surprising how intricate a process coffee-making is, when you hear his process. If you desire top food, perfect service, try Robertson's Restaurant on Dixie Highway in Fort Mitchell area.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—PL 7-5018

Probably most of the folks know that we have a new citizen in our neighborhood. Young John Byron Lokey arrived on June 13. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lokey and has a brother, Jeffrey. He is a much traveled young man, having spent a week in Owen on his grand parents home and is now at home here. Good luck and long life to Johnny!

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pruett called recently on Mrs. Caroline Armstrong and J. A. Keeney.

Earl Hanna is visiting relatives in Lexington and Cynthiana.

We were much surprised when Mr. and Mrs. William Gasker of Oswego, N. Y., came into church on Sunday morning. They are here on vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Parish made a last call on shut-in, J. A. Keeney, on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Deuser have enjoyed a visit from her niece for a few days.

The morning service at the church here had an undertone of sadness since it was the last service with our pastor of the last four years who is retiring as he leaves this work and moves to his home in Eminence, Ky. With their qualities of friendship with everyone and sympathetic concern for the shut-in folks and those who are ill, they have endeared themselves to all who know them. Also to be missed are Mrs. Dorothy Ricketts, a daughter, and her sons, David and Stephen, who have lived here among us for the past two years. They are moving to LeGrange where Dorothy has a teaching position.

Agricultural Hall of Fame Now Seems Assured at Kansas City

Out in Kansas City, Kansas, feverish planning is underway in earnest for what could be the most important public relations project for agriculture ever attempted.

The project is the National Agricultural Hall of Fame, which is to be built on a 409-acre site near Kansas City. Sponsored by a non-profit corporation that has been organized to develop and maintain the center in years to come, an initial pool of $5-million has been set to build the main structure on the site, and to develop long-range plans for a complete display of the past and present of American agriculture. Nearly a million dollars has already been donated to the project, resulting from statewide fund-raising efforts in four or five states.

At a meeting of the Board of Governors in Kansas City, May 20, a new executive committee was elected, and the by-laws of the organization were completely overhauled to assure broad support for the project. The new chairman of the Board is Mr. Rynum B. Turner, president of the Ethyl Corporation, New York City. Members of the Executive Committee include Charles Shuman, president, American Farm Bureau Federation, and Herschel Newsom, master of the National Grange. Others on the committee represent all phases of agriculture, industry, education, and labor.

The Hall of Fame, which is expected to be renamed to better describe the broad scope of the project, will not only honor great leaders in American agriculture over the years, but will demonstrate to the American public the principles and techniques that have made it possible for the American people to be the best fed and clothed people on earth.

Representing Kentucky at the May 20 meeting was Mancill Vinson, assistant to the Commissioner of Agriculture, and myself. We were there to represent Robert Hensley, Louisville, who is a member of the Board of Governors of the Hall of Fame, and the Kentucky Hall of Fame Committee. Already, agricultural leaders throughout the state have been asked to make suggestions on the development of the project, and plans are expected to be completed in the near future to conduct a statewide fund-raising drive for Kentucky's share of the drive for $5-million.

Chemical production facilities costing more than 74 million dollars will be built in Kentucky during 1960-61, a nationwide survey by the Manufacturing Chemist Association shows.

From the observation point at General Butler State Park, visitors may enjoy viewing miles and miles of the scenic Ohio River valley near Carrollton.

Among the Isaac Shelby items owned by the Kentucky Historical Society at the Old Capitol in Frankfort are a portrait of the first governor, his razor, a British rifle that he captured in the American Revolution, a replica of the gold medal presented him by Congress, a peace pipe given him by the Chickasaws, and his gold watch.

In Woodford county, Ky., is the home of Capt. Jack Jouett, who saved Thomas Jefferson from capture by the British. In 1781 he made the historic ride from Cuckoo Tavern to Charlottesville to warn Jefferson of the approach of the British. Jouett was the father of famous artist Matthew Harris Jouett.

Drive within a 25 percent range of the speed of traffic on an expressway. If most cars are doing 60, don't drop below 45. If traffic is moving at 50, don't drive slower than 30 miles an hour, insurance experts recommend.

Non-swimmers should not rely on inner tubes, air mattresses or other floating devices in deep water. Often these "safety" devices become deflated or float out of reach.

Speakers For God

Lesson for July 3, 1960

"TOMORROW" is almost a magic word. It is the wonderful day when our dreams are going to come true. It can also be the black day of dread, the day when we get what is coming to us, the day when we have to pay for our follies and our sins. Sometimes neither dreams nor nightmares collect around that word "Tomorrow," it is a word of mystery. We do not know what is going to happen, and we wish we did. Of course we shall know soon enough... but the trouble is, we'd all like to get an inside peek before any one else does.

Dr. Foreman

No crystal ball

Now there have been men and women who profess to have that inside peek. Sometimes they do it with tea-leaves, sometimes with a crystal ball, sometimes they claim to have a friend on the "other side" who gives out special information. Sometimes they just "see" tomorrow by shutting their eyes. But it is very seldom that such people are highly respected. They are regarded as rather comic characters—Old Man Mose for example. Crystal balls appear in countless cartoons. Sensible people don't take them seriously—for the good reason that most forecasters make too many mistakes. If the tealeaf reader really could tell you which stocks would go up, she would be much richer than she ever will be by telling fortunes.

A large part of the Bible was written by "prophets," and they are low-rated by many who ought to get better acquainted with them. They are low-rated because the very word "prophet" suggests crystal balls, palm-reading and all that stuff. As a matter of fact, the Bible word "prophet" did not mean forecaster. It meant spokesman, a person who has the authority to speak for another. The Other for whom the Bible prophets spoke, of course is GOD.

One of the greatest prophets, Jeremiah, once drew a clear line between a genuine prophet and a fake. If a man has a dream, he said, let him tell it if he likes; but a Word from God is another thing altogether. Prophets said what they said because they knew what God wanted them to say. When a man thinks what God wants him to think, especially if no one has ever had the thought before, we call it Revelation. And if a man who has had a revelation feels the urge to write it or to preach it, that is called Inspiration. Inspiration has to do with the truth as it bursts (or perhaps grows quietly) within a man's mind. Inspiration has to do with passing on God's truth to others. The point is, the prophets of the Bible never said "I think," "I guess," "The probabilities are..."—they all said "Thus saith the Lord." Of course the words were full of people saying, "Thus said the Lord," and it was pretty confusing at the time. Who knew who was right, or whether any of them were? But history, which in a sense is the handwriting of God, sifted out true from false prophets. Men and nations who took heed, and men and nations that paid no attention, found out in time who were the real spokesmen for God.

Prophet and people

The Sunday School lessons as followed by the more than 80 denominations using the "Uniform Lessons," are going to be looking at some outstanding Old Testament prophets for the next three months. We should try to get it straight in our minds that a prophet and a priest were two different things. A priest had an official position; a prophet had none. Priests were very well paid, but prophets drew no salary, and some (like Amos) were very poor. Priests were born to their position; only men of certain old families could be priests at all. Prophets might be distinguished and wealthy men; most of them were neither, at the time. Priests were supposed to teach, but they generally neglected to do this. Prophets could not keep their mouths shut. God had given them something to say. Jeremiah once said that when he tried to keep silence, the Word within him was like a fire in his bones. These men had to speak.

THE INVITATION

Everyone recognizes the great Lady standing in New York harbor holding her flaming torch. She welcomes the tired, the poor, the homeless, to this land of freedom. She symbolizes hope.

Back of the Lady, back of the welcome, stands the Church. The words on the statue do not mention the Church, and many of us do not realize the role it plays, but the Church inspired the principles on which our nation was built. It is the spirit of Christianity which extends the welcome to our shores and makes our nation a haven.

On the anniversary of our Independence, we are proud of our freedom and opportunity and hope.

No statue with flaming torch stands at the door of the Church. But the Church is the real guardian of our heritage.

Strengthen your nation and yourself. Join the Church.

Use Care With Power Mowers Says Joe Claxon

How would you like to be hit by a flying object traveling at as much as 150 miles an hour?

The answer is obvious, says Boone County Agent Joe Claxon. You would not.

But, he points out, a rock or stick thrown by the fast revolving blades of a rotary power mower may attain such a speed for a short distance. The blades on rotary power mowers travel at high speeds and the missiles they may throw can inflict serious injuries.

So, Claxon says, follow these tips when using a power mower:

Disconnect spark plug wire before you work on the blade. Keep blades sharp for better cutting at lower power. Never operate the mower with safety shields removed. Remove all rocks and debris from the area to be cut over. Do not fill gasoline tank if mower is running or engine is hot. Run the mower as slowly as possible to do good work. Keep children and pets away from mowers. Be certain of footing when mowing on steep angles. Never "leave the mower" unattended with engine running. Be sure the mower is under control before starting the engine—AND ALWAYS BE ALERT.

The suggestions above are from safety experts who know how careless use can cause motor accidents, Claxon points out.

New Kentucky Egg Marketing Law Explained

The Kentucky Egg Marketing Law Amendment which became effective July 1, 1960, has caused quite a lot of confusion among producers, wholesalers and grocers in Northern Kentucky.

House Bill No. 175

Section 1. Section 260.600 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes is amended to read as follows:

(1) A license is required of each handler of eggs located in the Commonwealth of Kentucky subject to the exceptions specified in KRS 260.550. The annual license fees are as follows, varying for dealers, wholesalers and processors, according to the average weekly volume of the month in which the license handled the most eggs during the preceding year:

(a) Retailers $5.00; dealers and wholesalers, 1-25 cases $5.00, 26-50 cases $10.00, 51-100 cases $15, more than 100 cases $20.00.

(b) Processors: less than 250 cases $20.00; 250-500 cases $30.00; 501-1000 cases $40.00, more than 1000 cases $50.

(2) Any egg handler engaged in more than one type of activity for which a license is provided must pay that license fee which is the highest of the licenses prescribed for each type of activity in which he is engaged.

(3) All eggs bought or sold by or to any egg handler must bear a two-cent (2c) inspection fee stamp for each 15 dozen lot or portion thereof; subject to the exemptions specified in Section 260.550.

(4) All licenses shall expire on April 1 of each year. Handlers having more than one place of business must hold a license for each place. Each application shall bear the names of the persons responsible for candling and grading eggs.

Section 2. Section 260.610 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes is amended to read as follows:

(1) All eggs bought or sold by or to retailers, consumers, and Institutional users by license shall be identified according to grade and size, using USDA standards and weight classes for consumer grades.

(2) Eggs to be offered for sale for human consumption shall be handled in such manner as to maintain and preserve the quality and grade in which they are to be offered for sale. (3) No person shall sell, offer or expose for sale, or have in his possession for sale, for human consumption, eggs that are inedible, including eggs that are unfit for human food in whole or in part, addled or moldy, containing black, white, red, or blood rings, adherent yolks, or bloody whites, incubated beyond the blood ring stage, or consisting to any extent of filthy decomposed substance.

Section 3. Section 260.620 of the

Kentucky Revised Statutes is amended to read as follows:

Eggs offered for sale as graded eggs shall conform to the standards prescribed in administrative regulations adopted by the department. Such standards shall conform to the federal standard for grading eggs for sale.

Section 4. Section 260.630 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes is amended to read as follows:

Mrs. Edna Ewing is in Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati. She was bitten in the leg by her pet horse several weeks ago, and it has not healed properly.
Mr. and Mrs. John Bruce have returned from a vacation in Virginia, bringing their daughter, Mary Ellen, and their granddaughter home with them for a visit, while Mary Ellen's husband is on sea duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Oral Dorman are looking for their son, Master Sgt. Kirtley Dorman, home the latter part of this month. Kirt has been transferred to Iceland and will visit his parents before reporting for overseas duty.
Oral Jones is visiting his uncle, Warren Dorman, in Shelbyville.
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Gregory (the former Jeannene Robertson) on their marriage, which took place Friday evening at Taylor Mill Church of Christ.

We hear that Harry Sparrow, one of the barbers at Bryce's Barber Shop was married Saturday night at the Big Bone Baptist Church. We don't know the name of the lucky girl, but congratulations Harry.
Mr. Ed Wintzinger is home from the hospital, but he remains on the sick list.

This writer and her family visited Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Tallent and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mattox in Winchester, Ky. last Sunday. We drove down on Sunday morning, and apparently just followed a bad storm all the way down, as there were trees across the highway in several spots, and high water over the road in many places, where the streams were way out of their bank. The area around Cynthia was the worst hit, and several homes were being evacuated where water was up several feet into the homes. Many corn and tobacco fields were completely under water. U.S. 27 was almost blocked just South of Cynthia, where the water was up to the floors of the cars. By Sunday night the roads were all clear.

Social Justice

Lesson for July 10, 1960

THE CHRISTIAN religion is said to be a religion of love, and so it is. It is love that makes it beautiful and gives it meaning. But just as the beauty and meaning of literature is built on the humble foundation of the alphabet, just as the beauty and the security of a house go down to the unseen foundations, so love itself is a stammering weak thing if it is not built on the foundation of justice. Love without justice is sloppy sentimentality, it is double-talk, it is drivelt.

Dr. Foreman

Social Justice

God's prophets, whose writings are part of the Christian Bible, were interested in social justice. They were interested because God was interested. People who think that social justice is no affair of religion at all, either haven't read the prophets, or really don't believe them. Let us get straight what "social justice" is. It has nothing to do with socialism, or with social affairs as written up for the society pages. It is different from political or legal justice. (Those two, of course, should also be a concern of Christians.) An example of political justice would be giving major parties equal time on the radio and TV. An example of legal justice would be getting paid a fair price for land the government has taken for a highway.

Social justice is broader and more basic than that. In a word, it means fair treatment all around. It does not mean treating everybody exactly alike, because people's needs are not always the same. But it does mean giving everybody a "fair shake," an honest deal; it means not handicapping people for "reasons" that make no difference. It means giving every one a chance to develop all he's got.

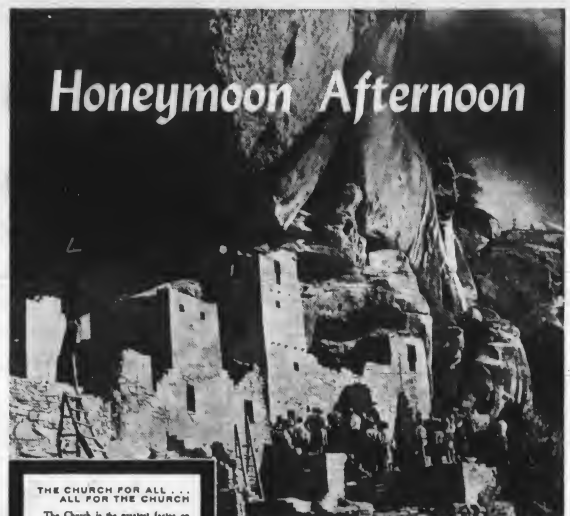

In the time of the prophet Amos, the people who needed social justice and were not getting it were the poor. He speaks of them, and of the Israelites' mistreatment of them, over and over. They were cheated out of justice in the courts because they could not afford to offer the handsome bribes that richer people gave. They were cheated in the marketplace because the merchants used dishonest weights and measures. They had no one to speak for them—no one but the God who spoke through his prophets.

Social justice now also is often needed by the poor. Discrimination—a fancy word for unfairness—is practiced also against racial groups—Negroes, Puerto Ricans, Chinese and others. But the poor, of all races, always need help. For example, housing projects are not a way of wasting the taxpayers' money. They are a way of helping people live in humanly decent surroundings. There is a city which is the capital of one of the states of the Union. In it there is a slum that can be seen by any visitor to town. The city has had a slum clearance authorized now for some years; but they are doing little about it. Why? It is against the law to move a family out of the most rotten tenement except into a better house. But most of the people who live in that particular slum can't afford to move. So there they sit.

Backlash of Injustice

Amos told his people that unless they paid more attention to the welfare of the bottom layers of society, the whole country would not only suffer, but it would be destroyed. Social injustice is always self-destructive. Consider only one modern example. Here in America we need educated leadership—scientists, thinkers, men of trained minds and skills. One of the reasons we do not get enough of them is that (as studies have demonstrated) many capable young people do not have the money for an education. Some who have the capacity never show it, for the simple reason that their homework in high schools has to be done in crowded, leaky, insanitary "homes" where you could hardly raise a prize pig, let alone a prize boy. Every time we in America, for reasons of poverty, or race or any other reason, deny a good education to young people who could take it, we are weakening our country by just that much.

Honeymoon Afternoon

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalm	148	7-13
Monday	Matthew	23	1-13
Tuesday	Psalm	77	1-13
Wednesday	1 Timothy	1	1-13
Thursday	John	8	23-34
Friday	Revelation	22	1-14
Saturday	Psalm	67

Memories are precious things. I remember often the afternoon on our honeymoon when Jim and I visited these old cliff dwellings in Colorado. Later, we stopped at a mission church built of pink adobe. It was dark and cool inside, and you felt that many prayers had been said here, and many answered.

I thought of our own church back home — white frame, in a green New England valley. I was reared in that church. I was married in it, and you'll find Jim and me at worship in it each Sunday. It's a vital part of our life.

Unless you have a church that is vital to your life, you are missing something irreplaceable. Don't wait any longer. Select the Church of your choice — and start attending it this Sunday.

COOPERATION is a Kentucky tradition!

BUILDING CHURCHES... OR POWER PLANTS!

When a Kentucky community needs a church, it's traditional for all the people to turn out and do the job. Whether they donate cold cash or hard labor, it all adds up to many willing hands making a tough job easy. What's more, once the church is up, everyone has the pleasant feeling of having done his share along with his neighbor.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops... created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves... are a good example of how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in cities and towns.

Rural Electricity Benefits Everyone

False Security

Lesson for July 17, 1960

ALARM whistles blew, sirens sounded, signals flashed. The whole city should have been in an uproar, but it was going about its business as usual. Excited officials telephoned everywhere—a mistake has been made, this is no drill, just pay no attention. But nobody paid attention to the apologies, because nobody had paid attention to the alarm. Headquarters had many phone calls that day, but— and this is the interesting point—everybody supposed there must be some mistake. Not a soul took it seriously.

That little story, if true (it got into the newspapers at any rate), shows up very nicely the American state of mind. We can't believe anything is wrong with us, we can't see how anything can go wrong with us. People who drive out a few miles from any city in America may see signs: Evacuation Route... Feeding Station, and so forth. But how many Americans actually expect over to stand hungry at a feeding station?

As It Was, So It Is

The prophet Amos, speaking for God, faced a nation (Israel) smaller than ours by far, but just as complacent, just as sure that nothing could go wrong, just as gently cushioned by a feeling of national security. The facts and factors that made them feel so safe and happy are familiar to any who take time off to observe the American scene. For one thing, they were a nation operating by military power. Many of its kings, if not all of them, had been generals of the army. In case of rival claimants for the throne, the man with the most troops usually got the prize. The country had knocked off its enemies one by one. Just at Amos's time, the boundaries of the country were wider than at any time since Solomon. What armies had done, armies could do again, they thought... and so do we. "We have never been beaten in war, we shall never be beaten." Football coaches know that no winning streak lasts for ever.

Wealth and Culture

The little country of Israel was not only safe at the moment from military attack, it was prosperous. People built homes of ivory—that is to say, decorated with ivory in a lavish way. They had money for summer and winter homes. They drank the finest wines, they had money and leisure for the arts. As Amos pointed out, all this luxury was only on certain streets. There were other streets where people went hungry and cold. But the people Amos talked to were mostly from the country-club suburbs. They never did believe what Amos told them, that prosperity is not the same thing as security. There's no point in throwing a big party if the house is burning down over your head. We are a little like the Israelites, aren't we? Many Americans think we can buy our way out of any trouble, we can make friends with any nation just by spending money there.

The Enemy Within

After all, enemy armies were not the greatest danger to Israel as a nation. When a wind blows down a tree in the forest, we say that the wind was to blame. But was it the wind, or was it the slow rotting inside the tree-trunk? The same wind struck other trees but they did not fall. This one fell because it was hollow, a little push sent it tumbling. What concerned Amos most, looking (we may say) through God's eyes at Israel, was not foreign politics and foreign wars, but conditions inside Israel. Oh, people would have said to him, conditions are not bad here. Look at the temples, they are splendid every week. The number of sacrifices has never been greater. But Amos was not impressed. God did not care for all their religious life was only religiosity, which is another thing. God is more impressed by justice and righteousness than he is by elaborate "worship services." Amos made it clear that church attendance is no guarantee of a nation's safety. The burning question is: What do the people who go to church do to other people the remaining six days of the week? If the nation's heart is not sound, what use are her defenses?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Jeremiah	29	1-18
Monday	Isaiah	56	1-6
Tuesday	Isaiah	21	1-14
Wednesday	Isaiah	10	1-14
Thursday	Isaiah	1	1-10
Friday	John	1	1-51
Saturday	1 Thessalonians	1	9-10

What is it about fishing that appeals to so many men? Is it the tang of the out-of-doors, the salt spray, the play of the reel — or is it a part of that age-old challenge of pitting oneself against the forces of nature?

Probably, it is mostly the challenge, for man is forever excited by a dare. Yet, while life is full of challenges, all of them are not fun. When it comes to meeting the greater tests successfully, you need a lot more than a fishing pole. Then it is that Faith comes into its own; then it is that the teachings of the Church are put into practice.

Don't walk by your church next Sunday — walk into it. Equip yourself for your own spiritual future now.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

Evergreen Punch

(Serves 50)

2 cups sugar
2 quarts water
2 packages lime beverage mix
1 quart gingerale
1 46-ounce can pineapple juice
Dissolve sugar in water. Add lime beverage mix, pineapple juice and gingerale. Chill and serve over ice cubes.

the flour sticky and fill the mesh. Use baking soda and water with a vegetable brush for cleaning. Grease which spills on the kitchen floor should be taken up with baking soda which absorbs it nicely. Then go over the spot with soda and water.

Been canning and discolored your hands? Rub half a lemon over the hands wherever you have fruit and vegetable stains and they will disappear readily.

For delicate laces which need stiffening but cannot stand starch, add a bit of sugar to the final rinse water as a substitute.

If you've been painting around windows and the latter have some paint on them, it's easiest to remove with a hot vinegar and water solution.

Loosened cane chair seats can be tightened by sponging with a salt and soap solution in hot water. Rinse in clear water and dry in the sun, then cover the canes with a cloth and run an iron along the seat a few times.

FARM BUREAU

in Action
by CH Fields
Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

New Sales Tax is Painful But Necessary For Progress
I have just paid my first penny of Kentucky's new sales and use tax. It was a nuisance, and a little painful, but I lived through it. Few of us will enjoy paying the consumer sales tax, or any other tax, but Farm Bureau has held the position for a number of years that when increased tax funds become necessary, the fairest way to get it is through the sales tax. Farm Bureau has felt for a long time that the tax base needed to be broadened in Kentucky, so that all of the tax load would not fall upon property owners. It was a foregone conclusion that more money had to come from somewhere to improve the public education situation in Kentucky, and to provide additional funds for other vital programs. The only question was whether the increase was to come from a higher state income tax and increases in property taxes, or through a sales tax that would be paid by everyone.

Although none of us are going to enjoy paying the tax, we might not feel so badly about it if we take a look at what we are going to get for our money. From the standpoint of public services in the field of agriculture, the new tax will mean a great deal to farmers. First of all, the new Agricultural Science Center at the University of Kentucky, which was conceived by a committee initiated by Farm Bureau, will be made a reality through sales tax funds. A million dollars has already been appropriated to begin the planning and construction of the Center, with additional funds promised for future years. This new research center will be extremely important as a foundation on which we can build agricultural development in the future. In addition, increased appropriations for the College of Agriculture, the Agricultural Experiment Station, the State Department of Agriculture, and for soil and water conservation will make it possible for these agencies to better serve farm people. Coupled with a reduction in the cigarette tax and the income tax, which will start on January 1, the new sales tax will make it possible for Kentucky to make badly needed progress in many fields, and at the same time broaden the tax base. As time goes on, many changes will no doubt need to be made to make the tax equitable for farmers and everyone, but these improvements can come with time.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON
By CH Klingebury

At the Commodore:
About 100 Kentuckians are in Los Angeles, housed in the Commodore Hotel. As this goes into print, the convention is coming to the end of the line and a Democratic presidential hopeful is on the verge of nomination. Californians have been hospitable. As the Kentucky delegates arrived and went to their rooms, a basket of California fruit—and a can of fish—was on the dresser, a gift of the city and state. Plenty of Entertainment: While Governor Combs, Wilson Wyatt, Earle Clements, and the other leaders of the party met with their opposite numbers from other states, the run-of-the-mill delegates found plenty of entertainment. There were tours to Disneyland at a price, of course. Hollywood studios were receiving guests. For the ladies who had money left after the trip out, some exclusive hat shops invited them to look-see and, naturally, buy. It Cost Money: Newsmen, who are here on expense accounts, often wonder why a delegate accepts appointment to these shindigs. For example, it's been figured that it costs a Kentucky delegate just about $1,000 to make the long journey from the Blue Grass State to the Never-Never Land of California.

He gets to see the big shots in person. He gets his ears bent in by the oratory. He suffers through the heat and haze of the convention hall. Then, when he gets back home, he'll discover that his neighbor has a greater knowledge of what went on, thanks to television. And he's broke.

Conjectures:
Even before the convention ends, Kentuckians are wondering what part the Kentucky politicians will play in the fall campaign. We do know this: Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt already is booked for a party in the autumnal madness. Regardless of the nominee, Governor Wyatt, a convincing speaker, will be on the stump, touring the country for the ticket. The decision was made several weeks before the convention opened.

Eighty-seven percent of loss payments made by 16 farmers' mutual fire insurance companies was made on buildings and their contents during 1957-1958.

Tips On Refinishing Furniture Given by A U. K. Specialist

Summer is a good time to refinish that table, chair, wash stand, or dresser that has been needing a new finish. Take it out on the lawn and work on it there, to save indoor clean-up after the job is finished, suggests Kathryn Seebree, UK Extension specialist in home furnishings, Lexington.

The first step in furniture refinishing is removing the old finish. Miss Seebree points out. Commercial paint and varnish removers are good for this.

If some parts have come unglued, they should be re-glued when the old finish is off. The wood should be dry and clean for good results. Remove all old glue before applying new; glue can be softened by soaking the furniture part with colls dipped in a hot vinegar solution.

Pieces of furniture need to be sanded stain-smooth before refinishing, she says. Garnet paper, flint paper, and fine steel wool are useful for sanding and smoothing. Stains, cracks, dents and holes also will need attention before applying the new finish.

The penetrating seals have proven durable and practical as a finish for either new or refinished furniture. Some are resistant to heat, water, ink, etc.

As the final step, rub down the furniture to get rid of the glossy shine. Miss Seebree recommends. Most people today prefer a satin, dull finish that shows the natural grain and color of the wood. Pumice stone and linseed oil may be used for rubbing down the shiny finish.

Although the U. S. is the world's leading producer of milk, several countries have a higher per capita production than we do. New Zealand, for example, produces over 5,000 pounds of milk per person while the per capita rate in the U. S. is slightly over 700 pounds.

Miss Ruth Perkins

Mr. Stricker is now associated with Heffner & Potter, CPA firm in Lexington, and will graduate from the University of Kentucky in January. He is president of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Mr. Tilley attended the University of Kentucky and is now employed by the Palm Beach Company, Cincinnati. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Wool Incentive Payments Rate Is Set Says ASC Office

Growers will receive wool incentive payments of $43.20 for every $100 they received from the sale of shorn wool during the 1959 marketing year, according to Fred B. Wachs, Jr., Administrative Officer of the Kentucky State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

The rate of 43.2 percent, just announced by the Department of Agriculture, represents the amount needed to bring average wool prices up to the previously announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the National Wool Act.

The payments rate on sales of lambs that have never been shorn to compensate for the wool on them will be 75 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

The Administrative Officer said that County ACS Offices will begin making payments soon. Applications for the payments had to be filed by April 30, and covered marketing from April 1, 1959 through March 31, 1960.

To determine the wool incentive payment for an individual producer, Mr. Wachs explained, the rate of 43.2 percent is applied to the dollar return the producer received for wool after paying marketing charges. This method of payment is designed to encourage producers to do a good job of marketing their wool, for the producer who gets the best possible price for his wool also gets a higher incentive payment.

As approved by producers in a referendum last September, deductions of 1 cent per pound from shorn wool payments and 5 cents per 100 pounds of liveweight from lamb payments will continue to be made for advertising, promotion, and related market development activities on wool and lamb.

Beacon Class to Meet

The Beacon Class of the Walton Methodist Church will meet Friday, July 22 at 8:00 p. m., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Conner on Verona Road.

Undergoes Major Surgery

Mrs. Alice Bonar, postmaster at Crittenden, underwent major surgery at Booth Hospital, Covington, July 18. She will be confined her home for approximately six weeks after a ten-day hospital stay.

'61 Wheat Support Is To Average At Least $1.78, Report

Price of the 1961 wheat crop will be supported at a minimum national average of $1.78 per bushel if marketing quotas are in effect, according to William C. Bertram, Chairman, Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

The 1961 minimum rate reflects 75 percent of the estimated parity price for wheat as of the beginning of the next marketing year, July 1, 1961. The level is indicated on the basis of wheat supplies expected to be available at that time. The minimum support will not be reduced, but may be increased if the wheat parity price and the wheat supply situation as of July 1, 1961 indicate a higher price.

Mr. Bertram points out that with announcement of the price-support minimum farmers now have the full information and can decide if the 1961 wheat program that will be available in advance of the marketing quota referendum July 21.

If at least two-thirds of the farmers in who the referendum approve marketing quotas, there will be penalties for excess wheat produced in 1961 and the $1.78 minimum national average support rate will be in effect. If more than one-third of those who vote oppose the quotas, there will be no penalties but price support will drop to 50 percent of parity or about $1.18 per bushel.

Wheat supplies for 1961-62 now are estimated at 2,645 million bushels, 1961 percent of the normal supply. A normal supply includes enough wheat to cover domestic consumption and export demand plus a 20-percent carryover allowance.

CONCRETE is the pavement that is not flexible

....gives maximum strength with minimum thickness!

Kentucky's highway department chose concrete for this important stretch of Interstate System highway. Necessity for multiple strata construction of 2 to 3 times greater total depth was avoided.

Strength with minimum bulk is possible, of course, because concrete isn't flexible. It supports traffic loads like a beam. Pressures on the subgrade stay permanently within safe limits.

Steadfast Love

Lesson for July 24, 1960

LONG AGO there lived a man by the name of Hosea. God marked him for a prophet, but perhaps Hosea did not know this until after his tragedy. For he went through a great tragic experience, one of a sort that cannot simply be tossed into memory's trash-basket and forgotten. Hosea's experience was one that left scars upon his soul.

The Woman in His Life

Hosea's story, told in the first part of the book which bears his name, is a puzzling one as it stands, and it remains a puzzle even when it is reconstructed. What follows now is a very widely accepted interpretation of that story, though no interpretation is beyond mistake. There was a woman in Hosea's life; her name was Gomer, from the same Hebrew root as the name of the Israelite people as himself. It is clear that she loved her, and Dr. Foreman that she bore him children. The names of the children, however, suggest that all was not well in that household. The oldest child was named Jezebel, the name of a well-known fortress city of those times. There was nothing odd about that way of naming children.

When the second child was born, Hosea (still not yet a prophet) gave her a curious name. It sounds strange in English; it was much more strange in Hebrew, the language Hosea spoke. Lo-Ruhamah, "No-Mercy" was the little girl's name.

Life's Bitterest Cup

Did Hosea give that innocent child that gruesome name because he had discovered that his Gomer was a woman without mercy? If he did, the third he bore a name more sinister still. It was a little boy; and Hosea named him Lo-Ammi—"Not My People" or "No Child of Mine." He had lost all belief that his wife was any longer true to him; in fact he publicly branded her by giving the child that name. Gomer did what you might expect: she left him with the children, and he had the three of them to bring up by himself, trying to be father and mother both.

The Woman in The Slave Market

Long afterwards, Hosea found a woman in the slave market and bought her and brought her to his home. The interpretation of the story which we are following takes this woman (not named in the Bible story) to be no other than the lost Gomer. It is very likely that she was. It would be a delicate courtesy not to give her name, for she had indeed sunk very low, as the story shows. If it was Gomer, sure enough, then Hosea had discovered something besides his former bride. He had discovered in his own heart a love which bridged all the rifts and chasms that a backward woman's merciless selfishness had cut across the fair face of their happiness. He discovered a love which was stronger and more enduring than anything.

Love of God

Other writers in the Old Testament speak to us of the love of God, but the word they used has often been mistranslated, or played down in the translating. The Hebrew word is now (in the Revised Standard Version) given its rightful meaning: Steadfast Love. The translators worked hard to find one word that would say what the Hebrew word says, but they could not find one. So "steadfast love" it is. Hosea's experience taught him two things. One was the depth of his own love, as we were just saying. The other was the depth and endurance of God's love. Hosea, who became known as a prophet, but never fully recovered from the shattering experiences of his early life, always spoke of God and Israel as husband and wife. Just as Gomer had been unfaithful to him, so the nation of Israel had been unfaithful to God. But just as Hosea's love was so steadfast that he could take back and care for a horribly damaged Gomer, so God's love is steadfast in spite of his Israel's sins. Yet—we cannot suppose that Hosea, once his wife was at home again, did not care what she did; and we must believe that God, though he loves the sinner, hates the sin.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Please to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Mark	4	35-23
Monday	Matthew	28	1-12
Tuesday	John	6	1-14
Wednesday	Isaiah	6	1-14
Thursday	Psalms	22	1-4
Friday	Psalms	108	1-8
Saturday	Matthew	16	1-8

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind.

There's something wrong in America... and I'm the chap who is getting hurt!

Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend Church School and Church — MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yes sir, I'm serious! Instead of talking about juvenile delinquency, we ought to do something about it. We ought to crowd our churches with children... and parents! And we ought to start Sunday!

Resolution of Respect

Walton Chapter, No. 161
Order of the Eastern Star
Walton, Ky.

Resolution of Respect in memory of our dear Sister Mary Phillips, who departed this life May 26, 1960.

WHEREAS, God in his infinite Wisdom saw fit to call our beloved Sister to her celestial home on high, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Our Chapter has lost a faithful, kind and understanding member. Her husband, Bro. Gordon Phillips, has lost a devoted wife and her daughters, Sister Evelyn Sizemore and Mrs. Christine Husnik, a cherished Mother. Also, she is sadly missed by her two grandchildren, Sandra and Terry Smith and a host of friends and relatives.

Sister Mary Phillips was a consecrated Christian who went about doing good. She loved and respected all people and chose to magnify the good in her fellowman and overlook his shortcomings. Although she has gone to her reward her good deeds will never be forgotten and her kind words will never die.

You cannot say, you must not say that she is dead! She is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand she has wandered into an unknown land, and left us dreaming how very fair it needs must be, since she lingers there; so think of her faring on, as dear in the love of there, as the love of here.

Think of her still as the same and say she is not dead, she is just away. BE IT RESOLVED: That we extend to her family our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our Chapter, a copy sent to her family and a copy be given to the Walton Advertiser for publication.

Respectfully submitted this 18th day of July, 1960.

JUNE WEHNER,

FARM BUREAU

in Action
by CHFields
Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

Farm Bureau Committee Studies Marketing Situation; May Move Into Marketing

"The Farm Bureau of Tomorrow" is slowly but surely taking shape, as Farm Bureau leaders throughout Kentucky study and take action on putting the organization's expanded program into operation.

One of the important points of the new 12-point program has to do with the area of market expansion, commodity promotion, and bargaining power for farmers. This is such a broad area of activity, and so new to the Farm Bureau's scope of activity, that President Burl S. St. Clair has appointed a special committee to survey the existing situation in Kentucky, study what other State Farm Bureaus are doing in these fields, and to recommend a program of action to the Board of Directors.

This committee is already at work under the chairmanship of Jack Welch, Owenton, first vice president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau. Others on the committee are Dudley Searce, Shelby county; Ralph H. Stigall, Pulaski county; Robert D. Green, Henderson county; and Ernest L. Harris, Oldham county.

The State FB Board of Directors has already authorized the employment of a new staff expert in the field of marketing. It is expected that the new man will head up a new division within the Farm Bureau organization.

At the national and international level, Farm Bureau has made a significant start into this new area of activity.

Farm Bureau's foreign trade office in Rotterdam has been an outstanding success, and two new marketing affiliates have been organized by the American Farm Bureau Federation to get the organization into the field of commodity promotion and bargaining for farmers.

These developments are heartening news to farmers, who have long hoped that something could be done so that farmers could eventually have enough power through their own organizations to influence the price for which they sell their products.

The most important tool that will be used in establishing bargaining associations for farmers will be the bargaining contract, under which farmers will agree to turn the selling of their products over to Farm Bureau affiliates—or other farmer-owned-and-controlled organizations.

Other Events: Kentuckians will also get a chance between convention sessions to attend a variety of style shows, fairs, and other attractions in and around the Windy City. Folks from the Blue Grass also will be interested in free passes to the Arlington Race Track.

Senator Morton and his crew setting up the stage for the convention did it with an eye toward the television audience. The big meetings are scheduled for the evening hours to get a maximum share of viewers back home.

Expense Accounts: Back to Washington for a moment and a comment made by Kentucky's Congressman Siler on congressional expense accounts. Said he in a recent session: "I shall fee luxury suites and free night club entertainment for congressmen be permitted by Congress and will these precede the twilight hours of this country we call the United States of America?"

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Klingeberry

On to Chicago:

Last week we wrote of the welcome Kentucky Democrats received in Los Angeles. Today we report that Chicago is prepared to give the same glad hand to Kentucky Republicans.

One Kentuckian, Thurston Morton, will be the Number Three man here. As Chairman of the GOP National Committee, he ranks right behind President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon. And he's mentioned as a possible vice candidate.

Headquarters:

Chairman Morton will have offices in the headquarters hotel, the Conrad Hilton. But you can also bet that somewhere there will be a private hideaway where real business can be transacted.

The Kentuckian is also scheduled to be host at a party for all members of the Republican National Committee. That shindig is set for late next week at Chicago's University Club.

Tobacco Worms Plentiful The tobacco budworm and hornworm (old fashioned tobacco worm) are very plentiful in Boone County, causing much damage to the leaf crop, according to Joe Claxton, Boone County Agricultural Agent. Mr. Claxton said that growers should inspect their fields and start at once using insecticides that will control these two insects. There are two insecticides that fields can be treated with that will control both of these above insects. They are TDE or Endrin. Schedules for treating tobacco insects can be acquired at the County Agent's Office.

Card of Thanks— The family of Mrs. Grace Rice, who departed this life July 16, wish to gratefully acknowledge and thank our friends, neighbors and community for your kind expressions of sympathy.

Not only after death, but while she lingered in illness and even before, during her life, you were so kind and considerate. We are grateful to Rev. Joseph Tackett and Rev. R. F. DeMoisey for their consoling words. To Mrs. Mary Rector, Mrs. Jane Johnson and Mr. Mark Meadows for the beautiful music. To Dr. J. M. Huey, who kept her pains to a minimum. To Chambers and Grubbs Funeral Home for the outstanding service rendered and to all those who took of their time to honor Grace's passing.

To us, who are left, we shall always remember her as the ideal mother, ideal wife, and an ideal Christian.

Road To Ruin

Lesson for July 31, 1960

THE BIBLE often speaks obscurely. There is much in it which is not clear even to men who have spent a lifetime of study in it. This is particularly true of the Old Testament prophets. They are hard for us nowadays, for several reasons. One is the translation, perhaps. But even the original is difficult, partly because many names of places and persons are used, and events are referred to, which are now unknown to us. Then the manuscripts were not always kept carefully (of course the original copies have been lost long since) nor copied accurately. And sometimes, on top of all that, the writer puts his thoughts in a very jerky, back-and-forth fashion. That is what we find in the prophecy of Hosea. In fact, most experts believe that we do not have continuous straight-away writing in this "book," but only what we today would call sermon notes instead of written-out sermons.

Then and Now
Frankly, there would be little use in struggling to find out what Hosea is driving at, if he has nothing to say to our day and time. The book would be interesting as history, it would give us an insight into far-off times. But it would not speak directly to us. The reason why the church cherishes Hosea, and the other prophetic books of the Old Testament, is that we believe God still speaks through these words to us. Wherever we find a parallel case, wherever we find conditions today much like conditions in ancient Israel, whenever we find a prophet revealing the will of God regarding conditions which have parallels in modern times, there we hear the authentic voice of prophecy across the years.

One way in which Hosea's time and ours parallel, is that his nation of Israel was undergoing a period—they would have said an enjoying a period—of prosperity such as had never been known before. Our level of living rises and rises in America. It may be true that our poor people possess certain luxuries unknown even to the rich and great in ancient Israel. But luxury is a comparative thing. The point is, as compared with a century ago the U.S.A. is a land of tremendous comfort and luxury, the most lavishly luxurious country in the world. So, as compared with a century before Hosea, his nation was far "fatter" as he would put it than it had ever been.

Luxury

Luxury is something nearly everybody wants. But a flame is something every moth wants. And one is about as dangerous as the other. There are invisible dangers in the luxurious life. One is that it makes cowards out of people. An Indian poet put his finger on it: When a man thinks of comfort first, he said, he has given up his freedom. He becomes such a slave to his comforts that he will not fight to preserve them. Not only so, but luxury eats into a man's moral strength. We have seen in our time how men and women cheated on the TV quiz programs. They knew they were not honest but they excused themselves by the fact that they were making their lives comfortable on a scale their school-teacher salary—or whatever it was—could never reach.

Destruction

Whenever a great nation has collapsed, the final catastrophe has usually been preceded by a period of immense wealth and luxury. It has been true of ancient dynasties in China. It was true of Greece and Rome, of Carthage and Spain. It can be true of ourselves. The nation that runs to luxury has the means to preserve itself, but it has lost the will. Besides, a nation that clings to luxury is falling into idolatry. For an idol is, essentially, something for the sake of which you will sacrifice everything else. In times gone by idols were made of wood and stone; now they are made of chrome and porcelain and steel and aluminum. God has withdrawn his protecting hand, before now, from idolatrous nations. Will he make us an exception?

Wisdom

One of our old teachers used to say, "I can lead you to knowledge, but only God can give you wisdom."

And how right he was. A string of diplomas and degrees does not make a man wise. Many of the wisest never had a formal education.

For knowledge is the accumulation of facts. But wisdom is the ability to apply a few facts—perhaps only one—to a life-situation.

"We know a distinguished scholar who has written volumes on ecclesiastical architecture. And we know an elderly widow who told her grandchildren, 'Churches ain't made to look at!'"

And the scholar—earnest Christian that he is—humbly bows to the wisdom of the widow!

For whether it be a cathedral or chapel, the Church cannot enrich our lives until reverently we enter its portals to worship and serve God. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Mariha R. Wallace, Former Publisher, Passes Last Friday

Mrs. Mariha Rouse Wallace, the former publisher and editor of the Walton Advertiser, died Friday, July 29 at the Dry Ridge Rest Home, Dry Ridge. She was 77 years old and lived at 120 South Main Street, Walton.

Her husband, James Wallace, deceased, was one of the originators of the Advertiser in 1913, and at his death in 1937, Mrs. Wallace took over the publisher position. Several others have at short times published the paper, but always the hand of Mrs. Wallace was active in its growth.

In 1944, due to ill health, Mrs. Wallace retired from the publishing field, and sold to Mark Meadows, the present owner.

"Miss Mariha" as she was familiarly known to her many friends, was completely devoted to the newspaper business, even after her retirement.

She was a member of the Walton Methodist Church and of Walton Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Wallace is survived by two brothers, Clifford A. Rouse of Huntington, W. Va., and Lambert Rouse of Dallas, Texas.

Services were held Monday at 2:00 p. m. in the Walton Methodist Church. Burial was in the Walton Cemetery. Chambers and Grubbs Funeral Home, Walton, had charge of arrangements.

Brucellosis Testing In Kenton County To Start Aug. 15

According to Dr. C. W. Baker, assistant state veterinarian, Kenton county will be declared under the area brucellosis program on August 15. County-wide testing of cattle will start on or about this date. Dr. Baker told the Kenton county committee that he plans to have three full-time veterinarians working in the county to complete the test in the shortest possible time.

According to Dr. Baker, all cattle (beef and dairy) must be tested except steers, animals under 30 months of age that have been officially calf-hood vaccinated, and animals in certified herds. Testing work done by the state veterinarians will be free to the owner, and dairy calves 4 to 6 months of age could also be vaccinated at no cost to the owner. The veterinarians may bring a portable chute with them for holding animals during the testing work. A nominal charge may be made for use of this piece of equipment.

Dr. Baker pointed out that owners could have this testing done by their own private veterinarian if they preferred. Veterinarians doing private testing must be registered and accredited by the state for this work. Private testing will be at the owner's expense.

It was noted that 90.95 percent of the cattle owners in Kenton county had petitioned for the county-wide test. The veterinarian congratulated the dairymen and beef cattle owners of Kenton county for taking this important step toward wiping out one of the worst cattle diseases. Brucellosis is the organism also causing undulant fever in humans. In-dennity payments will be made should there be animals having the disease. Adjoining counties have had a very low (less than one percent) percentage of infection.

Cattle owners will be notified several days in advance as to exact time the veterinarians will be at their farm for testing. The owner will be expected to have his cattle up and to have any needed help available for holding. A number of Kenton county dairymen have volunteered their time to notify owners and to keep the testing program running on schedule. The exact spots for commencing the testing work have not been determined as yet but it was emphasized that owners would be notified in advance.

Stanley Bird, county chairman for the program, stated that the county had been divided into seven areas with an area or community chairman in each. Each of the community chairmen will coordinate the work in his area and the veterinarian will complete the testing within one area before moving to another.

Notify Social Security Office When You Move . . .

Over fourteen million beneficiaries are now drawing monthly social security checks. If you are among those receiving a social security check each month, you can see how important it is that you notify the Social Security Administration and your Post Office promptly when you move. Your checks are less likely to be delayed when you change your address, if you report your new address properly and promptly.

With the delivery of so many checks, you can understand there are bound to be many people of the same name. Social Security numbers are used to identify each claim. This claim number identifies the worker

Parasite, Foot-Rot Trouble May Crop Up This Summer

Heavy parasite infections and foot-rot, two things that hit sheep flocks hard, may be prevalent this summer if present wet-weather conditions prevail.

Such wet weather, if continued, is conducive to heavy build-up of parasite eggs in pastures, says R. F. Behlow, UK Agricultural Experiment Station animal pathology department veterinarian. Sheep should be wormed every three to four weeks with prescribed methods of alternating chemotherapy with the drastic measure treatment, Behlow says, to hold down parasite infections. A one-page folder, listed as Misc. 187, and dealing with the treatment of sheep against internal parasites, is available at county agents' offices or the Experiment Station bulletin room in Lexington.

Foot-rot is caused by a bacterial infection spread by moisture, Behlow points out. Any evidence of lameness in a flock should call for prompt treatment of the entire flock. Details of the treatment, involving hoof trimming principally, are available in Leaflet 219, "Foot Rot in Sheep," and available at county agents' offices or the Experiment Station bulletin room.

George Madison, fifth governor of Kentucky, was a twice-wounded hero of two Indian campaigns, had been in command of the only troops who held the field at the Battle of the River Raisin, and had served 20 years as state auditor of public accounts.

FARM POND SAFETY

The farm pond is becoming an important economic unit on the modern American farm. During the past 25 years, farmers and ranchers have built nearly a million ponds as part of their soil and water conservation plans, according to the Soil Conservation Service of the USDA.

Ponds are used in many farming programs, such as water for livestock, sprinkler irrigation, water source, fire protection and recreation in the form of fishing, boating, swimming, and ice skating.

Annually, however, an increasing number of lives are lost according to the National Safety Council in the "useful" farm pond, all of these deaths, with few exceptions, could have been prevented. It is the responsibility of every farm pond owner to make his pond safe.

Rules of safety around the farm pond are: 1) Recreation must be supervised at all times by an adult—NEVER swim alone, fish alone, boat alone, skate alone, or play around the pond alone; 2) Post safety instructions for boating, swimming, and skating; 3) Mark safe swimming areas—if the pond is located so it gets the drainage from barnyards or sewers, or if livestock are allowed to drink directly from the pond, do not permit swimming or other recreation because of sanitary reasons.

4) Place lifesaving devices, such as buoys, ropes and long poles around swimming areas—allow in the water only persons who know how to swim—encourage children to learn to swim; 5) Know accepted methods of artificial respiration; 6) Place a fence that can't be climbed around the farm pond so children can't play there without adult supervision; and 7) Clear all trees, stumps, brush, wire and rubbish from swimming and boating areas.

Boating Tips:

Boats can be fun when you use common sense; know the limitations of your boat; balance your load from side to side and bow to stern; don't overload; avoid sharp turns; don't use a motor too powerful for your boat; head at any angle toward waves; go slow when waves are high, and a boat is not a toy to be experimented with and played with by children.

Kentucky's farm families have the ninth highest death rate from falls and the third highest accidental death rate from firearms, compared with the other 49 states.

Card of Thanks—

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all of my friends and relatives for their prayers, flowers, cards and gifts during my stay in Booth Hospital. May God bless you.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union
Bible School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Hosea 11.
Devotional Reading: Hosea 1:1-7.

God's Children

Lesson for August 7, 1960

MANY ECHOES of the tragedy through which the prophet Hosea passed, are to be read in his pages. He uses figures of speech which suggest sad chapters in his life-history. When his wife Gomer left him and all three children behind her, he had to be a father and mother to the little ones. This may be a memory underlying the opening words of the 11th chapter. The "I" in verses 1 through 9 refer to God. He is presented as a loving father, taking his child (Ephraim, one of the names for the nation of Israel) in his arms and teaching him to walk. It is a heart-stirring picture, the mighty God picking up baby Ephraim and holding him in His "everlasting arms" and teaching him to walk.

"Sharper Than A Serpent's Tooth"

Perhaps Hosea had had trouble with his motherless children. Surely God had untold trouble with Israel. God and Israel are elsewhere called husband and wife; here they are father and son. But the picture is not of harmony and happiness; it is a picture of a broken home, broken because the son will not stay at his father's house, he disrespects his father's orders and wishes. Yet God's love continues. Even when Israel acts more like brutes than men, Hosea says God feeds them, and makes their yokes and bridles as easy as possible. Yet Israel has never appreciated what God has done. Israel has never appreciated what God would do if they would let him. They worship little gods, "Baals," instead of the true God. They owe their whole existence as a nation to his mighty help in bringing them out of a hopeless slavery in Egypt to a land of hope and freedom.

"How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is To have a thankless child,"
Shakespeare said. Must not God feel the sting of ingratitude even more than we would in a similar case?

Even At Their Worst

Israel was a bad nation, made up of mostly bad people. The citizens of their rival country, Judah, thought God had no use for Israel at all. Its history was stained with bloodshed, its great men were mostly skilled in the arts of destruction, especially war. Its worship was cheap and unworthy of the great God. Hosea says they went away from God, they sacrificed to idols, they are bent on turning away from God. They have refused to return to God. And yet, in spite of Israel, in spite of what they were at their worst, God cries out, "How can I give you up?"

No book in the Bible makes it plainer that the love of God is indestructible. God loves men even at their worst, he loves those who run away from him. Many persons are bothered by the suggestion that God is the father of all men. Does that mean that all men are alike in God's sight? Does it mean he loves wicked men quite as dearly as good men? If we follow the hints we have here in Hosea, we can venture these answers to those questions: Men are not alike in God's sight; the Bible clearly marks off good men from bad. God does love all men; but some run away from his love.

Why Be A Beast?

At several points Hosea speaks of Israel not as a wife, not as a son, but as an animal, most likely an ox, a beast of burden. Now it is the glory and the privilege of God's children to honor and serve him. But there is a great deal of difference between serving God gladly, out of love for him and eagerness to please him, and serving God only because he puts a bridle around your mouth and drives you as a farmer drives a mule. We do not upset God's plan for the universe by being balky. We grieve God, but we do not defeat him, by our mutinies. No man really runs a successful rebellion against God. God is all-powerful and all-wise as well as all-patient and all-loving. He desires the free devotion of free sons; but if this is refused, the failure and the tragedy comes down on man's head, not on God's.

When you are eight years old, it is not difficult to transform yourself suddenly into an Indian scout and to see a procession of chiefs, with their brightly colored feathered headdresses, galloping across the horizon astride magnificent stallions.

Children are fired with imagination, just as they are fired with faith. The faith of a child is something so simple and so beautiful that many an adult, viewing it, finds himself crying a little, deep down inside, for his own lost childhood and the touching innocence that was once his.

Yet before God, all men are children. His children, and Faith is there to be accepted, if men will but take it as a gift. The Church has the answer, showing you how to live like a man, while still possessing the heart of a child . . . helping you to get the very most out of life. If you haven't been to church lately . . . why not go this Sunday?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Revival Planned At the South Fork Christian Church

The South Fork Christian Church cordially invites the public to attend special services and programs which it has planned for the near future.

As a beginning, an old fashioned hymn-sing will be held on Saturday evening, August 20, at 8:00. The pianist will be Mrs. Ruth VanHorn of Warsaw, and the music will be led by Bro. Marvin Arvin, present minister of the church.

The hymn-sing is in reality a kick-off for an eight-day evangelistic meeting beginning of the church with the Bible school service, Sunday, August 21, at 10:00 a. m., and worship service at 11:00. The meeting will continue every week-night at 8:00 and conclude on Sunday, August 28. Special events and musical attractions are planned for each service.

As a climax to the week of inspiration, the South Fork church will hold its annual home-coming Sunday, August 28. There will be a delicious basket dinner on the church grounds following the 11:00 worship and an appropriate program and message by the guest speaker, Bro. Don Smith, New Richmond, Ohio.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

A Birthday Dinner was held at the home of Harry and Adeline Reed of Verona, honoring Mr. Spencer Reed, Harry Reed and Gary Hicks.

Helping to celebrate the occasion were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hicks, Gary Hicks, Bill and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephenson, Frankie and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Reed, all of Walton; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vest, Linda and Kenny, Vicki Reed and the hostesses of Verona. Everyone had a very enjoyable day.

Thrills and Spills To Be Found At Boone County Fair

Thrills and spills and the meeting of old friends will be found at the Boone County Fair, which started this Wednesday and will continue through Saturday night. Mr. John Crigler, the president of the Fair Board, states that from all indications the 1960 Fair will be the largest in the history of the Fair.

Mr. Lillard Scott states that all stalls have been reserved for the Horse Shows and that it will be necessary to acquire stalls off of the Fair Grounds. With this number of horses, the Horse Show should be one of the outstanding County Fair horse shows in Kentucky.

The midway has been completely filled with commercial and civil organization exhibits and an up-to-date carnival. The 4-H Club exhibits of crops, livestock and Home Economics will be increased this year, according to Mr. Marvin Davidson, assistant County Agent. Mr. Crigler states that the Fair Grounds have been improved with remodeling and painting of new buildings for the convenience of the public. The Fair will close Saturday night, August 13, with the Grand Championship of English Horse Show.

Southern States Meeting Held At Local High School

The future of farming as a business is tied tightly to the growth of the country. As a result, farm markets will grow rather than shrink. This fact was brought out by H. E. Lindley, Southern States Cooperative representative, at the Walton area annual membership meeting at the Walton-Verona High School, August 8th.

By 1975, according to Mr. Lindley, USDA reports that this country will have 230,000,000 people who will need 35% more poultry, 63% more red meats, 38% more milk, 31% more eggs, and 57% more fruits and vegetables. As a result, Mr. Lindley pointed out, Southern States Cooperative must "concern itself more and more in the years ahead to increasing farmers' bargaining power through helping them control more of the phases of 'agribusiness'."

In order to do this, Mr. Lindley said, the cooperative must "keep up-to-date with respect to families, financing, member relations and utilization."

Stockholder members have an obligation, too, to make their cooperative more effective, Lindley continued. This is largely dependent upon how completely they use the services of the organization and whether they do so on a constant and voluntary basis.

Elected to the local Southern Board were: W. W. Worthington of Morning View, and William Howe of Covington.

Elected to the local Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee: Mrs. Nolan Flynn of Crittenden, and Mrs. William Kidwell of Walton.

Henry Lipscomb, Manager of the Lipscomb Farm Supply, reported that his business had increased approximately 20% during the past year. He expressed appreciation for this support.

Other highlights of the meeting music and dancing by a local square dance group.

MRS. DORA KENNEDY

Mrs. Dora Kennedy, a former resident of Covington and widow of Sherman Kennedy, died Monday night at the home of a niece, Mrs. John Worthington, Walton. She was 82 years old and a resident of Guilford, Ind.

She was a member of Ninth Street Baptist Church, Cincinnati, and of Newwood Chapter, Daughters of America.

She is survived by a son, William Miller, Cincinnati, and three sisters: Mrs. Maude Borders and Mrs. Besie Edmonds of Covington, and Mrs. Frank Lee Dils of Florence.

Services will be held at 2:00 p. m., Friday in the Stier and Wilbur Funeral Home, Aurora, Ind. Burial will be in Greendale Cemetery, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, Florence, had charge of the arrangements.

... for fun with my family and friends. Lots of other things, too! Lucky me! I just pop in the day's dirty dishes 'n set a dial. My dishwasher does the rest.

And how those clean, really germ-free dishes sparkle! My automatic dishwasher uses scalding water... much too hot for hands. That sanitizes dishes more effectively than ordinary hand-dishwashing ever could.

I've also noticed that my hands are smoother and softer than ever before. No more dishpan hands for this gal. No s-e-e-e!

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 12:1-4
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN
Vision and Call
Lesson for August 14, 1960

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC name for it is "vocation;" the Protestant name for it is "calling." They mean just the same thing, the call of God to a man or woman for special service. Protestants and Catholics as well are now beginning to expand the meaning of the word. It is being seen by many, though others are slow to see it, that God may call a man to be a grocer or a farmer just as well as to be a minister of the Gospel. No Christian, surely, has any business staying permanently in a job where God does not want him to be. The more you believe in the will of God, the better you can see that it is really not good at all to choose your own way without asking what God's will is. The more you believe God is, the more eager you will be to learn what he has for you to do.

When Half-Gods Go
"When half-gods go, the gods arrive," a poet said. Let us say that better: When half-gods go, then God arrives! How did God arrive to Isaiah? That man was perhaps the most famous, certainly one of the most distinguished of the Hebrew prophets. How the call of God came to him, he tells us in chapter 6 of the book of his prophecies. In some ways the story is hard to understand; but in other ways we can put it into a modern dress, so to speak, and get a good deal from it. To put it shortly, Isaiah's call came when he saw the Lord. But when did he see the Lord? He dates it so that all his readers would identify it. "In the year that King Uzziah died I saw the Lord," he writes. That was like 1865 or 1945, when two great presidents died. King Uzziah had not been a perfect king, but he had been a strong one. People had leaned on him as they always lean on a "ruler-image," whether a Lincoln or a Roosevelt or a DeGaulle or any one else. Isaiah (being out of the top drawers in his country, a friend of the royal family) had leaned no doubt on the good king Uzziah. When he died, Isaiah was ready for the vision God had not sent him before. God became real to him, in a time of disaster and loss, as he had not seemed real before. Isaiah was not carried away by rapture when he saw God. The sight of the Divine Majesty (as many saints have learned can be a terrible experience. The first thing Isaiah feels is shame for his sins, sins which God deals with not by washing them away but by burning them away. To put this into common language, perhaps too common: Isaiah has to begin by getting right with God. God was calling him to be a prophet, or as we would say, a preacher. An important part of a preacher's business is to condemn men's sins. But no preacher can lead others to the forgiveness of God who has not felt that forgiveness himself. No preacher has the right to condemn other men's sins if he spares his own.

A Sense of Human Need
A Christian leader, being asked what a "call of God" is, replied: "A call comes in realizing a need and realizing one's own ability to meet that need." So it was with Isaiah. He hears the voice of God saying "Who will go...?" and he cries out, "Here am I; send me." Not all God's messengers and servants have heard literal sounds that they could have taken off on a tape recording machine. But the point is always the same: Men are seldom if ever aware of the needs of the world until God has touched them. What is it to be a minister of the Gospel? Without that strong sense of God, a minister is only another career man who makes a living by preaching rather than by raising hogs or selling lightning-rods. Without the vision of God, a young man asks the usual questions about the ministry that he asks about any old job: What does it pay, how about promotions, bonuses, my chance to be rich and famous? But once God has touched a man, the ministry is seen as a challenging opportunity to be God's man, and to help others to find him, regardless of salary or security. All the questions vanish in "Here am I!"

Accidents in the farm home kill more than 2,700 and injure nearly 400,000 farm residents each year.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	18	10
Monday	Proverbs	20	1-9
Tuesday	Proverbs	29	25-36
Wednesday	Luke	17	37
Thursday	Luke	14	15
Friday	Luke	15	1-6
Saturday	Ezekiel	2	18-20

A desperate run... a frantic slide... the feel of the bag against your cleats... the belated tag of the shortstop's glove. Then a voice, clear, certain... final!

And though the cheers may be laced with hoots and screams of disapproval, you're safe. And nothing can change that fact!

Equally dramatic — and far more important — is the adventure that brings earnest men and women into the Church.

There is a point when we realize the inertia of half-believing. We plunge forward desperately, leaving behind yesterday's skepticism, seeking frantically the Truth that promises meaning and purpose for our life.

Then there's the thrilling moment — the dust of worldly confusion still all around us — when we know in our hearts we have found our faith. And always, above the strains of the organ, even above the clamor of a world unconvinced, there is a Voice, clear, certain... final — confirming our Faith.

Federal Gas Tax Refund

Refund forms for exemption of Federal gasoline tax may be acquired at the Boone County Extension Office, according to Joe Claxon, Extension Agent in Boone County.

To get a refund of Federal gasoline tax you must file a claim on Form 2240, Claxon said. When you purchase gasoline, the price you pay includes the Federal gasoline tax, and you may claim a refund of the tax on any gasoline which is used on a farm for farming purposes.

The word "farm" includes stock, dairy poultry, fruit, fur-bearing animal, truck farms, orchards, plantations, ranches, nurseries, ranges, and greenhouses or other similar structures used primarily for the raising of agricultural or horticultural commodities.

Kenton County ASC Reports Results of Conservation Plan

Many Kenton county farmers are now using or have used the federal government's cost-sharing agricultural conservation program (ACAP) to help them control or solve their soil and water conservation problems. It was reported this week by Russell Rector, chairman of the county ASC committee.

He said that cost-sharing practices were established in 1959 on 173 farms or 29 percent of all farms in the county.

A total of 202 farmers of the county have already filed applications to participate in the program this year, Mr. Rector said. Pointing out that more applications can be handled, the chairman emphasized that all farmers are eligible to apply, and urged any who have conservation problems to obtain complete information at the county ASC office in the Courthouse at Independence.

"Unfavorable weather conditions have slowed up some of the farm conservation work planned for this spring," Chairman Rector said, "but there is plenty of time to carry out many needed practices at the end of the year. We hope that the farmers will check on their conservation problems and file applications for needed practices at the earliest possible time so that they will be ready to start work as soon as the weather conditions are favorable."

Under the ACS plan, the government pays about 50 percent of the cost of establishing most practices. A higher percentage is paid on certain practices which have a comparatively high initial cost or provide benefits which are spread over a period of years. One requirement to qualify for cost-sharing is that an application must be filed at the county ASC office before work on the needed practice is started.

Following is a summary on farm conservation work carried out in Kenton county in 1959 under the cost-sharing program:

Establishing permanent vegetative cover, A-2, 108 farms, 754 acres; establishing vegetative cover, D-4, 25 farms, 240 acres; application of limestone, A-4, 38 farms, 985 tons; reseeded, B-3, 4 farms, 39 acres; spring development, B-6, 3 farms, 1 structure; ponds, B-7, 33 farms, 34 structures; soil waterway, C-1, 2 farms, 3 structures, and diversion channels, C-5, 1 farm, 1 structure.

Corn-Topping Experiment Shows Yields Will Be Cut

Does topping corn pay? Not on the basis of yield, UK Experiment Station and university researchers say, after conducting a topping test last season.

James Shane and Frank Loeffel, agronomists, said their experiment showed, generally, that topped corn crops outyielded topped crops from 5 to 10 bushels an acre.

When they topped plants at about ear-height, the eventual yield was 91.8 bushels. A little higher plant topping resulted in a 94.9 bushel yield. Topping the plant at the very top resulted in a 96.3 bushel yield. But, the topped plants averaged 101.3 bushels an acre.

Shane and Loeffel purposely varied the experiment by topping at different times. When the crop was topped 4 weeks after silking (at various levels as mentioned above) the yield was 90.9 bushels; six weeks after silking, 95.1 bushels, and eight weeks after silking, 97 bushels. The test crop silked about July 20, 1959. Their conclusion is that yields will be cut by the various topping "potentials" and timing of topping. The researchers did not collect information, however, on whether the topped crops were easier for mechanic pickers, the principal reason for topping.

Requests Help In Handling Cattle

Robert Scott, Jr., Brucellosis Control chairman for the Crescent Spring and Ludlow communities (Area A) stated August 11 that testing had been virtually completed in his area. Cooperation on the part of owners had been near perfect, he reported. Dr. McBride, the veterinarian, moved his equipment on Aug. 11 to Area E. Testing work is now well underway in this area, according to William E. Durr, chairman.

Norbert Kahmann, chairman in the Ft. Mitchell-Erlanger community (Area B) reported that he and his workers had finished testing all the cattle in this area on August 16th. William Barnes, area chairman and Dr. Dorn, veterinarian, expected to have testing work well underway in the Independence community (Area C) beginning on August 16.

The third full-time veterinarian is expected in the county momentarily with his work to begin in the Taylor Mill-Decoursey community. John W. Shaw, area chairman, urged cattle owners to get their cattle tested. Mr. Shaw stated that the owners would be notified in advance when the veterinarian would be at their farm.

Stanley Bird, county chairman, stated that he and the entire committee was extremely gratified by the cooperation that cattle owners had given the committee during the testing work. Mr. Bird said that the countywide testing for brucellosis was the biggest single step ever taken toward wiping out an of the worst cattle diseases. Mr. Bird said that he felt sure no owners would want to hamper the county becoming brucellosis free. The countywide testing program has been termed "a perfect example of neighbors co-operating with each other to do a job that an individual could not do alone."

Testing work is free to the owner, calves 4-8 months of age may also be vaccinated at no cost. Owners are expected to furnish any necessary help for holding their cattle. Each veterinarian has been testing from 150-200 head of cattle per day. A number of Kenton County leaders have volunteered their time to assist with the program by notifying owners and keeping the testing program running on schedule.

COOPERATION is a Kentucky tradition!

"TRADING OFF" HELP OR SHARING POWER!

"Trading off" help is a Kentucky tradition as old as the state itself. Most of us don't think twice before we roll up our sleeves and pitch in to help out a neighbor. It's the sort of thing that we all do naturally, cattle shipping time or anytime. And we know that we can count on our neighbors to help us out in the very same way whenever we require a little assistance. It's just a case of being neighborly.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops . . . created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves . . . are a good example of how neighborly cooperation serves out Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in cities and towns.

Rural Electricity Benefits Everyone

Bullock Pen Sets Date For Opening Of Water Bids

September 7 has been set as the date for accepting bids for the Bullock Pen Water District, it was announced last week by Aso M. Rouse, Walton. Bids will be opened at 3:30 p.m. on the date in the Crittenden School in Grant County.

Rouse said he had been advised by officials of the regional administration office of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, Atlanta, that all the facets of red tape in connection with Federal financing had been approved.

There will be four divisions in the bids, and contractors may bid on the project as a whole. The divisions are: Water line, treatment plant, storage tanks.

Mr. Rouse said that J. S. Kenney and Associates, Lexington, the engineer for the water project, had been instructed to prepare copies of approved plans and specifications for distribution to interested bidders and contractors.

The water district has been given an easement by the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Department to take water from the 186-acre Bullock Pen Creek Lake which lies on the border of Boone and Grant Counties.

Engineers have said that even at peak usage, the level of the lake could not possibly be lowered more than two inches a year, which is considerably less than the total of excess water which flows over the spillway or what is lost by natural evaporation.

Total cost of construction of the pump house, water storage tanks and laying of lines has been estimated at $433,000. Of this sum, $351,000 is being loaned by HFA. Approximately $38,000 has been obtained from potential customers by top-in fees, with $44,000, the remainder of the cost, being financed by local banks.

The district will supply water to Crittenden in Grant County and to Verona in Boone County as well as to farmers in the area. The district also has a contract to supply the town of Dry Ridge with one half million gallons a month.

WALTON'S CLASS "C" KNOTHOLE TEAM, 6-1

In pitching, G. J. Poole has won four and lost one. The other wins went to Ronnie Brown and Jerry Butler. Kenton County 4-H Club Council Meets August 16

The Kenton County 4-H Club Council met at the Courthouse at Independence, August 16, for the regular monthly meeting, according to Robert Maddox, assistant county agricultural agent.

The main subject of discussion was the Kenton County 4-H Fair, held on Simon Kenton High School grounds, August 5-6. The discussion was designed to help improve the fair for next year. Possible improvements suggested for next year were: have two evenings for the fair and not have the morning activities, have non-profit organizations to have booths at the fair, and have a 4-H princess contest along with the 4-H Fair queen contest.

The leaders of the 4-H Clubs were disappointed in the number of club members that exhibited their projects after they had given up their time and effort to help complete them.

There is a great need for 4-H Club leaders in Kenton County. Some of the present organized clubs need more leaders and there are many areas of the county where interested persons are needed to help organize 4-H Clubs. The 4-H Club agents of the Kenton County Cooperative Extension Service would like to hear from any person interested in serving as a leader for the boys and girls in the 4-H Club program.

You'll see the best of everything! Sewing, canning, baking, flowers, farm animals, exhibits too numerous to mention—many to see in one day. The Junior Dairy Show, the Liberator show and a Japanese spectacular will attract visitors to the fair this day also.

Let's all go to the Fair! See Kentucky at its best or the best! See Kentucky's.

Kenton County Utopia Club

The Kenton County Utopia Club met August 10 at the home of Mr. Mrs. Charles Brown. Twenty adults and several children attended the meeting, according to Robert Maddox, assistant county agricultural agent. A very informative talk was made by George Pendergast, beef specialist from the University of Kentucky, on the possibilities of beef cattle in Northern Kentucky.

This talk was very good in that pure beef cattle were compared with "mixed" beef or beef animals with dairy breeding, on some very important points. The market price was one of these points that was discussed at some length, figures were given that showed there is a difference in selling price of up to 12c per pound.

Literary Club to Meet

The Walton Woman's Literary Club will meet September 7th at Robinson's Restaurant, Ft. Mitchell. Mrs. Sam Sleet and Mrs. Marie Berkshire are hostesses.

Brucellosis Testing Progressing Nicely In Kenton County

William E. Durr, Area Brucellosis Control Chairman for Area E in Kenton County, reported Friday that approximately 1,000 head of cattle had been tested by that date in his area.

Area E includes that territory in Kenton County from the Walton-Nicholsen Road south to Grant County. Dr. McBride is the testing veterinarian in this area.

William Barnes, chairman in the Independence area (Area C) reported testing work was nearly one-half finished in his area. Testing work here is being done by Dr. C. R. Dorn.

Area A and B, Crescent Springs, Ludlow and Ft. Mitchell-Erlanger have been virtually completed. A third veterinarian is expected in Kenton County this week to start testing work in the Taylor Mill-Deer Creek communities. John W. Shaw, chairman, is in the process of arranging a schedule of the summer testing work that owners will be given notice as for as possible in advance of the veterinarian.

It was predicted that either Dr. McBride or Dr. Dorn would be able to start testing work in the Fishburg-Morning View Area (Area G) within a week to ten days. William Beck of St. Mary's Road, serves as chairman for this area; Warren VanHorn is the co-chairman.

Stanley Bird, county chairman, reported that testing work was progressing according to schedule and that owners had been very cooperative. He noted that most of the owners were helping their neighbors in getting the cattle up and holding during blood test work. It is the responsibility of the owner to furnish any needed help for holding, etc.

Mr. Bird was highly complimentary of the work of the road committees in the different area. These local leaders along with the area chairman volunteer their time in notifying the owners so that the program may stay on schedule. Each veterinarian has been testing from 150-200 head per day.

Six New Faculty Members This Year

Final plans are being made to take care of about 600 students that are expected to enter the Walton-Verona Schools on September 6. This is about 60 more than was on the roll at the close of the 1959-60 school year. On basis of this expected increase in enrollment and the already crowded condition the State Department of Education has approved the hiring of two new teachers. These teachers have been hired and the school district will benefit some $10,000 from the employment of the additional teacher.

The Walton-Verona Schools will open with 25 faculty members including 6 new members. The complete faculty list and subjects follows:

Walton Elementary School

Ed Chipman, principal, and 7th grade; Estol Ellerman, 7th grade; J. D. Risner, 7th grade science; Frances McCormick, 6th grade; Dorothy McFarland, 5th and 6th grades; William Mathis, 3rd and 4th grades; Leola Mathis, 1st and 2nd grades; George Benson, band and choral. NOTE—If the 1st grade enrollment is as small at Verona as we think it will be the plans to place the Verona 1st grade with the Walton 1st grade and divide the 6th grade between Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Alfrod. This would give Mr. Mathis the 4th and 5th grades and Mrs. Mathis the 2nd and 3rd grade.

Walton Elementary School

William Doan, principal; Mary K. Gex, 5th grade; Lucille Hudson, 4th grade; Lois Gutman, 3rd grade; Sarah Sleet 2nd grade; Lillian Acker, 1st grade; Elizabeth Kemper, 1st grade.

Armed Alliances

Lesson for August 28, 1960

WE ALL LIVE inside many circles. The smallest of these is the one your belt goes around. It is just the circle around the immediate you, which you can never escape because you live inside it. It goes where you go. Then there is the larger circle passing around your family. You can run away from that, but you would wish you hadn't. Beyond are larger circles, big enough to take in the neighborhood, the school, the church, the country, the nation... and so, finally, the great circle around the world, the circle of the sky, under which are all the nations of the world.

The Circle of Religion

Where, in that arrangement, is the Circle of Religion? It is not the same thing as the circle of the church, for that can be religion outside of church; otherwise we would be irreligious people every time we walked out of the church building. The fact is, religion—the Christian religion in particular—is concerned with all those circles and all the people inside them, and all that makes their lives good or bad, joyous or sorrowful. Any religion that can be fenced in is a highly poor sort. Christianity is concerned with everything human. Therefore Christianity cannot, without shame, turn its face away and mutter "None of my business" when anything is going on that affects human lives.

One circle in particular is often thought to be "out of bounds" for religion; that is to say, the preacher should never mention it in a sermon, and the people need not look to the Bible for its subject. This is the circle of International Affairs. This is the circle that takes in diplomacy and treaties, and war and peace. If we stand by the Bible we must try to think what God's will is in such matters. For the prophets of old preached on the foreign policy of their nations, and made no apologies.

In those far-off days, and now, the average man did enough to pay taxes and be drafted in war, put a good deal of stock in foreign alliances. Line up with a large number of nations, arm them yourself if they are not armed, be sure your gang of nations is bigger and stronger than any other gang of nations between the Nile and the Euphrates River, and you can stop worrying about your country's future; you've got it made. So they thought, (and it sounds familiar in these cold-and-hot war and near-war days) but it was not so. The true prophets did not urge more and better alliances. Indeed most alliances would prove to be actually dangerous. Isaiah pointed out that alliances of armed nations are often short-lived, they shift like sand, allies of one generation may become enemies of the next, one nation drags down others in its fall. To put it another way: Security is not finally in force. Security is not in more force. Real security is not in decisions of the high command, not in the schemes of chiefs of staff.

What General Trudeau Says

Don't think the lines you have just read are clear out of touch with reality! The following is a statement by General Trudeau, at the time he was placed in charge of the U. S. Army's Missile Development Program:

"Despite the extreme importance of exploring Space to its furthestmost limits, and of sending up satellites that can begin to do our exploring, even more important is this 20th Century's challenge to believing men and women—a challenge for us to live by our prayers, which can and do go higher and farther than satellite or rocket or space ship can ever reach, namely to the inner heart of our Creator, if we ever expect to solve these problems about the peace of our world, which man clearly does not seem able to accomplish on his own."

In other words, this devout Christian military leader, with know-how enough to be placed in charge of a vitally important national military project, knows the most important thing of all: TRUST IN GOD!

When making a plaid skirt, plan the spacing and depth of the plaids to keep the same part of the plaid design on the edge of each pleat.

The TREMENDOUS Teens

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greater factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. There are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verse
Sunday	Isaiah	46	2-3
Monday	Romans	14	23-25
Tuesday	Psalm	100	25-30
Wednesday	John	1	17
Thursday	Colossians	2	6-8
Friday	Romans	13	6-9
Saturday	Romans	12	10-18

Hardest fact for the adult mind to comprehend is that a teen-ager stands at the threshold of life.

When you enter a strange door you are uncertain. You don't know what's in store for you. You aren't sure which way to turn.

There may be familiar, welcoming voices—but even these now have the ring of uncertainty. For when your whole world is changing, can you be sure that the people around you are not changing also?

For boys and girls in this time of uncertainty the Church is the fulcrum of strength. Its truth is unchanging. Its teaching is clear. Its promises are worthy of hope, trust, endeavor, sacrifice.

The problems of the teen-ager are tremendous... but so is the might of his God. The character, the certainty, the charity of the Church inspires his ideals... challenges his courage.

The Sky Revue will be presented at 4 and 10 p.m. each day, with the season's greatest fireworks shows following each night's performance.

The Ronnie Lewis Trio, a troupe of aerial daredevils will star at the Aug. 26 week-end shows, with the Sensational Kays booked for the Labor Day week-end performances. CHILDREN IN FOSTER HOMES FARING BETTER

Children in foster homes in Kentucky are faring better, thanks to a raise by the State in the daily allowance for their support.

Child Welfare Commissioner Richard Clendenen said the allowance was increased for each child from $1.50 to $1.75, effective August 1.

The Department of Child Welfare now will be able to find more foster homes and place more children in their care, Clendenen said. At present, 343 children are living in 300 foster homes in the state.

The program finds temporary homes for youngsters whose normal existence has been interrupted by separation of parents, economic reasons, unfavorable conditions or other causes. The children remain until conditions permit placing them back with their parents or relatives or in adoptive homes. Otherwise, they would be sent to institutions which provide less emotional security.

Home Management Leaders Meet In Kenton County

Forty-five home management leaders of the Kenton County Homemakers' Association met with Miss Frances Stallard, a home management specialist from the University of Kentucky Extension Service, Thursday, August 25, in the Federal Building, Covington.

The session was devoted to the study of short-term credit in family finance. The objectives were to teach wise use of short-term credit in family financial planning and to give the kinds, sources and cost of short-term credit.

Miss Stallard said credit is a useful tool when it is intelligently used. However, it may be unwise to use it when it provides a scale of living beyond the family's ability to pay.

Credit granted for a year or less is considered short-term credit. It is extended to customers through charge accounts, installment buying and cash loans. Families should plan carefully and weigh the values of using credit against the cost before they decide to use it.

Leaders in attendance were Mrs. Phil Hicks, Mrs. Frank Wessendorf, Mrs. William Jeffers, Mrs. F. M. Powers, Mrs. V. W. Kelly, Mrs. John Shaw, Mrs. F. B. Herms, Mrs. Clarence Heitzman, Mrs. W. H. Gilbert, Miss Ruth Schmidt, Mrs. Russell Rector, Mrs. Edward Maloney, Mrs. Fehman T. Nutrition, Health Educator Named By Health Dept.

The health departments of 25 Kentucky counties are in the process of expanding their programs by adding nutritionists and health educators to their staffs.

Miss Edna Pollard, as nutritionist, and Mrs. R. H. Ship, as health educator, have been employed on a share basis in Boone, Owen, Pendleton, Grant and Gallatin counties.

The nutritionist positions involve the application of scientific knowledge of nutrition to disease prevention and the promotion of better food practices. School and a community nutrition education, including food habit surveys, talks, film showings, weight control classes, home visits to patients suffering from chronic diseases who have been recommended by private physicians, and help for low income families in planning their diet, are among the duties of the nutritionist. The nutritionist also provides consultation services for citizens. Those who qualify for the nutritionist positions are college or university graduates, who have a degree in home economics and a major in foods or related field. Miss Pollard is a graduate of Eastern State College and has taught home economics for the past six years in the Williamson schools.

Mrs. Ship, the health educator, under the direction of the county health officer and the State Department of Health, will conduct public health education programs, which include working with community organizations and schools, making health surveys, preparing and presenting exhibits. She will also assist other personnel of the county health department in education methods. Mrs. Ship is a native of Owen County. She and her husband, Robert, and two daughters make their home in Williamson. She has been a classroom teacher in Owen, Oldham and Grant counties. She taught the past school year in the Williamson county schools.

The appointment of the nutritionist and the health educator is a step toward the eventual goal set by the Kentucky Public Health Foundation Program, which recommends that every county have one full day's service per week of each.

Please call the Boone County Health Department at Miss Pollard or Mr. Ship can help you with your health programs.

Destroy Excess Leaf Before Harvest Says ASC Office

J. Lassing Huey, chairman of the Boone County ASC Committee, reminded tobacco producers today that excess acreage must be destroyed before harvest for any tobacco produced on the farm to be eligible for price support.

Because failure to destroy excess before harvest could mean a loss in the amount of money the farmer would receive for his crop, Mr. Huey urged farmers to be ready to destroy the excess when the ASC representative comes to the farm to measure off, witness, and certify to the disposition of the excess.

Mr. Huey said rules for destruction have been applied rigidly in the county and that so far, farmers have been willing to thoroughly destroy the excess by one of the following approved methods: 1) discing into the soil, 2) chopping into small fragments, 3) pulverizing with rotary mower, or 4) chopping and plowing or discing under.

FARM BUREAU in Action

Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

Farmers Caught in Middle

Of Big Political Debate

With the selection of the Republican and Democratic presidential and vice-presidential candidates this month, we begin about three or four months of "faking the issues to the American people."

This is an age-old American political game, which usually means talking about everything except the facts on the important issues. It usually means more passion, propaganda and name-calling than it does anything else. This will also be true when the candidates and their camp followers talk about the so-called "farm issue."

Most thinking farmers, however, will be cutting through the thick haze of political double-talk, keeping their thoughts squarely on the central issue involved: namely, "which direction do we want to go in American agriculture, toward more government involvement in our business, or toward less." The details of this particular issue aren't really as important as the central question. It's a matter of direction, and which of the individual proposals for solutions to the "farm problem" take us to the left, and which ones would take us to the right.

The big debate is whether farmers should abandon entirely the private competitive system based on the market price, and turn instead to a system that would involve rationing out the right to produce any agricultural commodity, with prices determined by the politicians in Washington.

On this central issue, the position of Farm Bureau is crystal clear. While we are not foolish enough to advocate the end to all government help in agriculture, we are not in favor of moving in the direction of more government decision-making in our business.

Unfortunately, too many people assume that the "farm program" is only involved with price supports and government purchases of surpluses. Government programs in agriculture are so varied and numerous that the much-publicized price support operations represent only a small part of the total program. Research and educational programs, for example are just as important as ever, and so are soil and water conservation programs, to mention only a few.

public assistance benefits for the month of July.

The needy blind recipients in the county received average payments of $41.00 for the month as compared to $37.25 received in July, 1959.

Payments to the county's eight totally and permanently disabled showed a $4.70 average increase.

Boone county's dependent children received $1,784 in total public assistance payments for July. This is an increase of $13.39 in average payments per family over 1959.

Commissioner Ferguson said the increase in aid is the result of sales tax funds and more federal matching money to public assistance.

Commissioner of Economic Security Jo M. Ferguson announced this week that Boone county received $123 for the needy blind and $377 for the totally and permanently disabled in

God in History

Lesson for September 4, 1960

GOD IN HISTORY can be seen only with the eyes of faith. There is no demonstrating either that God exists or that he is doing any particular thing. Nevertheless, once seen with the insight of faith, God is unmistakably there—everywhere in the story of the universe and of man. God does not, so to speak, burst into the story like some one late to a meeting. He does not come in and out like a light out of order. He does not play a minor role on the stage of humanity. He is out there all the time.

Dr. Foreman

God's Will in History

What are God's intentions? Does he know what he wants and is he trying to get it? Does he know what he wants done and is he finding men who will do it? Such questions haunt the mind of man who has not yet become sure about God. They would haunt the mind of a believing man too, if the Bible did not help him with some answers. The prophets of "olden times" lived in a pretty modern era, after all. It was a time like ours in many ways. Nations were armed to the teeth, national wealth was being spent on defense, the common man was taxed right out of his sandals, the whole nation was morally weak and growing fatter all the time.

At such a time arose prophets, men of God with insight into the mind of God. They did not know all God's "secret counsels," but they were quite certain on some points. First of all, they declared that God does have a purpose—a great all-embracing Purpose that includes every nation in the world. Translated into terms of our time, this means God has a purpose regarding Russia, China, Afghanistan, Canada, the State of Mississippi . . . there is not a territory so obscure, there is not an empire so great, as to be outside God's purposes. Does this mean that every "people and tongue and nation" and every subdivision thereof always does God's will? How about Russia? we would ask. How about Assyria? the ancient Hebrew would ask. Are they in line with God's high intention?

This was a bitter question when Assyria was invading Judah, and Isaiah, speaking for God, gives the answer of chapter 10. Judah, the nation, has sinned, and God is about to punish her. But he does not punish the nation by means of avenging angels swinging thunderbolts. He punishes the nation with a rod; and the name of the rod is Assyria. It is a wicked nation to be sure; nations defeated by Assyria have a tragic fate in store. But when God has sufficiently punished Israel with this "rod of anger," he will cast the rod aside. Where is God's hand in history? At that time, His hand held the rod called Assyria. Since then there have been other nations which like Assyria carried out God's will without being aware of it or of Him. The reader no doubt can name some of these.

God's Character in History

The prophets saw something more than a powerful hand guiding the course of nations. They could see what kind of God this is. To the eye and mind of faith, the whole course of history, the rise and fall of nations, the chains of cause and effect in all ages, strongly speak of a God who loves justice and mercy, a God who is concerned about the helpless and the depressed peoples of the world. Nations as well as individuals that defy God's laws are just digging their own graves. In a real sense of the word, every nation that has fallen into the pit (and the mortality among nations to date is 100%) has dug that pit for itself. God's throne of justice is not set on some remote star, it is here on the flying earth. "Those with patience he stands waiting, with exactness grinds he all." The judgments of God are not swift but they are sure. From them there is no appeal. His judgments are not arbitrary, they come right out of the sin itself, the punishment fits the crime. For God is no intruder into history, he is Lord of History. In fulfilling his will is the Good, for all men.

The
shines
BRIGHT

But wherever it shines . . . there are shadows. Wherever there are golden opportunities there are also sombre tragedies. Some fail to grasp their blessings.

Ours is a nation which guarantees to every child the opportunity for religious training. Yet ours is a nation which smarts under the scourge of a moral disease—juvenile delinquency.

In blessing you with a son or daughter, God has entrusted to you a precious soul. You are required by law to give your child a secular education. But, despite the scourge of delinquency, a free nation must leave to your conscience the question of your child's moral and religious education.

God has blessed America. With a nearby Church ready and eager to provide Christian training for your child, and religious foundation for your family's life—the Sun shines bright. But there are shadows. You must decide!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

WORKING TOGETHER FOR THE SOUTH'S CONTINUED PROGRESS

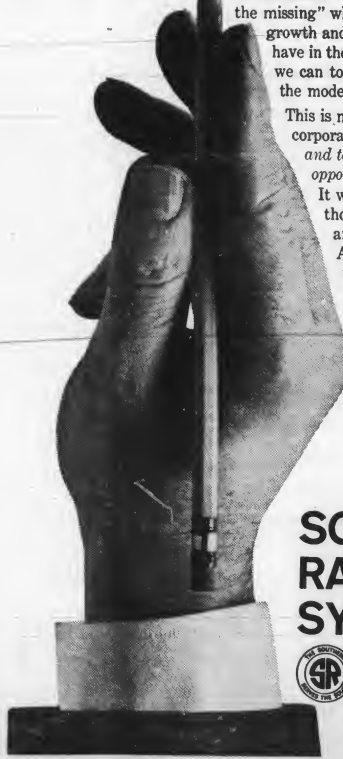

COUNT US IN! YOU BET we want to be counted in...

for Southern Railway has no intention of being "among the missing" when it comes to working for the continued growth and progress of the territory we serve. As we have in the past, we will go right on doing everything we can to promote the prosperity and well-being of the modern South that means so much to all of us.

This is no idle promise. It is, in fact, a part of our corporate creed: "To develop the territory we serve and to foster faith in the South, its people and its opportunities."

It would take a long list, indeed, to include all those in the South today who are working for and looking toward a still greater future for America's "youngster" opportunity-land — the modern South. If such a roster is ever drawn up, be sure to "count us in."

Made in concrete for Kentucky's Interstate 65 south of Elizabethtown

gives maximum strength with minimum thickness!

Kentucky's highway department chose concrete for this important stretch of Interstate System highway. Necessity for multiple strata construction of 2 to 3 times greater total depth was avoided.

Strength with minimum bulk is possible, of course, because concrete isn't flexible. It supports traffic loads like a beam. Pressures on the subgrade stay permanently within safe limits.

PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION
 808 Commonwealth Bldg., Louisville 2, Ky.
 A national organization to improve and extend the uses of concrete

And concrete's design efficiency assures low maintenance costs in years ahead. In fact, maintenance costs will be as much as 75% lower than for asphalt. Only concrete enables engineers to design highways to last 50 years and more.

You can see why engineers and taxpayers agree that concrete is the preferred pavement for heavy-duty highways—especially on the new Interstate System.

Brucellosis Testing Progressing Nicely In Kenton County

John W. Shaw, area chairman for the Brucellosis Control program in the Taylor Mill - Independence communities, (Area D) reported Friday that work was well underway in his area. Mike Goetz, Fowler Creek Road, area co-chairman, stated that owners in the northern part of the area were nearly finished and that cooperation had been near perfect. The test is free to the owner and calves 4 to 8 months of age may also be vaccinated at no cost to the owner. Cattle owners are responsible for having the cattle up and for any needed help in catching and holding animals. Dr. Clawson is the testing veterinarian in this area.

A holding chute may be available for the owners use if he needs it; a nominal charge will be made for use of this piece of equipment. While every effort has been made to visit every farm having cattle in the area, it is possible that a farm could have been missed—such owners are requested to phone the area chairman, Mr. Shaw, at FL. 7-7249 or the co-chairman, Mr. Goetz, FL. 7-2369. Dr. Clawson is scheduled to start in the Atwood-Kenton Station community (Area F) upon completion of all present area. Herbert F. Hoffman Jr. and Bill Jackson, leaders in this area have urged owners to be planning for the testing program.

William E. Dury, Oatney Worthington and Ralph Faltz, leaders in Area E (southwest section of the county) report that testing in the area is nearly completed. Dr. McBride, the testing veterinarian, stated that only several more days work remain. William Barnes, area chairman in the Independence community (Area C) also reports that work is nearly completed in his section. Dr. Dorn or Dr. McBride will plan to move into Area G (Fiskburg, Morning View communities) upon completion of their present section. William Beck, St. Mary's Road and Warren VanHorn are the community leaders for Area G. The testing veterinarians have all been favorably impressed with the cooperation that they have received in Kenton County. Local volunteer leaders have given a great deal of their time in keeping the program on schedule.

Stanley Bird, county chairman, has called a meeting of the fifteen area chairmen and co-chairmen for 8 p. m., Tuesday, September 6, to make final plans for completion of testing work in Kenton County. The meeting was in the Courthouse in Independence.

The Rev. Joseph J. Rueter, pastor of All Saints Church, Walton, wishes to thank all those who worked at the Labor Day Festival, especially those not members of the church, and all those who attended. The spirit of friendly cooperation shown by the people of the community is most gratifying.

Fish and Wildlife Is Subject of Essay Contest

Kentucky grade and high school students interested in fishing and hunting and the importance of conserving the state's fish and wildlife resources should be able to qualify for lots of prizes in the 1960 Soil Conservation Essay Contest this fall.

"The subject of the 17th annual essay contest is 'How Fish and Wildlife Conservation Benefits My Community.'"

This was announced by Barry Bingham, president of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS, Inc.; Dr. Wendell P. Butler, state superintendent of public instruction; and A. Threlkeld, president of the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Winners in the contest will receive $3,250 in U. S. Savings Bonds.

State awards of $100, $75 and $50 bond will go to the top three winners. A $25 bond will be presented to the writer of the winning essay in each of the state's 121 soil conservation districts.

In addition to the bond prizes, the three top winners, their parents and teacher will receive all-expense paid trips to attend the 23rd annual Farm

TAX HELP AVAILABLE

The Revenue Department this week announced it would again make available to retailers of Boone Co., a representative of the department to assist merchants with the filing of sales and use tax returns.

Revenue Commissioner William E. Scent said a field representative would be at the County Tax Commissioners office in Burlington on Sept. 16th.

The August return is due September 20. Scent urged local retailers to avail themselves of this service to clarify any questions on the reporting procedure.

Conservation Warning Issued By ASC Chairman

Chairman J. Lassing Huey of the Boone County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee today reminded farmers with land in the Conservation Reserve of their continuing responsibility to refrain from using this land for grazing or harvesting any crop from the designated acreage during the contract period.

"Even though we are not authorized to take new land into the Conservation Reserve," Mr. Huey said, "there has been no change in the regulations concerning the land retired from production under existing contracts. The farmer is to be paid an annual rental each year for compliance with his Conservation Reserve contract, and in most cases has already received his payments for a part of the cost of establishing a conservation practice on the land. In return, he is obligated to exercise his responsibility of withholding the land from production for the period of the contract."

There are 22 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect in Boone County, involving a total of 534.4 acres of cropland. Of these contracts, 5 are "whole farm" contracts, covering all the cropland on the farm. Some of this land will be held out of production through the 1969 crop season.

"Your Fair Share Shows You Care" Is U. A. Slogan

"Your fair share shows you care," according to Fred R. Rauch, chairman of the Northern Kentucky 1960-61 United Appeal. The campaign for Community Chest agencies and Red Cross services is now underway in Boone, Campbell and Kenton counties.

Rauch pointed out that because Northern Kentucky residents care, a total of 92,999 Northern Kentucky residents were served by Community Chest agencies and Red Cross services during the calendar year 1959. Fair share pledges to the U. A., opened the road to good citizenship for 7,313 young girls and adults in the Licking Valley Council of the Girl Scouts, 8,254 boys and adults in the Dan Beard Council of the Boy Scouts, and 819 boys at the Boys' Club of Kenton County.

Because Northern Kentucky residents cared enough to have small amounts deducted from their pay checks throughout the year as their U. A. pledges, 31 Cerebral Palsy victims, 614 disabled persons at the Goodwill Rehabilitation Center, five sightless persons at the Association for the Blind, and 112 persons with impaired hearing or speech at the Speech and Hearing Center were helped in their struggles to gain control of their afflicted bodies. While this was happening, other fair share pledges made it possible for the Salvation Army to help 817 persons, and for 171 local residents to get the legal counsel they needed through the civil division of the Legal Aid Society. All of these persons are residents of the Northern Kentucky area.

Many more valuable and useful causes have been helped.

You can help make these and many other Red Cross and Red Feather services possible during the coming year by showing your care. Give your fair share pledge to the United Appeal.

Clair Timothy Seed Status Approved By UK Station

The UK Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, has approved establishment of a registered class for production of Clair Timothy.

Clair is a new variety of timothy developed by the UK Station from seed furnished by an Indiana farmer several years ago. The registered class is one of the several classes in to which seed production is divided before seed gets to the individual farmer.

B. W. Fortenberry, manager of the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association, says the registered class has been accepted by the KSA as part of the official requirements for production of Clair Timothy seed. The first step (class) in seed production is breeders' seed; this seed then goes to certain agencies in the "foundation" seed category; registered follows this class, with farmers growing registered seed and distributing it to qualifying growers who will produce Kentucky certified seed. Fortenberry's office in Lexington, has the details on requirements for registered seed.

Why No Peace?

Lesson for September 11, 1960

ASK ANY ten or one hundred people the same question: If you could have, tomorrow, an ideal world, a world made to your order, what kind of world would it be? You might get ten or a hundred different answers, but it is safe to say that one feature would be found in all of these ideal worlds: it would be a world at peace. Nobody—nobody in America, nobody anywhere in the world—wants to live in a warring world. Everybody is in favor of peace.

Dr. Foreman

Why We All Want Peace

Turn to the Bible and you find the same thing. Every prophet who looks down the long vista of time to God's Golden Age, see a world at peace. Some of the best-known passages from the Bible are those from Isaiah selected for this week. So if human beings want peace, at this extent they are on God's side.

Why we hope for peace is plain enough. Reasons may vary from low (bad) to high (good). The prophets' reasons are certainly high ones. The reason why war is bad is what it does to people. Nowadays, of course, war means total destruction; but even when that is not true, war means the slow or swift degeneration of human beings. "All is fair in love and war" is not true but most people think it is, and the longer war goes on, the more people believe it. Lying, cruelty, theft, murder, adultery become commonplace. The enemy looks to us less than human (and so do we to the enemy), so that we make excuses for our beastly treatment of him by calling him a beast.

Now, why is it that something we all want, and that God wants, we don't get? The history of western Europe, and of the United States, is one long series of wars. We scarcely get over one before the next one comes off the assembly line. If it isn't a hot war it's a cold one—and the "cold war" is a 20th-century invention. Only the name is new.

Of course one reason we don't get peace is that we want it for wrong reasons. One of the commonest of wrong reasons is that we want peace in order to establish our own nation (whatever nation that is) as "top dog." There have been such periods of peace in the world, when Egypt, or Macedonia, or Rome, or the British Empire, just sat on the rest of the world and maintained peace by threat of force, maintaining its own position at the top of the heap. The trouble with that kind of peace is that nobody likes it except the people on top of the pile. Sooner or later the people who have been sat on decide they've had enough—and the fight starts all over again.

The Things That Make For Peace

There are other bad motives for desiring a world at peace, but you can think of them without too much trouble. Let us look at another point. We do not hear of Jesus weeping often; but one of the rare occasions when he did cry was when he looked at his own capital city and wept over it. He saw in his mind's eye "the days . . . when your enemies will . . . surround you . . . and dash you to the ground" (Lk. 19:41-44). And why? "The things that make for peace are hid from your eyes." Peace does not glide down from heaven on a moonbeam. Peace has to be made and kept.

Prince of Peace

Nations neglecting these things are going down the road to war. But the most important thing remains to be said: The nation that neglects Christ is shutting itself off from peace, while the nation that is Christian is a strong force for peace. This is not just a matter of theology. It is not saying that if you believe articles one, two, etc., etc., you will never have a war. It is saying that the nation with an increasing number of citizens whose lives are truly Christlike, who honor him and follow him, is a nation which is more and more able to lead other nations in the way of peace.

A familiar sight . . . men with briefcases daily throng airports all over the nation, winging their way from one place to another. But where, really, are they going?

In this busy age of appointments, rush hours, and summit meetings, we search for success, for more money, for a better future, for a variety of things. Yet, like so many mid-twentieth century Americans, the harder we seek the less we find.

We need a job, a purpose, a home, a family. But also, we need a church. We need to go into that church to reaffirm our faith both in God and in our fellow beings. Only then does our quest—and our ultimate destination—begin to make sense.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—FL 7-1818

The Sunday School picnic held at a park on Cruises Creek was much enjoyed by those able to attend. Following the delicious noon meal, games were enjoyed by all—well, most all—for some enjoyed the talk-test. A meaningful vesper service was given by a number of young folks after which all were homeward bound.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Faulkner of Riggs Road, enjoyed a visit from their son, Cecil, Jr., and family of Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney were glad to learn that Harry Rees, who has been a patient in St. Elizabeth Hospital for a number of weeks, is now able to be up and about to a limited extent and is planning to come home at the end of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney were agreeably surprised Sunday afternoon to have as callers Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lipscomb of Covington. They report that Mrs. Sophronia Mills, who is presently with them, is doing as well as could be expected after her recent stay in Booth Hospital.

The W. S. C. S. will meet Thursday evening at eight at the home of Mrs. Cecil Faulkner, Riggs Road. We hope to have a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton and children were guests here over the weekend.

The meeting of the official board at the church Monday evening was fairly well attended and some worthwhile decisions made.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Keeney and sons had an enjoyable trip to Niagara Falls and on into Canada, returning on Thursday.

Pleased to learn that Lou Ervin is making steady progress toward recovery from a stroke suffered about a year ago.

George Binder, who spent a few days in St. Elizabeth Hospital last week, is slowly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Faulkner and son, George, recently attended a reunion of the Wade family at Castlewood Park, Lexington. Some 168 persons enjoyed the day together.

Baked Electrically

for almost nothing

Actually, it costs about a cent-and-a-half to bake a pie, electrically.

Why for just pennies...you can cook all day long on an electric range.

Compared to other modern methods used for cooking out beyond the city gas mains...electricity is still the least expensive of them all!

But it's about the only item in your household budget where pennies will buy so much convenience, comfort and enjoyment.

And your little electric friend Reddy Kilowatt reminds that we intend to keep it that way.

Mrs. Christine Nunnery has returned from her vacation at her son's home, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Nunnery of Hazard, and has brought with her a beautiful electric organ.

70,519 Soil Samples Tested For Farmers

Kentucky farmers had 70,519 soil samples tested in UK Cooperative Extension Service soils laboratories in 1959, the agronomy department reported this week.

Bert N. Driscoll, Extension Service soils specialist, said a check of the sample tests showed that approximately 60 percent of the state's soils need lime for most agronomic crops and that about 90 percent need lime for high-lime requirement crops. Areas with the largest proportion of acid soils (low lime level) were the Purchase and Western Coal Fields regions.

About 60 percent of the soils ranged from very low to medium in phosphorus levels, Driscoll said, and "very likely would give some response to added phosphate fertilizers, especially to phosphorus added in the row at planting time where high production is desired." All except the Blue Grass area were "dominantly low" in phosphorus, Driscoll said, with from 50 to 0 percent of the soils testing in the very low and low range.

Potassium was medium or below in approximately 70 percent of the samples, Driscoll said. The Purchase and Western Pennyroyal areas were generally lower in potassium than other areas.

There has been a gradual increase in acidity from 1956 to 1959, inclusive, a study of the samples showed, plus a gradual increase in percentage of soils in the very low, low and medium ratings for phosphorus and potassium.

WHY IS IT that industries of all kinds are being drawn to the Southland today from every direction? There are many reasons, of course. But we think the biggest attraction of all is an intangible thing, not easy to define...

It is the sincere hospitality with which the entire town greets a new industry in its midst, making the newcomer feel right at home.

It's the way the men and women of the community so readily adapt to the specific needs of the "new plant in town"...quickly and willingly learning new skills...eagerly giving a full day's work in return for a fair day's pay.

It's the friendly, unselfish spirit of men and women in all walks of life who are genuinely proud of their home town and want to help it grow and prosper in every way they can.

Time and again it has been shown that the people of the South don't stop at just wanting new industries to locate in their community. They work at it to get them - then go out of their way to keep them happy in their new home. This is the big attraction in the South. And all in the Southland benefit!

FARM BUREAU

Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

Noted Educator Gives Eight Reasons For Charter Change

Now that Farm Bureau is on record as favoring a vote "FOR" the calling of a constitutional convention, farm people want to know why they should vote for this proposal that will be on the ballot in the November election. Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president emeritus of the University of Kentucky, has outlined these eight major reasons for constitutional change:

1. The Kentucky Constitution is too long, and contains too much detail. It is five times longer than the U. S.

Constitution, and one of the longest state constitutions in the country. A constitution should be a basic framework for government—not a body of laws.

2. It is too difficult to amend. It requires at least seven years to re-write—only two amendments to it can be voted upon by the people at any one election. The procedure for amendment is too involved and takes too long.

3. It places too much restriction on the use of credit by the state. Section 49 prohibits a state debt in excess of $500,000. No large and thriving private business could operate under such a restriction.

4. It requires election of too many officers, and is too restrictive on officers succeeding themselves in office. We give the President of the U. S. the privilege of appointing his cabinet—why not the Governor of Kentucky?

5. There are too many restrictions on the courts. The present constitution limits the size of the Court of Appeals. Section 120 requires that the clerk of the Court of Appeals shall be elected by popular vote. There is no reason for such a procedure.

6. Makes annual elections necessary. Kentucky has more elections than any other state. The cost is prohibitive and unnecessary.

7. The limitation of salaries places a heavy hand of restriction on the ability of local and state government to attract and hold highly competent people.

8. It contains many ridiculous provisions, such as the oath against dueling—which are not serious within themselves, but which add to the overall antiquity of the document and point to the serious need for constitutional improvement.

THE BAFFLES

By Mahoney

ed 36 varieties, the others 25. Highest yielding at the five locations was an Ohio experimental variety with 47.5 bushels an acre average. Varieties tested were the recommended ones for Kentucky, plus others from Missouri, Indiana, New York, Ohio, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

Of the five Kentucky-recommended varieties, Dual was the highest in yield in the five-location test, with an average of 45.4 bushels an acre. The others were Todd, 43.8; Knox, 42.1; Vermillion, 41, and Vigo, 40.8. A new Indiana variety, Monon, seed of which will be increased this year for Kentucky use, averaged 45.4 bushels. Two other tested varieties, Clarkon and LePorte, averaged yields of 40.5 and 43.6 bushels, respectively.

Finker said Triumph, a hard red wheat, a type NOT recommended for Kentucky use because of marketing difficulties, averaged 36.5 bushels an acre.

The recommended soft reds still are the best for Kentucky use, Finker pointed out. He urged farmers to use certified seed of these varieties for maximum yield and stand.

Pelleted, Flaked Corn Works Well

Kentucky farmers finishing beef steers in dry lot might think about using pelleted or flaked corn in the ration, says Neil Bradley, UK Experiment Station beef researcher. Steers on either produced more gain than did control steers eating regular ground corn.

Bradley and Dudley Arnett, who conducted the test, said the pelleted corn in the ration increased average daily gain 0.36 pounds a day over the control group, and that the "pelleted-corn" steers used 1.48 lbs. less corn for each 100 lbs. of gain. The flaked corn in the ration increased the average daily gain 0.41 lbs. per steer per day over the controls and the "flaked corn" steers used 134 pounds less feed than the controls for each 100 pounds gain.

The researchers said the test showed that cattle feeders probably could use the pelleting or flaking system profitably. This is because the process resulted in from 12 to 14 percent better feed efficiency (conversion of feed into meat) and better daily gains. The steers on pelleted corn averaged 2.31 pounds daily gain; those on flaked corn, 2.36 pounds and the control lot, 1.95 pounds.

Cost of the pelleted corn was $2.95 a hundredweight, for the flaked $3.60 a hundred, and for the ground corn, $2.16 a hundred.

Carcass grades of the 40 test animals were not affected by any of the treatments, Bradley said; likewise, pelleting of distillers' dried grains with solubles in a fourth trial ration had no beneficial effect; this lot averaged only 1.95 pounds daily gain, with cost of $0.50 a hundred for the pelleting.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By GU KINGSBURY

Minister's Daughter:

When you're the daughter of a Methodist minister you get accustomed to traveling from place to place, meeting new people and adjusting to new situations.

Perhaps that's the reason Miss Christine Johnson, a Kentuckian in Washington, is a success at her latest assignment. She's the secretary to the Secretary of the United States Senate.

Brother in Politics:

To further identify Miss Johnson, let us report here and now that she's the sister of a former governor, Keen Johnson, who now seeks to go to the United States Senate.

Many Kentuckians, of course, will remember Christine as her brother's secretary when he was Kentucky's chief executive back in the late 30's and early 1940's. If Governor Johnson is elected to the Senate, his sister will again be an employee—shared, of course, by 99 other senators.

14 Years On the Hill:

Miss Johnson came to Washington back in 1946 as an aide in the Department of Labor. Then, three years later, she joined the staff of Congressman Tom Underwood. She remained on the job when the congressman became Senator.

In spite of all the years of political activity, Miss Johnson shuns public speaking. The most persuasive campaign, she believes, is the person-to-person approach.

Prefers State Politics:

Miss Johnson also prefers state politics to activity on the national level. You know the problems and the people better, she explains.

What if Governor Johnson is elected in November? Will she take a job in his office? She won't predict. But she does say—with emphasis—that she's a slave driver and she worked harder in the Governor's office than she did in any other job.

New oil furnace developed by Iron Fireman...revolutionizes oil heating...greatest advance in years!

Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace with instant clean flame. Unequaled for clean comfort, low fuel bills and trouble-free performance

Comfort

With the Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnace you have a supersensitive thermostat which operates the furnace with the slightest variation of room temperature. This gives you shorter, more frequent firing periods, with remarkably uniform indoor temperature. No matter how often the furnace starts, the flame instantly burns clean—no smoke, no soot, no fouled combustion chamber, no wasted oil.

Trouble-free operation

Cuts service calls to the vanishing point. No burner adjustment required; no draft troubles; no soot-fouled furnace or carbon clogged nozzle.

Operates without chimney draft

The CUSTOM Mark II furnace provides its own positive induced draft with precision control. No natural chimney draft required.

Cleanliness

With the instant clean flame there are no flecks of soot blowing from your chimney or escaping into your home. Hundreds of tests made with smoke-detecting instruments show a flame that's absolutely clean from the very moment it's turned on.

Down go fuel bills

Owners of Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnaces report remarkable fuel savings. Instant clean flame eliminates wasteful smoky warm-up period.

Quiet

The easy-burning globular flame is a pleasant change from the blowtorch roar of the conventional oil burner. Fan has resilient mountings to dampen vibration and is sized for large capacity at low, quiet speeds.

Brucellosis Testing Virtually Completed In Kenton County

The Kenton County Brucellosis testing program was virtually completed Friday, Sept. 9. Stanley Bird, county chairman, said that every effort had been made to contact every cattle owner in Kenton county. Mr. Bird has requested that any person knowing of herds that were missed by the veterinarians to contact him or the county agricultural agent. Plans have been made to test any herds that were missed when the veterinarians return to test "suspect" animals. The veterinarians have indicated that it would be approximately a month before these tests could be made.

Preliminary reports of blood samples that have been analyzed show the county was apparently a host of one percent of the animals being diseased. To achieve certification, the county must have less than two percent of animals affected. County leaders are working to bring the county's low rate of infection.

Fall Is Good Time To Have Soil Tested Says County Agent

Fall is the time to have your soil tested for your crops in 1961. Planning ahead will save time and money according to Joe Claxton, Boone county agricultural agent.

And now about liming the soil. A lot of people would make more money if they used more lime. Now is a wonderful time to put the lime on if a good soil test shows you need more lime. By putting lime on now it has a good chance to soak in or, to neutralize the soil before next spring. A properly limed soil uses fertilizer more efficiently and produces larger crop yields.

More than half of our Kentucky soils are too acid for top crop production and would produce more if they had more lime. Tobacco does not require a great deal of lime but some of our soils are too acid for best tobacco production.

Soils get in an acid condition because the lime dissolves or leaches out in water or it is taken up in the crop and when the crop is removed the lime is removed. Another thing that makes soils acid is the continued use of fertilizers containing ammonia, nitrates and sulfates.

The amount of money you get back by liming depends on the crop you are growing and how badly you need the lime. Alfalfa and clovers greatly give soil a return in grasses. In most cases we get back four or five dollars for each dollar we put in lime and often it pays much better than that.

Bring soil samples to the County Agent's office, Bank Building, Burlington.

COOPERATION Is a Kentucky tradition!

SEWING CIRCLES . . .

OR APPLIANCE CENTERS

The ladies, God bless them, love to get together at sewing circles. That's where they exchange recipes, trade a little harmless gossip, discuss everything from old schools to new hats and, to their everlasting glory, pitch in to do the sewing chores of an ailing neighbor. It's a tradition to do things like that here in Kentucky . . . the oldest tradition we have . . . helping out a neighbor.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. The electrical appliances that help make the drudgery out of homemaking on the farm are symbols of that cooperation. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops . . . created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves . . . show how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited, too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in the cities and towns.

Rural Electricity Benefits Everyone

brings electricity to 9,059 rural families in Pendleton, Carroll, Grant, Campbell, Owen, Boone, Gallatin, Scott and Kenton counties.

there's more to be seen...

Deep in the human heart is the desire for greater and wider vision. It prompted early man to climb the trees and to scale the peaks. Every year it lures thousands to the top of the Empire State Building. It inspired the telescope and microscope, and eventually radar.

Similar to this yearning for vision, yet sacred in its powerful prompting, has been man's spiritual quest. Although there is much natural evidence around us to prove there is a God, we want to understand His mind, His power and will... His heart!

No human inventions are needed here. In the Church established by Jesus Christ, in the Truth taught by Jesus Christ, in the Life inspired by Jesus Christ—each of us finds that wider vision his soul craves.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

YES... HOW ELSE but by railroad could the giant steel tank pictured above, measuring 132 feet in length, 7 1/4 feet in diameter and weighing 189,200 pounds, be shipped?

It's the same old story. When there's a really man-sized transportation job to be done, there's still just one form of transportation that can always be depended upon to do the task - the railroads!

For in contrast to our subsidized competitors who can pick and choose what they haul, the Southern - like all railroads - is a true common carrier. We serve anyone at any time for any freight that must be moved - be it large, small or in between. And in any weather, too!

This all-purpose, any-weather transportation service is indispensable to America's peacetime economy and vital to national defense in time of emergency.

Here on the Southern it is contributing to - and it is keeping pace with - the amazing industrial development of the young and fast-growing territory we serve. All in the South benefit!

Methodist W.C.S.C. Meets The Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met in the church for the September meeting. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Helen Welsh, Mrs. Mildred Daggett, vice-president, presided.

Following the business session, Miss Mary Lena Wisehart, Southeastern Jurisdictional Secretary of Supply Work, was presented as speaker for the evening.

Miss Wisehart first read from the Discipline of the Methodist Church the purpose of the organization. The purposes stated were to unite all the women of the church in Christian living and service; to develop and support Christian work among women and children around the world; to develop the spiritual life; to study the needs of the world; to take part in service activities as will strengthen the local church, and inspire civic, community and world conditions.

Her talk helped each local member of the society to understand how this purpose is reflected in the overall program of the organization, helped to deepen appreciation of the purpose of the Woman's Society and to inspire fresh commitment of oneself and one's resources in the endeavor to fulfill this purpose.

Mrs. Ann Penn presented an inspiring spiritual life program, and Mrs. Mary Stephenson served as the hostess. Seventeen members and two guests were present.

Miss Donna Wright spent Saturday in Covington with her grandfather, Mr. Ben Wright.

Evergreens May Outgrow Your Plans; Check Before Buying

Find out how a certain type of evergreen will look when it is full-grown before you decide to buy. N. R. Elliott, UK Extension horticulturist, Lexington, September is the best time to plant evergreens; those plants that will look well around your home not only this year but several years from now.

Buying evergreens from a reliable nursery will save you money in the long run—and you can depend on them to give you trustworthy answers to your questions, he points out. Ask for definite information about height and spread of plants and whether they are adapted to your location.

Plan where the evergreens will be planted before you go plant-shopping. Then make sure before you buy that you are getting an evergreen that will grow well and look well in this spot when it is mature.

Ranch-type houses are well-suited for low-growing evergreens, he notes. However, "low-growing" means different heights for different plants; ask for definite heights, not general descriptions. For example, low-growing plants such as the spreading Taxus or Pritzer's Juniper often are set in front of a low porch, 18 to 20 inches above the ground. These plants, when grown, will be from 4 to 8 feet high. No amount of pruning will hold them down to porch level.

Although Hemlock and Norway Spruce are attractive when they are 4 to 8 feet tall, both will grow into trees instead of pruning. If you plan to use these as foundation-plantings of house corners, remember that in 10 to 12 years you will have to move them; they will grow too tall for this purpose.

Buy varieties that do not burn easily for planting on the south or southwest side of the house. Junipers, for example, suffer when planted where they are subject to a lot of heat from the sun. Check soil drainage, too, Elliott recommends. Junipers and pines prefer a soil that drains well.

The Wa-Na Woman's Club held its first monthly meeting at the 1960-61 year at the Walton Christian Church, September 14.

Guest speakers were James Wuenker and Dave Baker, both from the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company. Mr. Wuenker spoke of the community development program to be held at the Walton-Verona High School on September 22, and asked everyone to attend and support the movement. Mr. Baker gave a humorous and interesting talk on "The Magic of Light."

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Leonard Cook, Jr., president, with the pledge to the flag and the club collect. Roll was called and reports given.

Spiritual guidance was given by Mrs. Harry Henson reading from St. Matthew, and Romans.

The twenty-four guests and twenty-three members present were: Mrs. Richard Bachmeyer, Mrs. Paul Belgrave, Mrs. Orlando Christy, Mrs. J. Franklin Daugherty, Mrs. James J. McElroy, Mrs. Henson, Mrs. Clayton Jones, Mrs. D. L. Back-To-School Safety Stressed by National Council

Consider, as back-to-school time is here, these five facts from the National Safety Council:

1. Accidents are the leading cause of death to school-age children.
2. More than 500 children 5-14 years of age are killed annually in accidents involving motor vehicles.
3. More than 1,100 of these children are injured each year.
4. A total of 150,000 children 5-14 are injured each year in motor vehicle mishaps.
5. One out of 12 students injured in a "school-jouridicant" accident is on his way to or from school.

Solution to the problem?

"Parents," the National Safety Council says, "should teach their children to stop, look and listen before crossing streets or railroad tracks. It's not old-fashioned to be safe. Parents, too, should practice what they preach."

Some suggestions:

1. Keep your child in good condition. Watch your brakes and tires.

2. Drive slowly near schools — slow down where children are walking or playing.

3. Expect the unexpected from children.

Kenton County 4-H Club Winners At Ky. State Fair

Saturday, September 10 might almost have been called Kenton County Day at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville. Fifty-two 4-H club members, 4-H leaders and friends of 4-H went as a group and greeted other friends and neighbors all day.

Rain dampened the midway but not the spirits of the people, so the livestock area, exhibition wing and produce exhibits in the stadium drew large crowds. A footrace and dance group returned—in the rain—filled with pride for Kenton county exhibits and with challenges to do a bigger and better job of 4-H project work next year.

The State Fair acts as a show case for the state. A place where industry meets agriculture, farm meets city, young people meet adults and each learns from the other and gains greater understanding of the part each plays in our modern world.

Muskmelons are natives of Iran and other surrounding areas south of the Himalayas. The oldest record of the plant dates back to 2400 B. C. in Egypt. The popular U. S. variety the netted or rutmeg muskmelon, is commonly called the cantaloup. Although all cantaloups are muskmelons, not all muskmelons are cantaloups. Honeydew, Honeyball, Persian, Casaba, and Crenshaw melons are all muskmelons.

What Is Good?

Lesson for September 25, 1960

DIFFERENT kinds of Christians argue about doctrine, but they do not argue so much about what is good and right to do. One of the most famous passages in the entire Bible is up for study this week. Some of its great words have been inscribed in Roman Catholic cathedrals, in Unitarian churches, in Protestant sanctuaries. We have to agree with one another here, because the Bible speaks on so plainly a point as plainly we cannot dodge it.

Dr. Foreman

What Do We Mean By "Good?"

Everybody uses the word "good" but not everybody stops to think what it exactly means. It certainly means more than "I like it." We know what we call good, but why do we call it that? And there good which deserves the name whether we recognize it or not? What we really want to know, when we are serious about all this, is what God calls good. Now this is not a new question. Many centuries ago the prophet Micah faced "good" people who felt that somehow they had failed to please God. They asked, in effect, What does God really want us to do? If we could figure that out, then of course that would be the good, for God is not going to be satisfied with anything less. They were religious enough to see that much, though Micah had to help them over the bridge to a fuller understanding.

The People vs. God

Micah does this dramatically. He imagines a court room as big as all outdoors. Judges are the mountains, the "enduring foundations of the earth," symbols of eternal justice. God first asks what his people have against him. He reviews their history, reminds them of how his providence has led and protected them so long. Then the people speak—is it a little desperately? What does the Lord desire? They ask. We offer sacrifices, isn't that enough? Is God insatiable, does he demand always more and bigger sacrifices? Instead of a few gallons of olive oil a year, shall we pour rivers of oil on God's altar? Instead of one ram sacrificed at one time, will he be better pleased with a thousand?

He Has Showed You What Is Good

Then comes the voice (some think it is the prophet's, others think it is the verdict of the "everlasting hills") bringing the decision of truth. Some one has pointed out that Micah does not offer a solution of his own. He points (without using their names) to the three other great prophets of his own day, Amos, Hosea, and Isaiah. Amos' key-thought was Justice; Hosea's was Mercy (or "steadfast love"); and Isaiah's was Humility. God has showed you (Israel) by these three prophets what "GOOD" is. You do not need another prophet to tell you. Just these three things: Justice, kindness, a humble spirit before God. If ever any one tries to tell you that religion is so complicated that only professors can understand it, show them this sentence from Micah. If any one claims that religion is a lot of stupid Do's and Don'ts, make them read these simple words.

Too Simple?

Some Bible readers feel a little let down at this point. "If 'good' is so hard for men to define, how much more mysterious it must be as God sees it! Surely there must be something more, something bigger than this! Well, but what is bigger than justice, what is greater than steadfast love, what is better than humility in the presence of God? These are not little items picked from a long list of little items. These are very big things. You can live a long life working out the meaning of justice and mercy and humility. Besides, you will notice that Micah does not claim that is all there is to religion. What he does claim is these are the Musts. Without these three, everything else goes sour. On this foundation much can be built. This is the ground-floor of Good. But without this foundation, no house of life can be called good, for it will not stand.

Precision in a Pipe Organ

You know what precision it requires to build a bridge, or an engine, or a watch. The same exactness goes into the construction of a pipe organ.

But the men who make pipe organs, like all others who build, have a feeling for the USE of their product.

An organ will lead hundreds in their worship of God. It will support a talented choir in the rendition of a sacred cantata. Or it will blend with a host of untrained voices to raise a stirring hymn to God. It will sing softly while Christians commune, or thunder majestically a great recessional.

And yet this valuable organ whose creation requires such skill and precision is secondary in the life of the Church. It is simply an instrument, like this weekly advertisement, to help the Church fulfill its Mission. That Mission is to lead you, and your family, and your world, to the Lord.

When the organ calls men to worship — be there!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Fall Clothing For Children Is Pretty, Practical

Fashion trends show up in children's clothes as well as in adult wardrobes. Here's what you can expect to find when shopping for children's cool weather clothes, according to Mrs. Rachel Rowland Wallace, UK Extension clothing specialist, Lexington.

Bulky sweaters, tunic, provincial or "quaint" look, car coats, dropped waistlines, pleated skirts, princess leather (real and plastic), fur (real and fake), corduroy, plaid, washable, these terms describe clothes for the youngsters, from tots to teens, she says.

Many fall fashions for children follow an adult lead, such as a stronger Continental look in little boys' clothes. Others are an outgrowth of adult fashions, changed to suit the younger set; an example is the combination of smock and pants. Washability and easy up-keep are featured, with cotton and Dacron blends, special finishes for wool and corduroy, and washable pile linings and plastic foam backings in coats.

The newest colors for infants and toddlers by the usual pastels for more muted, muted greens, greyed blues, and vintage reds and blues. Leather-like fabrics (usually washable vinyl plastic) in snowsuits range from pale to brilliant colors. Furry and furry fabrics, usually easy-care synthetics, form trimmings and linings as well as entire suits. Even infants' sweaters have the bulky look; most are Orlon.

The provincial theme in toddlers' dresses is led by gingham checks and calico prints, Mrs. Wallace reports. Lace, big white collars, puff sleeves, aprons and overskirts also help put across the "quaint" look. The tunic dress is popular; it acts as a neat cover-up, partly replacing the old favorite apron and pinafore dress.

A trend toward the dressy, following classic lines, shows up in girls' sizes. Suits range from broad-bound jackets over dark plaid cotton jumpers to velvet-accents paired with woolen or wool-like blends. "Best" dresses are shown in velvet or velveteen. Features of the provincial style for girls are similar to the toddlers' on a more grown-up scale.

Skirts for girls are pleated and often plaid. The shaggy-look sweater is very popular. The basic coat style is still the boy coat, often trimmed with braid or lined with fake fur. Leather and synthetic leather coats are popular choices, too, she notes.

Clothes for sub-teens tend toward the "beatnik" look. Shaggy, oversized sweaters look "beat," and hide bulges in the wrong places. Black, the basic "beatnik" color, and gold are the two best colors; corduroy is the most popular fabric.

The sub-teen tunic dress is a classic style, often square-necked and full-skirted. Solid-color tunics are practical since they can be worn over last year's dresses to make new outfits, Mrs. Wallace points out. The loden duffel coat leads in a wide range of three-quarter coats featured specially for sub-teens.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON
By Gil Klegbury

Hard To Figure:

The medical care bill which just passed Congress is a hard one to figure out—who benefits, when and how. It does appear certain that more older folks will get some help.

According to Uncle Sam, Kentucky had about 57,000 senior citizens on old age assistance on January 1 of this year. It is assumed that those folks, plus others, will come under the bill.

Misleading:

Figures given out can be misleading. You might believe that Kentuckians live longer than those in most other states.

For example, there are 205 old age payment recipients for every 1000 Kentuckians. However, here is the gimmick. Economic conditions might be better elsewhere and fewer old folks get government aid.

The figure varies widely. In New Jersey, 38 persons out of each 1000 get federal or state old age help. In Louisiana the number jumps to a massive 572.

Little Glory:

Not much glory came out of the bob-tail session of Congress. A lot of people said there was more politics in Washington than in either political convention.

The lower house had a tough time getting a quorum during the first days. However, Kentucky lawmakers were not to blame. They were on hand.

In spite of all that, the recent session did not set a record for absenteeism. The first Congress—back in 1789—took 28 days to muster enough members to get to work.

Birthday Greetings:

The senate worked longer than the house but lawmakers did take time out to praise Lyndon Johnson, the majority leader and vice presidential candidate. He was called by one member the greatest leader since that "great Kentuckian, Henry Clay."

However, a few Republicans, with tongue in cheek, hoped that Senator Johnson would be back in January to serve again as majority leader. It was all in fun—for a change.

Flower and Lawn Tips Are Given For September

September is the time to prepare your shrubs, flowers and lawn for winter, according to N. R. Elliott, U. K. Extension horticulturist, Lexington. He gives some suggestions for this month.

Prepare soil now to set bulbs late this month or early in October. Loosen the soil about 9 inches deep; he recommends. The bulbs should be planted deep enough so they will not come up when winter days are warm; this applies to bulbs that are lifted and divided as well as to new bulbs.

CULL COWS THIS FALL

Worried about the supply of winter feed for the dairy operation this winter? Is it a shorter supply than you had anticipated?

If it is, Joe Clawson, Boone county agricultural agent, says it might be a good time to consider culling. Culling inefficient cows is at least a partial solution to a feed-shortage situation, and now is a good time to sell culls as they bring higher prices. Many cows will be going dry soon and if they are unprofitable animals, it would be well to sell them before the fall and winter feeding season starts.

A check for 2% of the amount of the total of the extensions must accompany all bids.

CARD OF THANKS--

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all those who showed me kindness during my recent stay in the hospital. 99 OUT OF EVERY 100 OIL FURNACE OWNERS ARE WASTING OIL ARE YOU ONE OF THEM?

It's quite possible... but it's not your fault or the fault of your oil burner. Because until about two years ago there just wasn't a residential oil burner on the market that accurately generated and controlled the supply of air for combustion. Chimney height... erratic wind conditions... firebox temperatures... loss of heat up the stack... ALL were varying factors which caused inefficient firing and high fuel bills.

Now users report savings up to 33%—and even more—with a new oil furnace developed by Iron Fireman

This amazing new Iron Fireman furnace is called the CUSTOM Mark II. It generates its own combustion air supply. Utilizing VoluMetric Combustion, it burns oil vapor and the oxygen in the air in just the right proportions for smokeless firing. The fire starts clean and burns clean, with no soot or smoke. With clean electrodes, nozzle and interior heating surfaces, the causes of most service calls are eliminated.

Stop paying for heat you're not getting! Let us show you how much an Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II can save for you. Phone for a free folder giving complete information. No obligation whatever.

Total output of all red meat this year is expected to be about 27.9 billion pounds—2% above last year. Due to smaller imports and the population increase, per person supplies will dip about a pound from the 160 pounds consumed last year. Decline in pork will offset increases in beef and veal.

N. Ky. Farm Bureau Favors A Limited Const'l Convention

The Northern Kentucky District Farm Bureau went on record as favoring the calling of a Limited Constitutional Convention at their meeting September 22. The meeting of delegates from the Farm Bureau organizations of the Northern Kentucky counties was held at the St. J. church in Kenton county. It was stressed that a favorable action on November 8 would only call a non-partisan convention for studying the 12 areas to which the group has been limited by Kentucky's highest court. Recommended revisions, if any would be voted on again by the voters of Kentucky approximately four years from now.

Text of the resolution adopted by the group was as follows:

Whereas, Kentucky's present constitution was drafted in 1890, in an era when life's pace was slower, and

Whereas, Kentucky's economic, social and political conditions have changed, and

Whereas, the 70-year-old constitution today hinders the progress of the commonwealth and places stumbling blocks in the way of both economic and social development,

Therefore, be it resolved that the Northern Kentucky District Farm Bureau takes due recognition of these changing times and the inadequacies of the document of the 19th Century, and

Be it further resolved, that the Northern Kentucky District Farm Bureau takes added recognition of the need and desirability of a change in the charter of our state government, and

Be it further resolved, that the Northern Kentucky District Farm Bureau goes on record approving the calling of a state constitutional convention limited to 12 defined areas as set forth in the call of the General Assembly and urges all citizens to take such steps as are necessary to call such a convention so that Kentucky may adjust her charter to the demands of the 20th Century.

Walton Preparing for Industrial Growth

Mass Meeting Held At Local School Last Thursday

The purpose of the industrial meeting held Thursday, September 22 at the Walton-Vernon School was to suggest to the citizens of our city, how they might organize and carry through a program of action for community, industrial and economic development. Close to sixty of the community's residents were in attendance.

The meeting was opened with the showing of a film entitled "Plan for Prosperity." This film dealt with the story of two communities. One community had a plan for its future and followed it through with very successful results. The other community failed to have such a plan and suffered economic reversals rather than growth. Following the showing of the film, they discussed several of the key factors brought out in the film. These were the need to organize, the need to develop a plan, the need to make the plan work, the need for planning and zoning and the awareness of the fact that just a few interested citizens can accomplish this task if they have the support of the community.

Requirements of Industry

Discussion was then held on the various factors that industry looks for in any community. These factors are location, transportation, utilities, labor, sites and existing buildings, planning and zoning, type of government, churches, schools, recreation, police and fire protection, community attitude, main street modernization, attractive residential areas and others.

Walton Then Analyzed

Walton was then analyzed in accordance with each of these factors in order to point out its strengths and weaknesses. Certain of the advantageous factors among others are location, transportation, labor, good potential sites, utilities, and a planning and zoning commission with a planner assigned to this commission. Areas that need attention are a community survey in connection with the development of a community brochure by the Department of Economic Development in Frankfort, putting a planning and zoning program into effect and making it work, development of a sewage system, main street modernization, and others.

12-Member Committee Suggested

first step to develop a plan for the city was to organize a 12-member committee representing a cross section of the community and working on a voluntary basis. This committee would not duplicate the efforts of either the city officials or the planning and zoning commission, but rather would work in cooperation with them and be of assistance to them. This committee would also work on such projects as the community survey, labor survey, main street modernization, sewer program, development of industrial sites and handling of industrial prospects.

Three Local Men Named

members of this committee and to have the responsibility of expanding the committee to somewhere between 12 and 20 members. This committee would then meet and plan a program of action. Following this, they would call another town meeting and report this plan to the citizens for their support and endorsement. At this time this committee to somewhere between and John Maddox were nominated to serve as these three members.

The meeting was concluded by those in attendance unanimously supporting the selection of these three men and also unanimously endorsing the idea offered for the organizing of a plan for action and future economic growth. Mr. James Wuerker, Industrial Development representative of Union Light, Heat and Power Co. was responsible for presenting the program for which everyone there gave him thanks.

WALTON BAPTIST "DREAMS" Coming True—The above picture is the $250,000 building planned for now and in the future.

The congregation of First Baptist Church employed Mr. E. C. Langberg of Cincinnati, to be the architect for their new educational plant and sanctuary, which was voted upon about a year ago. The detailed plans for this construction was received by the church on September 15.

The building will be constructed in three phases. The first to be built will be an educational unit joining the present building. The additional space will provide for approximately 700 people. The second phase, which will consist of church offices, choir room, and other facilities, will be completed along with the new sanctuary, some time in the future.

The church voted in business session Wednesday, September 21, to let bids for the first phase of this construction in February, 1961. The church hopes to break ground as soon as possible in the spring of 1961. The cost of this first unit is estimated in the vicinity of $120,000.00.

Those who are serving on the building committee during the construction of these new facilities are: Opol (Dude) Simpson, Jr., J. B. McCubbin, Henry Fornash, and Mrs. Bryan Rector. Dude Simpson is serving as chairman of this committee.

This new construction will enable the church to increase the facilities of its overall ministry to the community. Bro. J. R. Tackett, the pastor, along with the members of the congregation anxiously await the day that construction begins.

'61 CHEVY TRUCKS

WITH WORK-PROVED
INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!

Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more... the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!

You'll find new models for '61—long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive units—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on owner reports) that Chevy's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades! With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.

Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around the block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

God Is Great

Lesson for October 2, 1960

WHEN you read those words, "God is great," what did you think? One thing you might have thought was, "Why of course. Who would be interested in a little God?" Well, some people have been interested in little gods; but this was only when they pictured in their minds a large number of Gods. Some of these might be little, not much more than fairies or ghosts. But people who believe in little gods and lots of them (like primitive Africans for example) can't get along along without believing also in some high God reigning over all the others.

Indeed, a famous definition of God went something like this: "That being than whom no greater can be conceived." If you could conceive of a greater, that would show you were not yet thinking of the true God.

God Is No Particular Size

"God is big!" The word "big" refers to size. God is Spirit, and Spirit does not come in sizes. What size is your own spirit, for instance? You do not know and it would be ridiculous to get out a tape-measure or a slide-rule to measure your inmost self. The greatness of God means that every quality he has, he has to the utmost and highest and most intense degree. No one and nothing surpasses him. Is it power? Then he is more powerful than all other powers together. Is it love? No other love can compare with his. Is it wisdom, justice? His is supreme. To be sure, there is one sense in which we might almost say that God is big. That is, in the sense that we can never run away from him. People everywhere are wondering what strange creatures spacemen may find on far-away planets. One thing is sure; they will not find a strange God, for there is only one; and they will not find a planet where God is not.

Sit down by yourself some day and think of the greatness of God the Creator. He is not just "the Man upstairs," he is not a somebody, he is not one item in the catalogue of the things in the universe. You and I might be items in that catalogue, but not He. He made the catalogue, he alone knows what is in it; for he alone made all things. This does not mean that he brought everything into existence all at once, or in a week or in a million years. This present universe of the year 1960 is not exactly the same, indeed in many ways not at all the same, that it was one hundred million years ago. Nevertheless, when the Bible speaks of God the Creator it speaks of a God whose will it was, and is, that these things, all these things, this tremendous and unimaginable universe, have come into being. The God to whom we pray is not a god who sits idly in his heaven watching an earth and a universe that was made he knows not how.

Great in Providence

When the writer of Psalm 8 thinks of God's greatness, his mind turns at once to the stars, then to man, and then to the animals of this planet. He thinks of God in terms of what he has done for man. But the writer of Psalm 104 has a different slant. His mind moves from creation to providence, or in other words, while Psalm 8 speaks in terms of mighty deeds-for-all acts of God, the poet of Psalm 104 thinks of God in relation to everyday events, out-of-sight obscure events, most of which have nothing at all to do with man. The main point to see here is that God is as great in providence as he is in creation. God started the world, he invented it as C. S. Lewis says. But he also acts within it, there is no part of it to which he can be denied admittance. He is not like a king or a president who cannot attend nearly all the events to which they are invited. Invited or not, God attends all events. Look with the writer of Psalm 104 at the mountain springs, at the wild beasts drinking, the birds flying in the treetops, the rain on the mountains—in all these things not less than in the overwhelming ones, we see the greatness of the one true God.

FROM NOW ON...

What a strange feeling it gave me, the first time Laura went to school! As I watched her, I realized that these were her first independent steps. From this day forward, she would be increasingly on her own.

I don't think I ever felt my responsibility as a mother as much as I did at that moment. Had I given her the proper foundation to meet the trials, the temptations and frustrations that are kn inevitable part of even a school child's life? Had I done enough for her?

Being human, I probably hadn't. But there was one thing I had done. From the beginning, I had made the Church a part of Laura's life.

You can't shelter your children from harsh reality. But you can, through the teachings of the Church, help them face life with strength and faith, giving them the assurance that God is ever-present.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

P. T. A.'s Seek New Members In The U.S. — And Overseas

When in Rome—or Oslo or Athens, Fontainebleau or Karlsruhe, Addis Ababa or Reykjavik—American parents and teachers do just about as they do at home: they form a P.T.A.

More than 42,000 P.T.A. members in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers this fall will join in the annual October Membership Month of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Like their nearly 12 million counterparts on U.S. soil, these P.T.A. members who live overseas—from Iceland to the Middle East, most of them American military bases—will encourage others to "serve where you are: join the P.T.A."

Serving the welfare of American children, wherever they are growing up, is the primary object of the National Congress. It has brought the P.T.A. into many areas of activity during its 67-year history. Since formation of the European branch in 1958, these activities have taken on new flavor:

A European program of scholarships, similar to those provided by many state congresses in the United States, this year awarded $500 against tuition to American colleges for seven students; they were graduates of American overseas schools in Nouasseur, Morocco; Stuttgart, Berlin, Bitburg, and Heidelberg, Germany; and Vienna, Italy.

—Concerned, like other P.T.A.'s, with the interests of mentally and physically handicapped children, the European Congress has initiated a program of special class instruction for these youngsters, providing the funds for additional teacher assistants, helpers, and materials to be used in some 20 schools.

—Foreign language education, a natural interest for children whose parents are assigned overseas, has been a major interest of P.T.A.'s in the European Congress. In Air Force schools, extending from Oslo to Libya and from the British Isles to Saudi Arabia, children in grades 3 through 8 are taking classes in foreign language this year.

—Adult education programs of the P.T.A., which in the U.S.

The midst of Europe's Bavarian Alps—it's a P.T.A. meeting. Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, confers with Fred L. Miller, coordinator for P.T.A.'s in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers, during conference in Berchtesgaden, Germany. Some 140 parent-teacher associations in Europe, Northern Africa, and the Middle East will join this fall in programs to enroll more than 12,000 parents, teachers, and friends of children as P.T.A. members.

usually take the form of study-discussion groups, may become adult self-education in overseas areas, where American military, government or civilian members of P.T.A.'s take advantage of opportunities for learning the language of the country and for studying its cultural assets.

As these P.T.A. members, both teachers and parents, return from overseas assignments, they bring broader understanding of other countries to their state-side colleagues.

"This is one great contribution our European members can make," says Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, who acted as a consultant to the American Congress when she attended their convention last April.

"Overseas P.T.A.'s," she points out, "bring to American boys and girls living in other parts of the world some of the home and school experiences they would be enjoying if they lived in the United States."

"The richest result is the relationship between parents and teachers; there is a closer relationship in a foreign environment, because they have many unusual experiences in common."

The National Congress has always recognized, she says, "that great differences exist among the states and communities," and still greater ones in overseas communities. But the National Congress program "allows abundant room for choice" of projects for local P.T.A.'s, serving "as a bank or reservoir of ideas from which the local unit draws to suit its needs."

In its membership programs this October, the P.T.A. card will become "a passport to the best society on earth," says Mrs. Parker, "an organization working in hundreds of ways to create a better world, working for the welfare of all children, for the handicapped, the gifted, the migrant, the delinquent, the average, for all children whether they live in cities, suburbs, rural areas, or on military bases abroad—an organization that cares about the homes children live in, the schools they are taught in, and the neighborhoods they grow up in."

Officers and chairmen participated by giving pertinent facts about their respective duties.

In giving the devotional reading, Mrs. W. C. Whitten mentioned the fact that parents working in the P.T.A. are working for the benefit of all children not just one.

RECC Board of Directors Favors Road Bond Issue

The Board of Directors of the Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation this week adopted by unanimous vote a resolution in favor of Kentucky's one hundred million dollar road bond issue.

The resolution came after the directors heard a talk by Henry Ward, newly-appointed State Highway Commissioner, in which Ward said that he believed the state's additional income would be more than the amount required to retire the bonds.

The added income would be provided by the increased travel on Kentucky's highways and from additional tourist trade, Ward said.

"Although I am here to answer your questions and not to sell you on the program, I believe that when you understand the program you will want to support the Department of Highways and influence others to do the same," the speaker stated.

"This program is an important part of the economic growth of your state," Ward told the directors. He explained that 90 million dollars would be used for roads and 10 million for parks. "The state park system and the highway department go hand in hand when we think of improvements for our state," the commissioner concluded.

USDA Announces Its Revised Farm Housing Regulations

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced August 2 change in regulations governing farm housing loans made under Title V of the Housing Act of 1949.

Samuel T. Harrison, County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration at Williamstown, said that effective immediately a farmer who owns a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400 worth of commodities based on 1944 prices, if he meets other eligibility requirements, may be able to obtain a farm housing loan.

Previously to be eligible an applicant had to own a farm that would produce a substantial amount of the operator's income.

Farm housing loans are made by USDA's Farmers Home Administration and are used to construct and repair needed farm houses and farm service buildings. USDA said its experience demonstrates that there are farmers who can properly use and repay this type of credit but whose income from farming operations does not constitute a substantial part of their total income.

Applications for housing loans will be made at the office of Mr. Harrison, County Supervisor for Boone, Grant and Kenton counties. The local office is over the Grant County Deposit Bank, Williamstown. Sub-offices are located upstairs in the Courthouse in Independence, and at the office of the County Clerk at Burlington.

6.8 Pct. In Boone Get Social Security

Senator John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) said today that new Census and Social Security figures for Boone county show that 6.8% of its population receives Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance benefits.

1,487 persons in the county now receive a total of $82,895 each month, Cooper said. This means more than $994,740 a year is received in Boone county from the Federal insurance trust funds.

With larger benefits and more people becoming eligible, Social Security payments have greatly increased in recent years, Senator Cooper pointed out. For example, only eight years ago 292 persons in Boone were receiving a total of $10,218 monthly. In other words, Boone county is now receiving $870,000 more per year of Federal funds from the Social Security program alone, than in December of 1951.

Today, Senator Cooper added over 250 thousand individuals in Kentucky receive more than 13 million dollars each month from the Social Security program. This amounts to over $156 million for the state annually, compared to $24.7 million in December, 1951.

Nationally, 14 million persons receive Social Security payments totaling $881 million monthly. The average old age individual's monthly benefit is $73.50. A retired worker and aged wife receive on average of $120.60 monthly, and the national average payment to a widowed mother with two children is $166.50.

Senator Cooper said that the Social Security bill now before the Senate would add nearly 16,200 persons to the 251,000 in Kentucky now eligible for Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance payments.

Can wool blankets be washed in an automatic washer? Yes, if the machine can be manually controlled or if there is a soak cycle followed by a rinse and spin. However, much pilling and shrinking will occur if Wool blankets are allowed to wash through the regular cycle.

Ink stains from a ballpoint pen should not be washed. Water tends to set them and make them hard to remove, even by bleaching. Give your dry cleaner first chance at the stain removal job; usually he can remove the stain if it hasn't been set by water.

Announcing the 1961 Ford...
Beautifully proportioned to the

LOOK

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you... and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Goodbye grease racks! What's more, it cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It readjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford... beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look... beautifully built to take care of itself.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF
LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.
CLEANS ITS OWN OIL. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.
ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Track Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and slanted—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.
TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

125 Agencies Will Benefit from Drive

The house-to-house campaign of the 1960-61 United Appeal gets underway Saturday, October 8 in Walton and neighboring communities in Boone and Kenton counties.

The big $6,299,982 campaign helps 124 Community Chest agencies and all services of the Red Cross—a total of 125 agencies—in Hamilton and Clermont counties in Ohio, and in Boone, Campbell and Kenton counties in Kentucky. Local campaign volunteers will begin ringing doorbells Saturday and will continue to do so until complete coverage is achieved. The Victory Dinner will be held on October 27th at the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati. Local special gifts and neighboring business companies, as well as campaign volunteers conducting the solicitation at businesses, are currently wrapping up their phases of the U.A. campaign. Fred R. Rauch is chairman for the U.A. in Northern Kentucky.

When making their calls, local house-to-house campaign volunteers will urge residents here to make fair share pledges and be billed each month by the United Appeal. The U. A. will bill for as little as $1 a month—making it convenient and possible for each contributor to give his fair share for 125 agencies. Persons who gave at work, and who have no one else in the household who would like to give, are asked to display prominently their U.A. window stickers so the house-to-house campaigners will know contributors have been made.

Heading the residential campaign of the United Appeal in Boone Co. is John Pierce. Stanley W. Britton is residential chairman for Kenton Co.

The following are serving as district chairmen in Boone County for the residential campaign: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Faulk for District 12A, covering Bellevue, Petersburg, Bullittsville, Hebron, and Constance; William C. Light or bright-colored felt hats can be brightened by sponging with a solution of 1 cup water and 1 or 2 teaspoons ammonia. Squeeze out soft cloth out of the solution and sponge the nap. Then steam the hat.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By C. H. Kiegsbury

Taking A Look:

Uncle Sam, in the person of the Bureau of Public Roads, is looking at a unique development in Kentucky.

The development calls for the construction of small lakes whenever new federal roads pass through rolling countryside.

Kentucky has found, the federal boys report, that it is just about as cheap to construct a fill as it is to build a bridge. Furthermore, such lakes provide water for recreation and industrial purposes. Kentucky is first in such development on an organized scale.

Off To Guam:

University of Kentucky grads will receive with some interest the news of the appointment of a former Wildcat line man to a position in the Far Pacific.

Adolph Edwards of Walton and Pineville—better known as Moco—is to be secretary for the Island of Guam.

Moco has been in Washington for a goodly number of years, connected with various legal departments of federal agencies.

Quiet On The Hill:

Capital Hill is quiet with Kentucky Congressmen and senators campaigning. Those with opposition are working their home districts. Those who are home free are battling to help others.

Earle Clements, the former highway commissioner, has an office at 1001 Connecticut Avenue where the Democratic National Committee holds forth. Senator Thurston Morton has headquarters at the GOP National Committee office where he is the big chief.

Months Away:

This problem of developing the Ohio River and its tributaries is a year-round job. Congress won't act on appropriations for six more months but army engineers and the budget bureau already are at work on figures.

The preliminary request advanced by Kentucky lawmakers calls for 19 projects and the spending of close to 70 million dollars. Included in the recommendations are funds for the Warsaw-Markland dam, the Greenup locks and dam and the one at New Richmond.

"We want money to complete those projects," Blue Grass congressmen told the budget people.

FARM BUREAU

in Action
by C. H. Fields

Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

Why Farm Bureau Supports Constitutional Convention

A lot of people seemed surprised that Farm Bureau has endorsed the calling of a constitutional convention to consider limited revisions in the state Constitution. This is because some of them seem to feel that rural and farm people are more resistant to change than other people. Actually, no other group in Kentucky or in America has been quicker to accept change. Farmers have been and are going through a tremendous revolution in their business. Willingness to accept changes in ideas and techniques has made American agriculture the most efficient and productive in the world.

Farm Bureau, through its state Board of Directors, has endorsed the idea of a constitutional convention, and has recommended that Farm Bureau members vote "YES" on this question for these basic reasons:

1. The present constitution is too long, is outmoded in many respects, contains entirely too much detail that hampers our development into a modern, industrialized state. It contains many weaknesses and restrictions that threaten to halt the progress we are making in Kentucky.

2. The people of Kentucky will have ample opportunity to pass upon any changes that are proposed in the Constitution. In the first place, the voters must approve the action of the General Assembly in calling for a convention. Secondly, the people must elect those who will be delegates to such a convention, and thirdly, the people will have a right to approve or disapprove the results of the convention.

For these reasons, Farm Bureau leaders see little danger in holding such a convention. Although some groups in the state want to write things into a new constitution that rural people would oppose, we feel that the influence of the rural people will be amply felt in the convention itself, and in the final approval or disapproval when the new charter is written.

Ordinarily, Farm Bureau policy on issues such as this are decided by county voting delegates at state conventions. Since no policy was adopted on this issue at last November's election, however, the Board of Directors has authority to make a recommendation to Farm Bureau members.

Add new life to last year's fall hat by freshening the veil. Place a piece of paper under the veil and cover it with waxed paper. Press with a warm iron—warm enough to melt the wax on the paper. If the paper is waxed only on one side, be sure that side is next to the veil.

I can remember biscuits-hard-as-a-rock . . . cakes-that-never-quite-turned-out . . . pies-that-just-missed.

But no more! My electric oven's controlled heat guarantees perfect baking results, every time.

What's more . . . I understand that it actually costs less to cook electrically . . . compared to other methods in use out beyond the city gas mains.

These are only a few of the reasons why I'm glad I changed to an electric range.

Boone County Wool Growers Get $2,805 In Incentive Pay

Wool growers of Boone County have now received a total of $2,805.61 in incentive payments earned during the 1959 marketing year, J. Lassing Huey, chairman of the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee said this week.

This completes the making of payments to the county's wool growers on wool and unshorn marketed during the year from April 1, 1959 through March 31, 1960.

On shorn wool, the rate of payment was $43.20 for each $100 received for wool marketed. For unshorn lambs, the rate was 75 cents per hundredweight for the live weight of lambs sold.

The wool program, authorized by the National Wool Act, is continuing during the present marketing year, with a national incentive price of 62 cents a pound. The object is to increase the annual wool output of the United States to a total of 300 million pounds.

No Conservation Reserve Signup This Fall, Says J. L. Huey

There will be no signup this fall of additional land or contracts under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve, J. L. Huey said this week in response to inquiries from farmers regarding the status of the program.

Mr. Huey also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended for an additional period of years.

"Under the Soil Bank act enacted in May of 1956," Mr. Huey explained, "the Secretary of Agriculture was authorized to enter into Conservation Reserve contracts with producers during the five-year period of 1956-60."

"The signup under the 1960 program was held last fall, so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the Conservation Reserve. Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no signup period this fall."

"Farmers should understand, that the existing contracts for 1960 and previous years will remain in effect and payments will continue to be made under them for the period of the contracts and in accordance with contract terms. The annual Department of Agriculture appropriation bills provide money with which to meet obligations already on the books."

There are 22 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect this year in Boone County, involving a total of 534.4 acres, Mr. Huey said. Contract periods range from 3 to 10 years, and annual rental payments for 1960 amount to approximately $7,587.50. Nationally, there are more than 300,000 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect in 1960, covering a total acreage of approximately 28.6 million acres in 48 States. The average is $11.85 per acre, and the rental payments for 1960 will amount to about $338 million.

West.

In Independence, Kentucky, receipts of the post office climbed from $7,231.14 in 1953 to $9,630.32 last year.

FRIDAY! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10½ inches lower.

INTRODUCING THE '61 CHEVY BISCAYNE 6

the lowest priced full-sized Chevy with big-car comfort at small-car prices!

Chevy's new '61 Biscaynes—6 or V8—give you a full measure of Chevrolet quality, roominess and proved performance—yet they're priced down with many cars that give you a lot less! Now you can have economy and comfort, too!

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevrolets of all.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a cave-sized cargo opening nearly 3 feet across.

BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN, like all '61 Chevrolets, brings you Body by Fisher newness—more front seat leg room.

Brucellois Testing Will Be Finished by About October 15th

Kenton County dairy and beef cattle leaders have set October 15 as a completion goal for the county-wide brucellosis testing program. According to the records, approximately 98 per cent of the cattle in the county have now been blood tested and arrangements have been made to have a full time veterinarian in the county during the week Oct. 10 to 15 in order to complete the few herds remaining.

Dr. C. W. Baker, assistant state veterinarian, has been highly complimentary of the near perfect cooperation that Kenton County cattle owners have given the local committees. According to Dr. Baker, Kenton County volunteer leaders have done an outstanding job in nearly completing the testing program. Dr. Baker stated that he felt sure the few remaining herd owners would cooperate voluntarily with the county-wide testing program in order that the county might be certified by October 15.

Pantry cloths or waxed paper which you use for rolling dough will not slip or slide if the table is dampened before placing on the pastry cloth.

Make certain laundry water is softened so you get the most out of soap and the cleaning action of your machine. If water is not softened in the tank, add some powdered softener to it, using manufacturers' directions.

You don't have to be completely helpless to qualify for social security disability benefits; if you cannot work regularly and are not likely to work regularly because of your health, you should at least inquire about your rights under the social security disability insurance program.

Even though you are not able to get cash disability benefits now because of your age, it is still important to freeze your record to protect your future benefit rights.

Disabled Workers Urged to File For Social Security

Ed Bolte, Field Representative of Covington, Kentucky District Office of social security, advises workers who are too disabled to work to apply for social security disability insurance benefits. Your social security benefits can wither away and lose much of their value if you are too sick to work and you do nothing about it. Your family may also lose their rights to benefits if you should die.

If your sickness or an accident keeps you from working, get in touch with your social security district office now. If you can't go to the social security office yourself, you may phone, write, or have someone else make the visit for you.

Seriously disabled people now need only five years of social security credits to freeze their social security record. These five years, however,

BIBLE SPEAKS

Bible Material: Psalm 34; Ephesians 2: 14-21.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 96: 1-7.

We Worship God

Lesson for October 9, 1960

WHAT does "worship" mean? We hear or read the word on all sides. We speak of "Public Worship;" some churches have what is called a "Directory for Worship;" a manual telling how it should be done. Some churches have books called a "Book of Common Worship." Exactly what is worship?

Let us write off two common uses of the word. One is any use of it that has to do with human beings only, as when we speak of a mother worships her child, or a girl worships her lover. This Dr. Foreman has some meaning, but not what we are after. We also put aside a notion of worship that thinks of it as just the same as what is done in a church between (say) 11 and 12 on Sunday mornings.

What Worship is Not

What does it mean to worship God? It does not mean to say nice things about him, or to pay him compliments, though this (on a high level) may be a part of worship. There used to be a popular, but irreverent, song, including the words "God is a livin' doll." Now that was a compliment, or intended as such, but it was a long way from worship. For the compliment was a cheap one, and the mood was flippant. The greatness of God was left clear out of sight. Worship, again, is not just the same thing as prayer, although all true worshippers pray. (These lessons will consider prayer in particular in November.) Further, worship is not just reverent thoughts about God. One may think good thoughts about a God one never expects to meet, and never tries to meet.

Worship is the response of a human being (or we may add, an angel) who feels himself to be in the presence of God. What a man does under those circumstances is called an "act of worship." Such an act can be saying something (such as prayer, or the exclamation "Hallelujah!"), or it can be doing something (such as making an offering, or taking the Sacrament).

If the words are said, or the act is done, carelessly and without thought of God, with no sense of his nearness and greatness, then there is no worship, there is only an empty form.

A famous 19th-century writer once pointed out two opposite elements in worship. One is attraction and one is fear. The worshipper seeks to be close to God, yet he also cannot help a kind of dread. The Old Testament expression used to be, "Fear God," as well as "Love God." The name for this combination of desire-and-fear is called Awe.

Bible Worship

The 24th Psalm is a good example of an expression of awe, as a long-ago saint experienced it. This Psalm was, of course, first of all a thought, or thought, in someone's mind. Then it got written down, and it was sung at Temple services, and in some form or other it has long been read, said and sung in the Christian church. Who knows how many persons have been helped in their own worship by this ancient poem? You will notice (verses 1, 2) a short meditation about God, whose greatness is shown in his created universe. Then (vs. 3-4) there is a meditation on the kind of person who can truly worship. And finally there is a great welcome-song for the Almighty, the "King of Glory."

The sentence from Ephesians (3: 14-21) bring out Christian worship. For Christian worship is in a class by itself because the Christian understanding of God is, he believes, not only unique but right. God here is acknowledged not only as King and Creator, for Paul as a Jew would take that for granted, but as Father; the Father. Here is prayer, in the form of adoration; here is prayer in the form of request. But note what it is Paul prays for; nothing cheap, nothing selfish, nothing small! Above all, this prayer is for the "fullness of God." But the Christian understands what the "fullness of God" is: it is to know in all its tremendous glory the love of Christ. So for the Christian, to worship Christ is to worship God.

Grownups forget that a child experiences fear, disappointment and despair even more often than they.

Experience prepares the adult for sudden shocks. A child stumbles upon them unaware.

And each will breed more bitterness in his heart, if he has not found firm foundation for his courage, perseverance and hope.

But when a boy or girl has been given the undergirding of religious faith, the dreadful moments challenge rather than destroy.

Our children pray more often than we realize. They believe more confidently than we suppose. Life teaches them to draw strength from their faith... self-confidence from their trust in God.

But you and I must provide them opportunity to acquire faith. And our own example in worship and life must inspire their trust in God.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Social Security Changes Told

The 1960 amendments to the social security law reduce by about one-third the length of time a person has to work under social security to become insured for the payment of benefits to himself and his family, according to a statement issued by Mr. William C. Noel, District Manager of Covington, Kentucky District office.

Some 400,000 people will become immediately eligible for cash benefits because of this change in the law, including many wives, widows and dependent husbands and widowers already at or beyond retirement age. First payments to newly eligible persons will be for the month of October.

Under the new rule, persons reaching retirement age (65 for men, 62 for women) this year need only about 3 years of work under Social Security instead of the 4½ to 5 years required by the old law. If you reach retirement age any time next year, you will need to have worked under social security for only 3½ years instead of the 5 to 5½ years required before the change in the law. There is, however, a minimum requirement of a year and a half of work under social security—without which no benefits can become payable.

There are a number of people here in Northern Kentucky who will now be able to get monthly payments as a result of this change. Workers as well as widows now at or over retirement age, who have been told in the past that they were not eligible for payments for lack of work under social security are now urged to visit our office at their earliest convenience, to inquire about their rights, said Mr. Noel. First payments to those newly eligible as a result of this change in the law will be made for the month of October, 1960.

In terms of future eligibility, the reduction in the amount of work required means that many wage earners and their widows and dependent widowers will be able to qualify for social security benefits when they reach retirement age.

For example, if you are a man now 60 and planning at the end of 1965 to retire. Under the old law you would have needed a total of about 7 years of work to draw these benefits. Under the new rule you will need only 4½ years social security employment or self-employment to draw monthly old-age benefits. If you are a 60 year old woman planning retirement in 1962, you need only 3½ years of work to be eligible for social security.

Contact your local social security office for pamphlet OASI-1960-1 which contains a table showing the amount of work required under the new law.

The new rule for figuring minimum quarters required for full insured status does not affect the eligibility of young widows and children to draw mother's and children's benefits following the death of a wage earner. The widow and dependent children of a worker can draw social security survivors benefits if the worker has credit for at least a year and a half just before his death.

Remember that social security benefits cannot start until you fill a claim with the social security office nearest you. Therefore, if you believe you may be eligible for benefits under this change in the law, visit our office now. Our office in Covington, Kentucky, is located at 309 Garrard St.

Slightly Higher Farm Costs predicted For Next Six Months

Farm production expenses likely will be a little higher in the next six months, the UK Cooperative Extension Service agricultural economics department said this week in its bi-weekly outlook letter.

Farming items such as machinery, fertilizer and farm improvement items probably will continue their gradual increase, the letter said. Wage rates for hired farm labor are likely to increase some, too.

So far this year only two major farm items, feed and livestock, are lower than in 1959.

The breakdown by category: Livestock: Feeder cattle prices may weaken some this fall, though feeder pig prices will probably stay at the present level or rise slightly.

Seed: Little change expected in this item, though some grass and legume seeds may be a little higher.

Feed: Expected to be slightly lower; CCC loan levels will affect this. Wages: May be slightly higher due to off-farm employment with higher wages.

Fertilizer: High production may possibly cut prices.

Farm Machinery: Some higher prices expected but not as much as last year. Very little increase is anticipated for farm trucks and tractors.

LOOK WHAT DODGE HAS DONE FOR COMPACTS

The name, Lancer: one hardtop; one 2-door sedan; two 4-door sedans; two wagons. What kind of cars are they? This kind: two feet shorter; many pounds leaner; a couple of hundred dollars less in cost than usual automobiles. Lancer welcomes a family of six lavishly. Has plenty of trunk. Its fully-unitized body is very quiet, very tough. Lancer is also mannerly. It corners decisively, takes a well scarred road with aplomb. Parks obediently. More reasons to buy? Read on. The interiors are rich, but simple: Shed soil, wear well, feel good. The engine is highly spirited, but extremely light on regular gasoline. One more thing, Lancer is built by Dodge. Our name is on it. This means Lancer will stay nice and shiny. How so? The body is rustproofed by an exclusive Chrysler Corporation process. Enough talk. Meet Lancer at your Dodge Dealer. Now.

Prospective Buyers Should Check With Health Dept. First

Prospective buyers of lots or parcels of land should check with the Boone County Health Department about obtaining a sewage disposal permit, now required by law before installing a private sewage disposal system. Failure to secure the permit may cause the owner great inconvenience and future expense.

Recent sewage disposal regulations passed by the Boone County Board of Health may prevent the construction of homes and buildings on certain lots in the county. The Boone County Health Department must, by the new regulation, which became effective August 1, stop construction where prior approval of the septic tank system has not been approved.

The regulation is to protect the health of Boone County citizens. In certain areas, the soil may not be porous enough to absorb the sewage from a septic tank system, while in other areas the shell rock may be too close to the surface to permit proper construction and operation of the disposal system. If a septic tank system is installed where there are such terrain and soil conditions, sewage will overflow and find its way to streets, roadways, ditches, and other surface areas. This creates a serious public health problem, as well as obnoxious odors and disgusting sights. Usage and valuation of property in such an area will also suffer.

Individuals whose sewage systems overflow may be faced with legal action by other property owners and enforcement authorities.

During the last five years, the membership has been making an enlarged program of work through increased giving of time, talents and money.

Perhaps the most exciting experience of the campaign is when the church family meet for the annual turkey dinner at the Walton-Verona School on November 3, at 7:00 p. m. and the children meet at the church for their annual children's party. Resolution—

Of the Official Board of the Walton Christian Church, Walton, Ky. THAT WHEREAS, a number of the members of the Walton Christian Church, with the advice and cooperation of a committee, that was appointed at a regular congregational meeting, that were namely: Lloyd High, Stanley Bush, Russell Groger, Paul Simpson, Andrew Coyle, Charles Simpson, Fredrick Mann and Mary Ransler, realized the need, and having the sincere desire to serve the Church in a Christian way, did assume the task of remodeling the church parsonage. With consistent work and unselfish motives they have performed a service for the Church that must not be allowed to go by unrecognized.

Now, therefore, it would be difficult to remember and find record of each and every person, that has in some way helped with the task. Both men and women have worked hard, and have displayed a cooperative spirit that only comes with the dedication of life to serve and do God's Will. As this work has moved along the fellowship has increased, and the cooperation and sincere appreciation of each other has grown each day. Be it RESOLVED: that we duly recognize each for the service they have given and the contributions received, that the Walton Christian Church, give thanks for the complete change in the building known as our Church Parsonage.

In deep appreciation and sincere thanks for all that has been made possible, Be it RESOLVED: that this expression of our appreciation for our faithful and dedicated Christian workers be a part of the Church minutes, and a page in the minute book be set apart to the memory of those that served to the glory of God.

Trust in God

Lesson for October 16, 1960

CHRISTIAN religion looks different from the inside. What an outsider thinks is nonsense is seen from the inside as the highest wisdom. This is particularly true about trust in God. The non-Christian just labels this superstition, but a Christian knows very well that if he could not trust God he might as well not believe in God at all. The non-religious person classifies trust in God with trust in a rabbit's foot. But the Christian knows that there is an infinite difference between God and a rabbit's foot. One is the Maker of heaven and earth; the other only a thing, and a silly thing at that. It is high wisdom to trust in God; to trust in charms such as a rabbit's foot is not only silly, it is sinful.

Dr. Foreman

Why Trust in God?

The 121st Psalm suggests some solid reasons for trusting in the one true and living God. Trust unattached, trust by itself, trust without any one or anything to trust in—this is meaningless and may be disastrous. It isn't the trust that is the main thing, GOD is the reason for trusting God. He is the one who made heaven and earth. We have a right to believe this earth, this life, livable, because we are confident that God made it so. God made this earth for improvement, not for destruction. (To be sure, it will be destroyed in time; but it is a sin to hasten that day.) God made heaven and earth. He knows what stresses and strains they can stand, and he does not subject them to what they cannot bear. He created man, and he knows what man can stand.

This Psalm suggests a title for God, seldom used: "Keeper of life." God's will is always first for life, not death; health, not sickness; up-building, not down-dragging. Life which he creates, he preserves. Why not trust in God?

Hour of Danger

The poet who wrote Psalm 91 thinks of God specially as a protector in time of danger. He mentions particular dangers of his own time; how familiar they are to us these many centuries after! Pestilence—the great killers like T.B. and polio; war (the arrow that flies by day); terror in the night—what morning paper does not have its story of some who never expected death but who died suddenly, before dawn?

Yet as he reads these words, the Christian of the present day may feel very uneasy. Did the poet of Psalm 91 promise too much? If you take this Psalm literally, no one who trusts the Lord is going to get hurt. This, we feel, is saying too much. People who trust the Lord do get hurt.

Trust Versus Presumption

It is important to remember that in the story of the temptations of Jesus, this same 91st Psalm comes up. Strangely enough, Satan quotes it to Jesus. Satan, you may be sure, means no good for Jesus. But he sounds as if he were a preacher preaching on the text: Believe in God. Satan urges Jesus to jump off one of the high towers of the Temple. Go on, jump, he says. Don't you read your Bible? It says [and here the devil quotes the 91st Psalm], "On their hands the angels will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone."

Jesus knew better. Satan wanted him to take the ancient poem literally. He wanted Jesus to think that no matter what he did, nor where he went, he simply could not be hurt because God would be sure to look after him. But Jesus was too wise. He knew God too well, to take those words as if they were the last words and the only words about trust in God. Jesus knew that it is wrong, it is "tempting God," to get into a dangerous situation deliberately and expect God to keep us from so much as stumbling on toes. Further, Jesus knew that faithful, even perfect service of God and devotion to him, will not guarantee freedom from danger, agony and defeat. Jesus himself went to a cross. Every one of his disciples died a violent death. Yet over it all are Christ's own great words: "Be of good cheer . . . Believe in God, believe also in me . . . I have overcome the world."

Southern farm products are the basis for more than $21 billion in annual business.

"...and give thee Peace"

I he going sounded! I dashed from the office into the crowded street, and hurried on into the fading sunlight. The bell in the familiar old church tower was striking five. I had made it again! I would reach the commuters' train and be in my suburban home at the usual hour.

As I rushed past the church, chiming sounded melodiously over the busy, struggling mass of humanity. Suddenly, I stopped in the midst of it. Why this mad rush day after day? Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow would be the same. But today the chiming recalled to me a sense of peace and purpose, a satisfaction once experienced in the fellowship of worship and friendship.

The commuters' train was forgotten as I entered the vast, semi-lighted church. From far up at the marble altar came the words of a prayer: "O God, our Heavenly Father . . . the endless tide of business, toil, and care moves on around us. Go with us and bless us who have stopped within this holy place of prayer for one brief moment to be refreshed by thy love, and quieted by thy peace." The organ took up the response and the "Amen" soared upward as I knelt in grateful prayer. "Never again," I resolved, "shall I deprive myself of the security and satisfaction of regular church attendance and worship. My place in the little suburban church shall be filled on each Lord's Day."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL: ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Roses, Mums, Bulbs Need Attention Now

October is the time to give some attention to your flowers, especially chrysanthemums, roses and bulbs, according to N. R. Elliott, UK Extension horticulturist.

Now is the time to plant bulbs for early flowers next spring, he says. Tulips should be planted if mounds are not troublesome. Also plant jonquils and crocus. Take care to plant them right end up, look at each bulb carefully to make sure which end is the top.

After frosts have killed your chrysanthemum plants, cut and remove all dead tops. Mums, like almost all plants, need feeding. If available, poultry droppings applied in December will supply good food. If you plan to use commercial fertilizer, wait until spring to apply it.

Now is a good time to cut the tops off hybrid tea roses, leaving them about 18 to 24 inches tall. This prevents the tops from swaying in the wind this winter and working the mulch away from the plant stems. Do not feed these plants now as this might cause late growth that would be killed during the winter.

Tie the long, new cones of climbing roses to the trellis to prevent their injury by winter winds. Any dead wood in climbing roses should be cut out during the winter, use long-handled clippers and heavy gloves as this is a difficult job.

New roses may be planted at this season if they are handled correctly. Elliott notes. Set the plants as usual, then mound earth up until it covers the tops of the plants at least two inches deep. The mound should be left on the plants until spring. Roses planted this fall will bloom earlier than those planted next spring, but they will need protection with mounded earth this winter.

Wishbone, drumstick, white meat, dark meat—there's a favorite for nearly everyone when you serve turkey. Turkeys are in plentiful supply and prices are attractive, too.

Check the lining when shopping for a quality coat or suit. The lining should be smooth and neatly fitted with allowance for expansion in the back. It should be sewed in with fine stitches at the edges.

Getting 'Middle-age Spread', Then Cut Down Calorie Intake

What causes that "middle-age spread"? Different things could be the cause of weight gains for different persons but, usually, changes in calorie needs account for the extra pounds as one grows older, says Elizabeth Helton, UK Extension specialist in foods and nutrition.

Most persons become "fat" and "farty" not because they eat more but because they continue to eat the same amount of food they always have eaten. Yet an older person needs less food, or rather, less calories, according to Miss Helton.

Your body's energy or calorie older. The change is very gradual from age 25 to age 45 but by the time most persons reach 65, they fewer calories needed, she points out. For example, the housewife who once used 250 calories scrubbing the family wash now may use only 15 calories dumping the clothes into the automatic washer. If she eats the same foods now as she did before, the calories she doesn't "burn" by doing the wash by hand turn to extra pounds.

When your calorie needs change and your appetite stays the same, extra pounds are very likely to show up, she notes. If you continue to eat the same amounts of the same foods as you did when you were younger and more active, that "middle-age spread" may appear before you notice it.

This doesn't mean you need to scrub the family wash by hand to keep your weight down. It does mean you should curb your appetite or eat fewer high calorie foods as you grow older and less active.

Cutting down on calories a little more each year will help balance your energy needs and calorie intake and keep your weight from going up.

Just one glance at the Big Circle taillights and sculptured rear deck, one look at the crisp, fresh front-end design and you'll know the '61 Ford is the classic style of the Nineteen Sixties.

Here is a Ford that is not only new in looks and ride and comfort, but new in its entire concept. The '61 Ford is actually built to take care of itself! It lubricates its chassis... cleans its own oil... adjusts its own brakes... protects its own body.

Indeed, here is a car that will save you valuable time and money by doing away with many stops for service.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF... THE FIRST 1961 CAR DEALER WARRANTED FOR 12,000 MILES OR ONE FULL YEAR

Lubricates Itself. You'll normally go 500 miles without a chassis lubrication. Cleans Its Own Oil. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Guards Its Own Muffler. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and slanted—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Adjusts Its Own Brakes. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

Protects Its Own Body. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath the doors.

Takes Care of Its Own Finish. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Warranty. The '61 Ford is built to meet three principal goals: finest quality, greater durability, most reliable operation. Expressing their complete confidence that this has been accomplished, Ford Dealers led the industry in extending their warranty on '61 Fords to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first. See this warranty at your Ford Dealer's now.

Acid Soils Should Get Application of Ground Lime Now

Acid Boone County soils should get application of ground limestone this fall, says Joe Claxton, Boone County Agricultural Agent.

For each dollar invested in ground limestone now, four to five dollars return can be expected if the material is used properly.

And, he cautions: If soils tests show that limestone is not needed, don't apply it. It will not help your future crops, in fact it may hinder them somewhat by reducing availability of certain other plant nutrients.

Take soil samples now for analysis, Claxton says. If limestone is recommended, apply it this fall for two reasons. Limestone applied this fall will have the winter months to properly condition the soil, and the ground now is firmer and spreader equipment can get on it more easily.

Assistance Payment Made in Boone Co. Tops Last Year Level

For the second straight month, Kentucky's public assistance payments to Boone County's blind and disabled persons have topped the 1959 level.

August payments to the needy blind exceeded the 1959 average by $1.60, while permanently and totally disabled persons have received an average increase of $3.56 over last year's August payments.

Commissioner of Economic Security J. M. Ferguson said the increased payments are a result of funds collected through the newly instituted sales tax.

These appropriations, combined with federal matching funds, have put Kentucky in the lead over all other southeastern states in the amount of public assistance payments to indigent recipients in all categories.

Funds paid to the needy blind in Boone County averaged $41.00 in August. The permanently and totally disabled received an average payment of $47.13.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By C. H. Kingsbury

Sales Promotion:

We present the story of Keith Vice, a Kentuckian who is helping push the sale of American farm products in Europe.

Mr. Vice is with the Department of Agriculture and he returned some weeks ago from a world fair in Poland where he was in charge of the American exhibit, trying to sell those behind the Iron Curtain on the American way of life.

A. U. K. Product:
Mr. Vice was born in Pendleton County and lived for a time in Grant County. But the family settled down in Boone County where he received his early education. Then he went on to the University of Kentucky where he obtained his training.

His professional work in agriculture was at the Experiment Station in Lexington. The next step up the ladder took the Kentuckian to Washington.

En route, however, he married the former Helen Singer of Lexington and became the father of two daughters and a son.

Works On Agreements:
In his work, when he's not directing our trade program, he tries to work out agreements with European agencies on the purchase of our farm products, to assist the same thing with our friends in Asia and South America.

One thing he missed during his tour abroad. He likes to plant strawberries but he was in duty in Poland when the berries were at their best. Mrs. Vice told him how good they were.

Church Worker:

In his off duty hours he devotes his talent to the Duke Street Baptist Church in Alexandria, Virginia. He is a deacon, teaches a Sunday School Class and is one of the charter members.

What about the future? Both Mrs. Vice and he would like to establish their home in some small town, preferably in Kentucky. But the job is in Washington so the family sticks to the Washington scene.

Southern area farms produce $8 billion in products each year.

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproduction pictures, they must all be uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Thursday, October 27, 1960, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the City Bldg., Walton, Ky. and Friday, October 28th 1960, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Fire Hall, Independence, Ky.

Check With Health Dept.

In some instances, it may be necessary to deny a permit for the following reasons:

The terrain and soil conditions in certain lots make the use of septic tanks unsatisfactory according to the Board of Health regulations. According to the Boone County Board of Health, in this particular location the soil absorption is not sufficient to adequately handle the expected amount of sewage. The system would soon overflow, resulting in sewage running on top of the ground and collecting in pools. This, of course, would create a serious health problem, undesirable to the owner and neighbors.

Members of the Board of Health stress again that prospective purchasers of new lots check with the Boone County Health Department to find out if a permit for installation of a private sewage disposal system can be issued.

No Charge To Parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper, to take advantage of this feature. Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain a limited number by arrangement with the Studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

The More Pictures, The Better

The Advertiser simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the Mothers and Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date Oct. 27 at City Bldg. Walton and Oct. 28, Fire Hall, Independence, and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards if you did, and very, very sorry if you do not permit our children to participate in this event. Their pictures will have much fun and both Mother and Dad, and the youngsters too, will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Kenton 4-H Expect 700 Members in the Enrollment Drive

The 4-H Club program in Kenton County is in the enrollment stage. We have about 700 club members in clubs thus far. We expect to have an enrollment of over 1000 club members this year. At the present time there are only 53 active 4-H leaders in the county working on the program with about 700 members. It is a known fact that the best work can be done on projects when a leader is working with about five members, this would indicate that when our enrollment reached 1000 in a few weeks we will need an additional 147 local leaders. Many of the members who have signed application cards in the past few weeks have indicated that their parents (one or both) might be a project leader. We would like to contact these parents and get information as to what day of the week would be most convenient for them to have leader training meetings for the various projects.

If there is a group of ten or more persons interested in organizing a local 4-H Club in any area of the county, rural or urban and have an adult leader who will work with them contact the Kenton County Extension office and we will help you start a club.

Social Security

Today I want to tell you about a part of the 1960 social security amendments which does not affect a large number of people, but is most important to those whom it does affect.

About 25,000 people widows, aged dependent parents, and disabled children age 18 and over, the survivors of workers who died before 1940, will now be able to collect monthly social security benefits. Originally, the social security law provided benefits only for retired workers. The law was changed in 1939 to make benefits payable to the survivors and dependents of workers, but until 1940 amendments, no monthly benefits were provided for the survivors of workers who died before 1940.

Under the new law, payments can be made to the widows of workers who died after March 31, 1938 and before January 1, 1940, to their aged dependent parents, and to their disabled sons and daughters.

To qualify for benefits a widow or dependent mother of a worker who died before 1940 must be 62 years of age or over. A dependent father must be 65 or over. A disabled son or daughter must have a disability so severe that it keeps him or her from doing any substantial gainful work. Also, the disability must have begun before the child reached his 18th birthday.

If you believe that you or someone you know may be eligible to get benefits as a result of this change in the law, remember, payments must be applied for. Call, write, or visit your social security district office to ask about making an application. The district office in Covington, Kentucky is located at 309 Garrard Street.

tion to Walton Verano High School. The district will receive a total allotment of $9,162, and increase of $4,431 over last year's funds.

In Boone County school district, County Superintendent H. N. Ockerman's plans include an addition to Boone County High School. The district will receive a total allotment of $48,101 an increase of $23,948 over last year's funds.

School Heads Plan Many Uses for School Fund Increases

Like a housewife who anticipates an increase in her husband's salary, Kentucky school superintendents are making their plans to use the increased school funds to be paid them by the state.

Plans of school districts were revealed by Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler last week, prior to the distribution of the increased funds voted by the last General Assembly and paid for with new sales tax appropriations.

Capital outlay increases have provided for new school buildings, classroom additions, new sites and additions to sites, and equipment for administration and instruction.

In Walton Verano Independent school district, Superintendent Eugene Robinson's plans include building ad-

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Psalms 19: 42.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 130.

Our Need of God

Lesson for October 23, 1960

MAN'S NEED of God is his highest dignity. This was the conclusion of a great thinker a century ago. But he was not alone in this discovery. Down through the generations, people high and low have found out that to need God is not a sign of shiftlessness and inferiority, but of dignity. The down-and-outs, the failures, the crippled in mind and spirit, these need God. But also the strong, the able, the wise, the genius—these also need God, and it does no damage to their self-respect to acknowledge this.

"Reviving the Soul"
Every one of the Psalms expresses some need of man for God. The 19th and 42nd Psalms are not peculiar in this respect. But the 19th contains three phrases, each one referring to God's law, and each expressing a distinct human need which God fulfills. The Christian will think: If all this comes to us in the Law, how much more in the Gospel!

The law of the Lord revives the soul. How weary we grow, how soon we faint! Where is the soul of man? Crushed and starved, beaten down by life's struggles and toils, half forgotten in the bitter competition of the week-days, on Saturday night or on any night one is tempted to doubt whether one has a soul at all. If the wilted spirit withers further, it will be very near death, indeed many a soul suffers from a kind of perpetual sleeping sickness. We need God to revive the dying soul.

"Making Wise the Simple"

"If youth knew, if age could" is a short poetic form of a proverb, "Too soon old, too late smart." Knowledge can be described by a bright ten-year-old. "Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers." Wisdom is far more than knowledge, it is knowing what to do with knowledge, and how. Calculating machines have knowledge, of a sort, but no machine has wisdom. The greatest wisdom, said Socrates, is realizing how little one has.

The law of God, says the Psalmist, makes wise the simple. Knowledge is something we have to work for, to attain; wisdom is a gift, the true wisdom comes from God who gives to all "generously and without reproaching" as St. James says.

"Rejoicing the Heart"

This world, said some one, is a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those who feel. If the walls of a London street were all made transparent, wrote Charles Dickens, who loved his city, and if we could see all the tragedies hidden by brick and stone and wood, the sight would be more than we could endure. This is a tragic world, and all the joke-making (for indeed some things and people are funny) does not change the state of the world, nor of the heart. When a soul walks in darkness, it is no help to read that the stock market is going up, that spring will follow winter, that somewhere the sun is shining. The heart bowed down knows its own sorrows and a stranger does not intermeddle with his grief. Is it a loss of dignity to need comfort? If so we are a race without dignity. On the contrary, our need of God here as always is our highest dignity. God comes to man not to increase his sorrow but to wipe all tears away. God in his law, God in his Gospel, rejoices the heart.

Warning and Reward

The inspired poet of Psalm 19 sums up in two words what God does for him: Warning and Reward (verse 11). How desperately we need these both! Again man's need of God is high dignity. The plants, the beasts, need no conscience, no warning voice. They cannot choose but do what they are destined to do. But man is free. He can and must make choices, he can make decisions which are tragically, eternally wrong. We need warning. If God did not warn us, it would be a sign he had cast us off. We need reward too. The poet does not say there is reward for the keeping of God's law; there is reward in the keeping; joy in sharing God's holy will.

The airport at Kentucky Dam Village State Park on the shores of Kentucky Lake was the first accredited airport at a state park in the nation.

And just who is Bill? A parent's mind stalls right in the middle of that intersection...

From what background has Bill come? In what moral direction is he heading? Where did Ruth meet him? Where will he take her?

Jolting the family's peace of mind, this sudden collision between confidence in our daughter and uncertainty about someone's son.

Another jolt: If Bill's parents are the right sort of people, they're probably wondering about our Ruth!

Many families have fewer such anxieties because they are active in the life of a church. Their boys and girls meet in an atmosphere that calls forth our best. Fun, friendship and inspiration are blended in worthwhile youth activities.

And if love blooms... no awkward compromise of conviction such as besets some... but a common faith in God to enrich a couple's affection and strengthen their marriage.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Puckering of seams on synthetic fabrics usually is caused by too high tension on both the upper and lower settings of your sewing machine. If you use mechanized thread on man-made fabrics, the puckering also may be caused by some shrinking of the cotton thread in washing.

Keep a Tried & True Friend of the Farmer
in the Senate

Kentucky farmers know Senator Cooper's record—his farm votes, legislation he has successfully introduced for them, and his leadership to protect them and help them. Here is part of that record:

Senator Cooper works for tobacco growers

● Author in 1948 with Senator Barkley of the amendment which gives tobacco growers their fixed 90% of parity support prices. This law has added millions of dollars to Kentucky farm income—benefiting all hundreds of businesses in tobacco country.

● Author in 1960 with North Carolina's Senator Jordan of the successful bill—introduced at the request of the Kentucky Farm Bureau and all tobacco organizations—to promote larger sales of burley and dark leaf at home and abroad. This law keeps tobacco supports at 90% of 1959 parity—a good year—with higher support prices when farmers' costs go up.

● Co-author of Public Law 480—under which 280 million pounds of tobacco have been sold abroad; and new markets created for Kentucky leaf. Senator Cooper has worked with the burley and dark leaf cooperatives to increase tobacco exports, and is fighting restrictive duties by foreign countries against our tobacco. Senator Cooper's work, and the willingness of tobacco growers to keep their program sound, have made our tobacco program the best farm program—and have raised the average price farmers receive for their burley from 50¢ a pound in 1952 to 61¢ last year.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

He's On Guam Now

A few weeks ago we briefly mentioned Adolph Edwards of Boone County and way-points who was named secretary to the island of Guam. Today the Kentuckian is at his post, a position similar to that of lieutenant-governor.

Secretary Edwards is better known among Kentuckians as "Maca", a name that was cheered when the husky 250-pounder attended the University of Kentucky and played tackle on the Wildcat eleven.

Practiced Law

After graduation from the U. of Ky. law school, the Kentucky gentleman practiced law first at Cincinnati and then at Pineville.

Later he joined the old price control office in Louisville until moving on to Washington in the late 1940's. There, in the Interior Department, Maca became an expert in problems involving American territories.

Elected President

The Boone County native was—and is—popular with his fellow Kentuckians in Washington. In fact, he was elected president of the Kentucky Society of Washington, the organization which brings together all the home-sick folks from the Bluegrass state.

He also has been active in the Community Methodist Church, Arlington, Virginia, where the Edwards family has a home. A son, Adolph Edwards III is a senior at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Crescent Hill Baptist Church, Louisville, Ky., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Leola Jo Crisman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leo T. Crisman and Dr. William McClure Waller, son of Mrs. William Edward Waller of Erlanger, Ky., and the late Mr. Waller.

The impressive double ring ceremony was solemnized at 4:30 p. m. in the sanctuary of the church, and vows were exchanged before a large group of relatives and friends, with the father of the bride officiating, assisted by Rev. Roy Stewart of Union, Kentucky.

Mrs. Forrest Heeren was organist and accompanied Miss Crisman as she played the violin.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Crisman wore a floor length dress of silk and fitted bodice of Alecon lace with scalloped neckline. Her bridal bouquet was composed of white Dendrobium phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Ann Bragg of New Orleans, a classmate of the bride, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Cecil Jones of Russellville, Mo., Miss Helen Mae Neiger of Columbia, Mo., Mrs. Marion A. Waller of Erlanger, Ky., and Miss Becky Fox of Louisville. Pamela Southard was the flower girl. Mr. Marion Waller was best man.

A reception was held in the dining room of the church. After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Long Island, N. Y., until he finishes his work as intern in the Navy Hospital in July.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Fred E. Neiger, Helen Mae, Shirley, Sharon and Albert Lee of Columbia, Mo., Mrs. Arthur Hanapel, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones, Craig and Clinton of Russellville, Mo., Mrs. Ruth Vest, Mrs. Mildred Vest, Mrs. Marie Berkshire, Miss Annie Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Marion A. Waller and Marion Elsie, Mrs. Grace Whitland and granddon Donald Fredrick of Alton, Ill., Mrs. Alice Preston of Kentucky and Miss Dorothy Caspar of New York.

FALL TESTING HAS EDGE

Fall testing of soils has an edge over spring-testing, says Bert Driskell UK Cooperative Extension Service soils specialist.

Farmers who "fall-test" have the chance to plan their fertilizer program and buy their fertilizer.

Second, if the soil test of the fall indicates the need, limestone can best be applied in autumn. Fall-applied lime has lots of time to start its beneficial reactions, and ground is firmer for equipment to spread lime.

Third, soil conditions in the fall are usually better for sampling.

NOV. 15, 1957

JULY 1, 1960

to continue with Kentucky's Great Highway Construction Program

Road money must be used only to match Federal funds - and the Bureau of Public Roads prohibits the use of Federal funds for the construction of toll roads.

Already, every county in Kentucky... including yours... has benefitted from the Road Bond Issue you voted for in 1956. See map above.

Very soon all of the 1956 Road Bond Money will be allocated and spent. Yet, there's much more to be done! Today there are 3,852 miles of Primary & Urban Roads, and 15,239 miles of Secondary Roads (farm-to-market) that criss-cross Kentucky and extend into every county and practically every town in our state. These roads are eligible to participate in the new Federal Aid Program. These are also the roads where the vastly greater portion of the new proposed Road and Park Bond issue will be spent! Remember, too, that no additional taxes are necessary if the majority of voters say "yes" on November 8th.

Joyce Tarvin, a senior at Simon Kenton High School, who lives in HALF-PAST TEEN

Beauty View Acres off Cox Road, was walking through a field near her home on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9th, and stumbled into an abandoned cistern. There was 8 ft. of water in the cistern, but she was wedged between some rocks near the top of the cistern, and did not fall all the way down into the water. She could not climb out by herself, no one heard her cries for help, and she was down there over three hours. Her parents soon missed her and started a search, and soon many of the neighbors were searching. A Lutes boy was visiting his mother on Oliver Road and when he heard Joyce was missing, he recalled hearing some cries that afternoon, but couldn't tell where they were coming from. He knew of the old cistern and went to look, and found her there. He managed to pull her out and got her to the house of Mr. Frankman, who took her home in his car. Her parents took her to the Dr. where she was found to be in a state of shock and suffering from bruises, but she has recovered and returned to school after a week. She never did find out the exact identity of her rescuer, but she wants to thank him for saving her life.

It's everybody's job!

BRINGING NEW INDUSTRIES to a community and keeping them happy after they get there is everybody's job. No one man or organization can do it alone.

Community leaders help by initiating and carrying out long-range civic policies and programs attractive to industry. Owners and managers of existing plants help by welcoming industrial newcomers and making them feel at home. Men and women workers help by showing their willingness to do a full day's work for a fair day's pay.

Yes, and Southern Railway helps, too! Southern's Industrial Development Department constantly seeks new industries for available plant sites. Throughout the year, our national advertising urges industrialists to "Look South" for new and greater opportunities. And we do our best to provide an ever-better, low-cost mass transportation service, so vital to the modern industrial South.

All of this effort helps all of us. For a community's economic growth does more than provide new and bigger job opportunities. It quickly spreads out in all directions to benefit men and women in almost every type of service, trade and profession.

The book-reading required for the average student to complete 12 school grades... would fill a book shelf 18 feet long!

And when the lighting isn't right for homework... visual fatigue can result... studies seem tedious and tiresome.

Protect young eyes from overwork and strain with proper lighting.

Follow this diagram to make a good study place in your home... with light that's right!

COOPERATION Is a Kentucky tradition!

MENDING FENCES... OR POWER LINES!

Back in Kentucky's early days you could pretty well measure a man's wealth and community standing by his livestock holdings. That's why a broken fence was such a serious threat. In a matter of hours livestock could stray off, and their loss might ruin a well-to-do farmer. As a result it became traditional for neighbors to help one another to keep fences in constant good repair. It's a neighborly habit still observed in our state.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops... created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves... are a good example of how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in cities and towns.

Good Quality Burley Aided by Curing

Good quality burley tobacco can be cured when temperature range from 60 to 90 degrees and when the relative humidity is from 65 to 70 percent, says Ira Mossie, UK Cooperative Extension Service specialist.

With temperature and humidity at these levels, "life processes" in tobacco continue in the barn.

But, he cautions, humidity control is most important. If relative humidity is above 70 percent for 24 hours or more at any time, then artificial heat should be used. House-burn will start at the end of such 24 hour periods if artificial heat is not used. A good way to check humidity level is to tie a handful of dry tobacco leaves in the barn and check them by feel every so often, when this test bush is soggy or in high case, then use artificial heat.

One source of artificial heat is the long used coke stove which, when properly handled, does an excellent job of lowering humidity in the barn or driving moisture out of tobacco plants hanging in the barn. Another heat source is equipment using various types of fuel for artificial heat, such as natural gas or bottle gas, this type equipment, properly used, also does an excellent job.

Mossie notes that in curing tobacco the natural elements such as air and sunshine should be used to a maximum if temperature and humidity conditions are so favorable that artificial heat is not needed. Generally, ventilators should be closed in late afternoon, when temperature and humidity levels are in the good curing limits. In mid-September and early October, however temperature levels inside and outside the barn will vary considerably, being much lower in the barn from the effect of evaporation. In such cases, it is practical to keep barn ventilators open as much as possible.

Any cooked fish or seafood product—whether canned, freshly canned, freshly-cooked, or a leftover item that has been flaked—can be combined with other foods to make a delicious, attractive salad. Brightly-colored salad greens perk up a fish or seafood salad; a tart dressing complements a mild fish salad.

At the same time the teacher group endorsed the Road Bond referendum which they appear with the Constitutional Referendum on the ballot on November 8.

Also discussed at recent meeting was the present state revenue program, which is providing approximately $25,000 more money for the Walton-Verona Schools this year than it did last year. In view of the great financial gains made with this new revenue program, the feeling was that it would be good to inform citizens of the Walton-Verona District of the gains made.

The plans call for the publishing all materials and equipment that have been purchased this year. The listing will appear in the Advertiser in the near future.

Also there are plans in the making for a new building program and there will be some definite news in regard to this in a few weeks. These points will also be discussed at the next P.T.A. meeting which will be held at the Verona School on Nov. 21. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting and be informed as to what is being done in the schools as well as find out what some of the future plans are.

Today is "Picture Day" For the Kiddies At Walton City Hall

Thursday October 27th, and Friday October 28th are the big days for the picture-taking of your youngsters. The Advertiser is being pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the City Building, Walton and Fire Hall, Independence between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. absolutely free of charge.

The Advertiser wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature, "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing up pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up. There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to the Advertiser nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, though you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with the Studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you.

Lesson To Be Given

University of Kentucky, Home Management Specialist, Frances Stalord, will be giving a lesson on "Short Term Credit," October 26. The lesson will be given to Boone County Homemakers Club leaders.

Some families don't always know all the sources which can be used for short term credit. All these sources will be discussed along with the comparative interest rate of each source. The lesson will be at the Florence recreation center 9:30 to 12:30 Wednesday the 26th.

Responding to God

Lesson for October 30, 1960

GOD is to be believed in, trusted, adored. This is true, but not the whole truth. If the faith and trust, and adoration stop right there, if they never lead to anything else, then they are no longer what they ought to be. A certain man used to go on a binge periodically, and at the height of one (or the bottom of it!) used to send his wife a large box of roses with an adoring note. He may have meant it; but he was a bad husband. His "adoration" of his wife made no real difference with his life. He was the same boose-hound after his marriage as before, just the same irresponsible play-boy as always. On the bank of a southern river there is a kind of concrete wall, several yards long but not connected with any kind of building. That wall was originally intended to support an end of a bridge; but the bridge was never built, so the concrete abutment stands there, in the way of the farmer who plows that river-side field. So "faith" in God, if it leads to nothing, is like that bridge-pier, only a nuisance. As the apostle put it, faith without works is dead.

Response

The life of the Christian is not, so to speak, something which the Christian himself starts and keeps going by himself. It is the teaching of the Bible from beginning to end, that the right life is a life of response. God takes the initiative; we follow his lead. God invites, we accept. God speaks, we answer. Someone has said that the single focus back of a Christian's life is gratitude. Some people get that backwards. Their picture of the Christian life is: first man does something fine that God notices; second, God is grateful to the man for the fine thing he has done; third, God showers blessings on the man by way of thanks to him. No, it is actually the other way around. First, God does so much for a man (especially through Christ's sacrificial life and death) that the man notices this; second, the man is grateful to God for his inexpressible gift; third, the man offers up his life in service, not at all by way of rewarding God, not in the least as laying a claim on God, but out of love and a thankful heart.

The first way this response of man will show, is in his sense of responsibility. He recognizes God as the director and guide of his life, he thinks first of all not "What will people think of me?" but "What will God think of me?" (This does not come suddenly, it is a habit of mind that has to be learned.) Martin Niemöller, a German minister who had been a naval officer, explained how it was that he could have "bucked" the all-powerful Hitler and so risked death. "It was simple," Niemöller said afterwards. "I had a higher Führer than Hitler." That is responsibility, Christian responsibility, taking orders from God first, above all others.

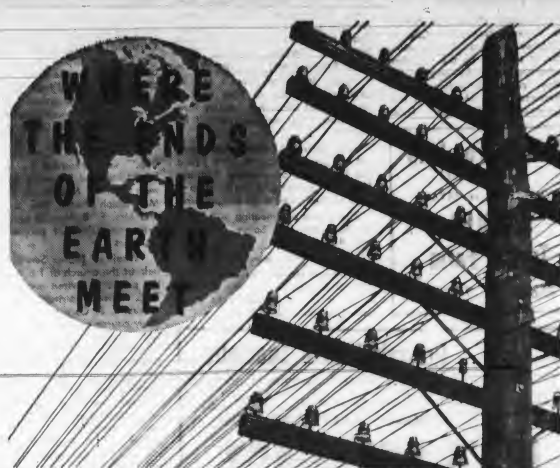

As a sense of responsibility grows, character grows with it. A man does not acquire character by thinking about it. The best way to become a Christian character is not to set aside certain times each week for practice, as you might practice baseball or chess.

Responsibility and Service

In Old Testament times, people made sacrifices by destroying the thing they sacrificed, or at least by withdrawing it from ordinary use. Paul sets out (in Romans 12) the new Christian idea. We understand now that to sacrifice something to God means to put it to use for him. When Paul spoke of our bodies as a "living sacrifice," no doubt, some of the Christians at Rome may have wondered if he could mean human sacrifices on altars. But of course he did not. Anyone who will take time to read Romans 12 can see how down-to-earth all this is. Paul does not concentrate the response to great crises, extraordinary one-in-a-lifetime opportunities for heroism and martyrdom. He speaks of the ordinary everyday wear and tear of living with other people. Do you love and adore God? Then show you mean it by the Christian way you live with other people.

It is not easy to be a good parent. There are new problems every year; but you get the help of experts when you join your P.T.A.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

We see only wires! But at this very moment a woman in San Francisco may be speaking to her husband in Tokyo. . . . a boy at Princeton may be inviting a girl in Albuquerque to a football game. . . and Mrs. Green of R. D. No. 1 may be placing her order with Mr. Brown of the Crossroads Store.

Here — where sixty wires cling to the cross-arms of a weathered pole — the ends of the earth meet!

It's like that in our local churches on Communion Sunday. Whether fifty or five hundred receive the Holy Sacrament . . . the ends of the earth meet. For the Lord's Supper is not a rite of one church or one denomination. It is the common sacramental feast of millions of Christians all over the world.

Are you availing yourself of this blessed privilege, and are you attending your church regularly? As you receive this Sacrament in your church, your life is linked to the lives of Christians everywhere. And you and they are united in a common communion with God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Message from Our President:

"It is my deepest conviction that for the future of America and the free world we must elect on November 8, a man of experienced leadership to meet the challenges of the 1960s. As a man qualified to enter on the duties of the Presidential office, DICK NIXON has the broadest and deepest preparation and experience of any man I know. He has the intelligence, character, and the courage for which the problems of the times call. For eight years, his council and advice have been of the utmost value to me. He and CABOT LODGE make a brilliant and dedicated team for keeping all of us on the path of sanity and stability. Please make a special effort to give him a Republican Congress by electing SENATOR COOPER and a Republican Congressman from your district."

Sincerely yours

Served on 1860 Constitution Convention, 69 Years Ago

L. W. Lassing

L. W. Lassing was Boone County's delegate to the 1890, 91 Constitutional Convention which drafted the Kentucky fourth Constitution. The men who authored that document, adopted 69 years ago, were aware that it would need revising as time and conditions changed; hence they included in it provisions for calling a convention. Under those provisions a vote will be taken at the November 8 election, on whether a constitutional convention shall be called, to consider only certain specific areas of the Constitution for revision.

Mr. Zion Homemakers

The "Good Government" lesson for the Mr. Zion Homemakers October meeting dealt with the constitutional convention. The great importance of studying the pros and cons of this issue, since our present constitution was written back in 1890. This discussion of great length was conducted by Mrs. V. Vonderschmitt, and Mrs. R. Burns, lesson leaders. They also pointed out the most important item concerning our citizens today is how many persons pass up their privilege to vote. The only way, we as, an individual can speak up for what we want or do not want. Let each of us help to encourage our friends and neighbors not registered to do so, after this election.

Mrs. Paparatto, Home Demonstration Agent presented "Fashions" for the entire family. Everyone found these interesting in so much, as styles of fifteen and twenty years ago are very popular this season. The regular meeting was conducted.

Mrs. J. Schira landscape chairman gave interesting facts using chrysanthemum as brokers, cut flowers, hedges, their size shape and color. Now is the time for transplanting these.

All chair men gave annual reports. Hostess Mrs. A. Insko served a delicious lunch to Mrs. G. Paparatto, guest and members, Madames V. Vonderschmitt, R. Burns, F. Domascho, B. Brown, R. McGuire, N. Denham, L. Holmes, H. Winburn and J. Schira.

Games by the new recreation chairman Mrs. Winburn, climaxed the day.

First Meeting, Piner P. T. A. Held At New School October 20th

The first meeting of the Piner P. T. A. was held in the new Piner School, October 20, with Mrs. Richard McKinley, president presiding.

After a short business meeting, the faculty was introduced by the principal Mr. Brown. He spoke about some of the projects that the school and P. T. A. will try to buy this year, also how proud we are of the new school.

Some of the students presented a very fine program of songs. Our new superintendent, Mr. R. C. Hinsdale, spoke on and discussed the "Constitution Convention," which was very interesting and enjoyed by all. He stated some of the problems and conditions in our county schools.

This was also "open house" for the parents and children as everyone wanted to see the new school.

The room mothers of each grade were guides for their rooms. Each teacher had a beautiful room to show the parents. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The next meeting will be November 18th during American Education week, of which time a "Fish Fry" with all the trimmings will be served.

Adding to the enjoyment of the day was a phone call of congratulations from a grandson, Prof. Wm. K. Durr of Lansing, Michigan, and a visit from a granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Richardson of Erlanger. Mr. and Mrs. Klein's family include their four children, nine grandchildren and eight little great-grandsons. Every good wish and many more happy returns of the day were extended to the couple, by all.

Simon Kenton Band Boosters Entertained By Their Third Band

The Simon Kenton Band Boosters held their regular monthly meeting October 24th. The third band provided the entertainment for the evening under the direction of Mr. William George. Mr. Roden was unable to be present.

There was a short business meeting with Mrs. Howard Fredrick presiding, secretary report was given by Mrs. Harold Schneider, Mrs. Jack Crutcher and the treasurer report. Mrs. Charles A. Cummins made a report on membership. "Anyone wishing to become a member for this year please send your membership dues to Mr. Roden at Simon Kenton. We are trying for one hundred percent membership this year."

Your interest and support will help to keep the Simon Kenton Music Department among the best in the state.

Mrs. John Stephen reported she has the names to be called for candy. Mr. Elmer Dedden conducted the White Elephant Sale.

There was just a few in number present but they all enjoyed themselves, and the Band Boosters took in $42.25.

The next meeting will be November 28th. This will be the last one for 1960.

"It takes everyone working together to make Simon Kenton Band one of the best. So parents let's get behind our youngsters and work with them."

Attends Meeting

Southern States Cooperative Annual meeting was held at Richmond, Va. on October 27th and 28th. Those attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vest and Mrs. Joseph Neumeister.

The Walton Planning Board Friday night voted to request the City Council to authorize a preliminary sewer survey for the city and to hire a competent engineer.

The move came after Robert R. Goetzman, field engineer for Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, explained that it would cost nothing if the sewer system were not approved.

If the city found the system feasible, Goetzman said, the cost of the $7500 preliminary survey would be deducted from funds derived from sewer financing permits.

Estimated cost of the construction cost ranged from $500,000 to $750,000. Goetzman explained that the Walton sewer system would be an expensive proposition.

He said that sewer lines would have to intersect with Louisville & Nashville and Southern Railroad at several points necessitating pumping at these points.

State Rep. Dan J. Roberts, chairman of the city planning board, said many open sewers in Walton underlined "the city's most vital need—a sanitary sewer system."

Traut R. DeMoisey, city attorney, said state health department laws required solution of the sewage problem.

Walton has 1530 population, is two miles long from north to south, has its own water system, with 500 consumers, and has 78 separate small businesses.

An estimate of consumers cost, based on an average water bill of $5 a month, was $7.15 a month.

Did you ever stop to think how much canned food is eaten in the United States? About two-thirds of the peas grown are eaten in canned form—two-thirds of the sweet corn, and three-fourths of the beans. On the average, over half of the sour red cherries are canned and 45 to 50 percent of the peaches, pears and apricots.

Diced fresh cranberries added to muffin or hot bread mixtures give tasty variations to your regular breads.

Or serve hot bread with cranberry butter, made by heating together two parts canned whole cranberry sauce and one part butter. Serve the cranberry butter either warm or chilled.

'61 Ford Galaxia Club Victoria with Thunderbird styling and roofline that others are imitating but can't match.

The one '61 car built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself . . . and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer "lube job" (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminumized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

*Based on 18 minutes' service at today's national average labor rates.

"... after for too many years, the truth may set us free from the shackles of this once-sound but now outmoded document. . . . You would not expect your doctor to operate using the methods and tools of 1891. You would not expect an American serviceman to go into battle with the weapons of 70 years ago. You would not be content with the cars, the stoves, the sanitary conditions or the appliances of 1891. Your girls would not function with the transportation of the highways of 1891. And your state government, trying to operate in 1960, under the burden of a constitution written in 1891, is as handicapped as a coal-burning gunboat facing a Polaris submarine. Doesn't it make sense to let your government modernize itself, so that it can serve you better?"

Send money must be used to match Federal funds . . . no bond money can be spent on toll roads.

FOR BETTER ROADS

AND PARKS BOND ISSUE BECAUSE . . .

The 1966 bond issue made it possible to start the greatest road building program in Kentucky's history. These bond funds will soon be obligated or spent.

NOW—huge additional Federal funds are available to continue this vast program. Over 19,000 miles of roads—in all parts of the Commonwealth—are eligible for participation.

A "YES" vote will keep the road program going without increasing our taxes. If Kentucky's Federal Aid funds are not matched, they would be forfeited to other states.

If the bond issue is turned down, our accelerated road program would soon stop—or, our taxes must be increased to match Federal Aid.

After careful consideration every major group in Kentucky has officially endorsed the bond issue. Study this partial list—chances are many are familiar to you:

Student Philosophy Explained By Local School Authorities

The underlying philosophy of this division is that all facets of our work must center upon the improvement of the individual pupil in relationship to the total instructional program. It is felt that at no time can this division allow itself to be set aside from the remainder of the school services but must remain an integral part of such at all times.

The Pupil Personnel Division of the Walton-Vernon Schools subscribes to the philosophy that the school has a distinctive function to perform in furthering the education of children. That education as an experience is not only for the purpose of developing the intellectual capacities of the individual but with the expanding role and increasing importance of education, it feels that many and varied opportunities should be available to develop the physical, emotional, spiritual and social being. Through this concept it accepts the fact that the family, community, the church and other such agencies have in many ways contributed to laying the foundation to the total development of the individual before he enters school.

By accepting the theory of individual differences, thereby planning to meet individual needs in accordance with ability and interests, the whole child will be served in such a manner as to bring about optimum growth in the democratic way of life. Thus the uniqueness of each individual is prominent in the thinking of those giving pupil personnel services.

Pupil personnel services are for all children regardless of any factor present. Especially are those services directed to those children for whom some problem in personality structure or environment hinders their progress in any area of development. Above all, the Pupil Personnel Division of the Walton-Vernon Schools believes that it has a distinct and fundamental task to perform in the education of children. This task can be furthered by cooperative planning with other school and community resources whose purpose is to help the individual school child with a problem.

Taking Orders

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Walton Methodist Church will take orders for home made jam cakes, chocolate cakes and pecan pies, anytime between now and November 12th. Call HU. 5-4653 or HU.5-4272 to place your order.

Prune shrubs and evergreens just enough to keep them off the walks and from slopping against the house, windows or other objects.

Boone Co. Homemakers

"Fashions for Fall," was the theme of the 25th annual meeting of the Boone County Homemakers at Summit Hills on October 18th. One hundred and seventy-two members and guests attended the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Don Eger, county president. Devotion was given by Mrs. Raymond Bevin and the pledge to our flag by Mrs. Ralph Tucker. Mrs. Herman Oberjohann led the group in singing. Timely reports were given by the following federation chairman: Mrs. L. J. Levinson, membership, Mrs. Duncan Huey, publicity, Mrs. Herman Oberjohann, music, Mrs. Raymond Bevin, reading, Mrs. Ralph Tucker, citizenship.

Mrs. Leo Flynn gave recognition to the homemaker leaders of the twenty-five 4-H Clubs in the county that have a membership of seven hundred and eighty-five.

Mrs. Don Eger gave a most interesting and informative resume of the National Home Demonstration Council she attended in Madison, Wis.

Mrs. James Kottmyer, Northern Kentucky District Director, reported on the state board meeting she attended in Lexington recently. She announced that the district spring meeting will be held Saturday April 22nd in Carroll County.

Election of Mrs. Don Eger, president, Mrs. Leo Cotton, vice-president, Mrs. Ben Clair, secretary and treasurer, took place after the report of the nominating committee.

The guest speaker of the afternoon session was Mr. Robert E. Ruberg, president of the Kenton County Bar Association. A fashion show, sponsored by J. C. Penny of Covington, was a most enjoyable feature.

Time to Winterize Plants

November is the month when many ornamental and flowering plants should be prepared for winter, says N. R. Elliott, UK Extension horticulturist.

Kentucky winters harm many plants, unless protected, because of the alternating freezing and thawing during winter months.

Chrysanthemums that are 18 to 24 inches tall should have all the old, dead bloom stems cut about 6 inches above the ground. Destroy these stalks as they may carry insects and disease, Elliott warns. Then, spread old fertilizer bags or some other kind of loose waven burlap over the 6 inch stems, this gives protection and still permits air to circulate. Poultry droppings may be spread lightly over the burlap.

The small, bunch-type mums also should have the old blooms cut and removed. A light mulch of old straw or hay should be worked in among the plants with just a little over the top.

Hybrid tea roses, if left unprotected often kill to the ground. The roses will grow next year, but the plant will be a wild non-descript rose, he notes. Soil, ground corn cobs or straw may be used to protect roses.

Soil is very good for protecting roses, but mulching soil must be brought in and this takes quite a bit of work. Do not pull up the soil from the roots to mulch around the stems, this subjects the roots to winter injury. About one half bushel of soil is needed for each rose. Pour the soil down over the plant, making a mound about 10 to 12 inches high on the stems.

If ground corn cobs are used, mound them up around each plant until they are 12 to 14 inches high. If the cobs are coarsely ground, a few leaves may be scattered over the mound of cobs. Old hay or straw can be placed around the plant until mulch is 12 inches high, usually, wet netting or something to prevent the straw from blowing away will be needed. Leaves are not good for mulching roses as they become wet and freeze against the stem of the plant injuring the bark, Elliott concludes.

OAK RIDGE

Shirley Tullent, Editor—FL 7-6881

This is another typical Halloween day. Have you ever noticed how cabbage night is usually lovely, warm and clear, but the weather always changes drastically on Halloween and if the children waited to 'trick or treat' on Halloween they would all be sick from colds.

We are sorry that we missed getting our column in last week. Our mailman got around a little earlier than usual and we did not have it ready, and then we didn't have it to take it to Walton.

Mr. T. C. Richardson is sick in bed. His sons took him to the hospital Sunday morning, but he wouldn't stay. They took X-rays and let him come home. He has never been in the hospital in his life, and he like to visit it that way. He would enjoy a keep from any of his old friends.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Reita Tittle. She and her husband have an apartment in Edinboro, Pa. She had been sick for several months.

Several children in the neighborhood are suffering from the mumps. Among those having the mumps are Joan Wren, Sandy King, Diane Miller, Keith Lillard, and his mother Mrs. Janet Lillard.

Donnie Jones had his left wrist broken Sunday morning at church, when another boy pushed him off the porch. He didn't tell anyone that he was hurt, and walked home. His mother had to take him to the hospital where they put it in a cast.

The new school in Ryland Heights is opening today, and the children in the 7th grades are moving into the school.

Barry Bosterl is son of the pastor of Walnut Baptist Church, is in serious condition in St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he is suffering from a broken pelvis and internal injuries, as a result of an automobile accident Saturday night.

Hubert King has been on vacation the past two weeks, and he and Bill Tomlin spent one week of it fishing at Cumberland Lake. They were very disappointed though, as the fish just weren't biting.

The new Oak Ridge Laundromat is being completed, so that it can open as soon as the water is turned on in the area. A large filter system is being installed to filter all the sewage and take care of the drainage problem.

The Annie Allen Circle of Oak Ridge Baptist Church had a Halloween party Saturday night at the church basement. There were 11 couples present and a good time was had by all. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Whalen won the prize for the best costume. Mrs. Whalen was dressed as a baby pig, in a baby buggy and her husband was the mama.

The Junior Dept. of Oak Ridge Baptist Church had a weiner roast and a Halloween party at the church on Friday night, and a large group of Junior boys and girls enjoyed the evening.

Mrs. Arnold Perry's Sunday School Class had a Halloween party Friday night at her home. Those present were Tish Harris, Linda Hollingsworth, Linda Tillet, Patti Doolin, Terri Richardson and Linda Creekmore.

The Oak Ridge Homemakers Club met recently at the home of Mrs. T. B. Renaker. The roll call was answered by facts about the United Nations. Mrs. Arthur Kupferle had visited the United Nations session at one time and told many interesting facts about it. Mrs. Ollie Miller led the devotional.

By reading Matthew 24:42-51. Mrs. Arthur Kupferle gave a very interesting lesson on the Wise Use of Credit. She used charts and posters to illustrate her talk on the various types of credit, and the uses of each type. She told that proper use of credit is essential to our economy of today, but we can get ourselves in trouble by overextending our credit. The members of the club voted to bring coloring books to the next meeting, to be given to Steinford's for Christmas gifts to underprivileged children. Members plan a workday at Steinford's to help repair toys.

Members of the club brought handmade articles to the meeting and these will be mailed to the Women's Institute of Niton, England and be exchanged for articles made by the members of that Women's Institute.

A lovely luncheon was served by the hostess and following the meeting, a White Elephant sale was held.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Cushman and family over the loss of a dear one.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hudson and his two sisters of Warsaw called on their brother and Madison, Ind. Sunday.

A surprise birthday dinner was given in the home of Mrs. Walter Noel for her niece from Dayton, Ohio. She received many nice gifts.

Mrs. Nora Littlell visited Mr. and Mrs. Willie Osborn a few days last week.

Mr. Joe Clemens is in Owen County Hospital.

Bro. Tom Dunnaway had another heart attack and is in Owen County Hospital.

RE-ELECT JOHN SHERMAN COOPER

WORKS FOR KENTUCKY and Its People

Senator Cooper's Record of Experience and Accomplishment
In Public Works and the Development of Kentucky River Valleys

Before 1953, the Ohio River, the Green, the Kentucky, the Upper Cumberland and the Big Sandy rivers were neglected.

Since 1953, Senator Cooper has initiated the development of each of these river valleys—and under the Eisenhower Administration the greatest program of development in Kentucky's history has begun and is well under way.

In 1953 less than $3 million was appropriated for all Kentucky rivers. This year, nearly $70 million—23 times as much and the largest amount for any State in the Nation—was appropriated for Kentucky dams, reservoirs and water resource development. Today, river projects totalling $600 million are under construction in every section of Kentucky—all begun since 1953.

On the Ohio, Senator Cooper secured in the Senate in 1953 the appropriation to begin the construction of the new lock and dam at Greenup—the first step in the development of the Ohio River. Today, six great locks and dams are under construction in the new system of navigation facilities which will double the traffic capacity of the Ohio River. Four of these dams—at Louisville, Markland, New Richmond and Greenup—are on the Kentucky reach of the Ohio, and Congress this year provided money for planning of Cannelton lock and dam.

The Ohio River now carries more freight than any river in the world. And the development of the Ohio has attracted an estimated $2.6 billion in private industrial investment to the Ohio Valley. Low cost transportation and water supply provided by modernization of the Ohio will build the industrialization of the Ohio Valley, helpful to all counties on the Ohio and the entire State of Kentucky.

Senator Cooper is on the Subcommittee on Roads—which has provided $187 million for Kentucky roads in the last 8 years, and has allocated over $600 million for Kentucky's interstate road system.

Since 1953, the United States has invested more than $2 billion in Kentucky dams, roads, and other public works. And this does not include millions of dollars in loans for college housing, public housing, community facilities, farm credit, REA and telephone loans.

This is part of Senator Cooper's record—all done since 1953. As a member of the Senate Committee on Public Works and the Subcommittee on Public Roads, the Senate Committee on Agriculture and the Subcommittee on REA, Senator Cooper is in the best position to carry forward and secure the completion of these great river projects and other Kentucky development programs.

You know what Senator Cooper WILL DO by what he has ALREADY DONE.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By G. H. Kibgubury

Toll Charges:

There's a development of interest to Ohio River Valley folks underway here in Washington. It's a fight against any toll charges for use of those Ohio River locks and dams.

For the last several years there has been some agitation for a charge. Now the folks who own barge lines and other commercial craft are organizing to fight the trend. It will be an interesting battle come the return of lawmakers to Washington.

The Constitution: Kentuckians in the capital city are talking about the debate back home on a limited constitutional convention. The topic sent us to the Congressional Library and some background on earlier Kentucky constitutions.

For example, did you know that when the first constitution was drafted there was a fight between the British Party and the French Party. That was in 1792 and those nations had a lot of influence on our pioneer forefathers, strange as it may seem today.

Other Aspects:

We also learned in our research that the suggestion of a limited constitutional convention is something new. In other days the pioneers just re-wrote the whole document. What they did made people fearful.

The Government Section of the Library reports that the limited convention was tried in several states in recent years, notably Tennessee, New Jersey and Missouri.

Complications:

That law on medical care for the aged is going to cause a lot of headaches. It's a complicated bit of machinery based on the per capita income of each worker and the amount of money paid under old age pensions. This much we do know: Kentucky is going to get about the maximum amount in any case because the average income in the state is low. Ohio, Indiana and other states will get a smaller share of Uncle Sam's matching money.

CLEAN GARDEN NOW!

Insure your 1961 garden by reducing the insect and disease problem now, says Boone County Agent, Joe Claxon.

How? Destroy such things as old cornstalks, tomato plant vines, bean plant debris. All these and other 1960 garden remnants offer an ideal place for over-wintering of disease organisms and insects, Mr. Claxon says.

Destruction of the debris is important. If it is safe to do so, then burn the 1960 garden debris. Or it can be hauled away and dumped some place where it will not endanger your 1961 garden or others in the vicinity.

Facing My Sin

Lesson for November 6, 1960

IT IS NOT necessary to be "afraid" before being in touch with God. God is always in touch with all he has made. The trouble is, being in touch with God may not be a happy experience at all.

Consider the case of the poet who wrote the 32nd Psalm. He begins his poem by rejoicing in the happiness of a man who has had his sins forgiven. The forgiving touch of God does indeed bring joy to the heart. But the sense of God's presence had not always been a delight. Dr. Foreman light. (We can assume that this poet is talking about his own experience, not some other person's.)

God Has a Heavy Hand

He writes: "Day and night thy (God's) hand was heavy upon me." He suffered not only spiritual depression, but he had been physically worn-down too. Doctors today will tell you about "psychosomatic" ailments; that is, troubles which begin in the mind but which affect muscles and nerves and bones. Every hospital has patients who would not need to be there if they could come to terms with themselves and their problems. Ministers and hospital chaplains and psychiatrists know that often the only cure for an illness is not miracle-pills or an operation, but (so to speak) an operation on the soul. This is a modern re-discovery of what the Psalmist knew long ago, that a guilty conscience can actually bring on a fever and make a man lose weight and strength. God is in touch with sinners; but his touch is not to them a tender one.

Turning-point

The turning-point in that poet's experience came at the point where he "declared his sins" when he broke down and confessed. There is no mention here of any "Confessor" who stood in the place of God. The sinner faced his God directly. He made his confession at first hand.

Much is said about a forgiving God. He is even thought of as a kind of gigantic forgiving-machine, with pardons rolling out like newspapers from a printing-press. Not at all. God's forgiveness is never in the Bible said to be automatic. There are conditions. The main condition is certainly not to get a great deal better, or even a little better, before God will consent to do anything for you. That's hardly possible. The condition is that you face your self, your actual sinful selfish mean self, get a good look and be ashamed. The condition is that you realize you cannot forgive yourself; you don't need to and it will do you no good. What you need is forgiveness from a higher source, nothing short of God.

On God's Way

After God has forgiven, then what? Do I sit down happily and contemplate his grace? Do I take up my time with halloo-lahs? Do I spend the rest of my life writing songs about God's forgiving love? Not so. It is true, the experience of relief, release and rejoicing, that overwhelms one who has repented and confessed, has inspired many another forgiven sinner, and not only the author of Psalm 32, to write poetry decrying his great experience. But most of life is not poem-writing. Life for the forgiven man is like a road, it stretches out into the future, and it is not always clear daylight on that highway. Confusing shadows lie across it, a man needs guidance. That is the point of verses 8 and 9 of Psalm 32. The forgiven man is in touch with God in a new way: the Lord is his guide. He had been like a fractious mule, pulling away from God all the time, and feeling sore from the bit pulled tight. Now God tells him to be a man, not a mule any longer, a man, not a beast, a man who can follow directions, a man who has his sin and his sin open to the wise counsel of God. There is something more than wisdom on the way of God; there is love. A less than loving God is not going to be a forgiving God. And so the forgiven man looks back and realizes that God's once heavy hand lay on him not to destroy him but to draw him into God's true way.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verse
Sunday	Isaiah	7	18-19
Monday	Proverbs	6	1-3
Tuesday	Galatians	4	1-7
Wednesday	Philippians	2	1-14
Thursday	1 Timothy	2	1-17
Friday	Hebrews	1	1-14
Saturday	Psalms	77	15-16

I call Bruce my combination angel-terror. Soon he will be four, and he is a fascinating mixture of mischief and goodness.

At bedtime, I always tiptoe into his room to be sure he's covered. Then it is that I am struck by the innocence of his face in sleep. Then it is that I realize how helpless is this small dynamo, who plunges with such boundless energy about our house and yard all day. Then it is that I am struck by the awesomeness of my responsibility.

I realize it is entirely up to me to see that Bruce learns right from wrong, to see that he grows into the sort of man who will be a credit to his family, his community, and his country. I must teach him to keep a steady heart and a level head, to resist the many temptations that will be strewn in his path, to hold honor and truth and integrity high.

When I think of my task, I send a small and special prayer to God to aid me. And I thank God for his Church on earth which, for years to come, will be helping me, again and again, in making my small mischief into a man.

Nothing to Fear But Kennedy Folly

On Foreign Policy:
The "Kennedy Jitters"

"...Senator Kennedy made what is probably his worst blunder of the campaign. His statement this week on Cuba, publicly calling for Government aid to overthrow Castro, is a clear violation of the inter-American treaty prohibition against intervention in the internal affairs of the hemisphere republics."

JAMES RESTON, New York Times—Oct. 23, 1960

"I am not prepared to apologize to Mr. Khrushchev—are you? I am not prepared to send regrets to Mr. Khrushchev—are you?" (shouted to a Washington State Democratic Convention at Spokane).

—Senator LYNDON B. JOHNSON, May 30, 1960

"Senator, are you certain that you are quite ready for the country or that the country is ready for you in the role of President in January, 1961? I am greatly troubled about the situation we are up against in the world now and in the immediate future. That is why I would hope that someone with the greatest possible maturity and experience would be available at this time."

—HARRY TRUMAN, July 2, 1960

On

Policy:
The "Kennedy Market"

New York Times Headline:

FEARS REFLECTED IN BUBBLE OF GOLD

"All these fears, in addition to direct concern about the future of the dollar, were reflected in the decline of the dollar against gold in the London market."

"...another was the fear that a Democratic victory on November 8, despite the reassurances of Senator John F. Kennedy, the party's candidate, would have the same result. In his third television debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Mr. Kennedy expressed his determination to maintain a "sound monetary and fiscal policy" but some of his hearers found this at variance with the Democratic platform and with Mr. Kennedy's quarrels with what he has termed the "high interest rate policy" of the Federal Reserve."

NEW YORK TIMES, October 23, 1960

"In a number of ways Senator Kennedy has antagonized the mass of Negroes, and they will not vote for him at the head of the ticket."

—ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, July 12, 1960

"The amount of money being spent on Kennedy's campaign is phenomenal, probably the highest amount spent on a campaign in history."

—ADLAI STEVENSON, February 29, 1960

"My opponent and his campaign aides may feel it is possible to buy a State, but they certainly can't hope to win by such tactics in November."

Insects Can Be Killed

Leafy vegetable sometimes are hit hard by insects in the cool fall weeks, says J. G. Rodriguez, UK Experiment Station entomologist, particularly aphids when cool nights help their buildup.

Some of the insects on cole crops, such as cabbage, turnips, broccoli, etc., can be killed by Malathion. This material is best for the home gardener. Use 1 pound actual Malathion per acre in a spray (1 tablespoonful of the emulsion concentrate per gallon of water) and allow 7 days after treatment before harvesting.

Commercial gardeners can use Phosdrin, taking special care to observe safety precautions recommended for this material. Use 1 pint of the emulsion concentrate per acre and allow 3 days after treatment before harvesting.

Rodriguez says a commercially available sticker material should be mixed with the materials to help them stick to the plants.

One of the tricks to successful use of the clothes dryer is to avoid overdrying. To test an article for dryness, pull a corner of the garment completely out of the dryer. Fabrics seem more moist inside than when tested out in the air.

Planned Progress Statement

A Committee for Planned Progress in regard to the sewer system in Walton, has been formed and makes the following statement:

"You are an important person. Yes, you, your desires and your thoughts are very important to your fellowmen and women on the Town Council of Walton. They represent you in the business of the town and, in our opinion, we are in good hands. "We cannot begin to afford a sewer system in Walton under the present circumstances, so said the U. S. Government authority, Robert U. S. Goetzman, at the recent meeting at our city building. By the time the bonds which would finance such an impossible project would be retired, each of Walton's 500 users would possibly have been billed as much as $3,000.00 or more for sewer fees. Our Council is aware of this and, we understand, have never considered straddling us with such a burden. "They have been carefully pro-

Worthington Named To School Board

Charles "Chick" Worthington

Plans For New Gym Ready; Take Look!

The Walton-Verona Board of Education held its regular business meeting on Monday, November 7, when they filled a vacancy that has existed for two months by appointing Mr. Charles "Chick" Worthington, to fill the unexpired term of Myra Hayden. Mr. Hayden's new business required that he move to Owen County and meeting date of this move it was necessary that he resign his post on the Board.

The appointment of Mr. Worthington was a unanimous choice of the Board and all members were pleased when he accepted.

Mr. Worthington has served in public office before and he was found to be a man with a great desire to see Walton, Verona and the surrounding area move forward and become progressive communities.

At this meeting Mr. Asa Rouse was employed as school board attorney on a yearly basis and the regular meeting date was changed from the first Monday night to the third Thursday night.

A lot of excitement and enthusiasm was created when the architect, Mr. Henry Mikkelson delivered the preliminary scale model of a new gym and classroom addition for the Walton-Verona schools. The model is placed in the Superintendent's office and the public is invited to come in to look at it. There is every indication that the new gym will be ready next fall.

Plans are also being made to organize 4-H Clubs at Highland Heights School. The 4-H Club agents have met with the principal, Mr. Edward Bequard, and plans have been made for the 4-H program to be explained to the teachers at a faculty meeting at the school.

Independence Set For $560,000 Water System, Is Report

City of Independence which has agreed to build a $560,000 water system, continued final stages of preparation Tuesday before actual construction is started.

Several hundred consumers already have signed contracts with the city to take water at a minimum rate of $5.50 a month. This includes $1 for fire protection which means installation of fire plugs.

A spokesman said the minimum bill also would be $250.00 a gallon of water. Residents of the city, as well as those within a five mile radius, will be included in Kenton County's newest water system. There are about 700 potential users.

The supply will come from City of Taylor Mill which has just completed its own system. Taylor Mill gets water from Covington.

At Taylor Mill the lines are being tested and a 240,000 gallon storage tank has been filled. It is expected that water will be in the homes by November 15.

The board chose to tie-in with the Taylor Mill system at Pelly road and Fowler Creek. At this point the two cities are a little more than a mile apart.

Before actual construction can start the city must get a certificate of convenience and necessity from the Public Service Commission. It already has a permit from the state board of health for the system.

A revenue bond issue for $560,000 would have to be sold to pay for the network of high-inch and steel-line pipe storage tank and pump. The bonds would be retired from revenue from the sale of water.

Walton Literary Club Met at Mrs. Alan H. Gaines Home Here

The Walton Women's Literary Club was entertained for the November meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan H. Gaines with Mrs. J. R. Conrad and Mrs. B. W. Gaines assisting Mrs. Gaines in hostessing.

There were twenty-two members and twelve guests in attendance. The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Robert M. Daniels. After the salute to the flag of the United States of America and the reading of the Club Collect, roll call was answered by giving a world event.

The Spiritual Guidance was given by Mrs. J. R. Whealdon.

Mrs. A. H. Gaines, program chairman introduced the speaker, Mr. Truett DeMoisey who spoke on the Constitutional Amendment.

After the meeting the hostesses served an attractive salad course to guests. Mr. Truett DeMoisey, Mrs. R. F. DeMoisey, Miss Mary West, Misses Lizzie and Sallie Vest, Mrs. E. A. Beall, Mrs. Grover C. Young, Mrs. Marvin Gaines, Mrs. Wadsworth Latimer, Mrs. Anna L. Wadsworth, Mrs. Gayle McElroy, Miss Louise Conrad, Mrs. Jesse Gallen, Mrs. Robert M. Daniels, Mrs. A. H. Gaines, Mrs. Wallace K. Grubbs, Mrs. J. R. Flynn, Mrs. B. W. Franks, Mrs. J. L. Hamilton, Mrs. Walter Hays, Mrs. Marvin Kendall, Mrs. George Knox, Mrs. D. L. Lusty, Mrs. H. F. Mann, Mrs. G. C. Ransom, Mrs. Julia Rouse, Mrs. W. W. Rouse, Mrs. Walter Robinson, Mrs. Forest Thompson, Mrs. James Webster and Mrs. J. R. Whealdon.

Fire Auxiliary Met Nov. 1

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Walton Fire Dept. held their monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 1st, with Victoria Brown as hostess. Plans were made for the Christmas party.

Those present were Betty Berhimer, Mary Berhimer, Betty Carlisle, Delores Wilson, Jean Thornton, Sue Miller, Martha Miller, Ruth Vest, Nellie Engle, Victoria Brown and Nora Simpson.

Plan is finished.

"If the survey is made now, whatever it discloses will, in all probability, be of no value whatever by the time any serious consideration can be given to the sewer problem. Where will the potential industrial waste be concentrated, residential, etc? We don't know yet, nor will the expensive sewer surveys.

"Let's wait. Careful progress is fine. Haste, which the Government financed sewer planning would be at this time, makes waste.

"Council remembers that you do not want the sewer project. You recall the little questionnaire that was in with the water bill some months ago. But this question of a preliminary survey is a different matter. If you feel sure a survey is unnecessary at this time, for your sake and the sake of your future pocketbook, come or send a representative to the Council meeting at the city building on November 14."

Compliment of Ralph Grimme

You've never driven a heavy-weight that handled like this one!

HERE! EASIER GOING FOR THE DRIVER AND THE LOAD, LONGER LIFE FOR THE TRUCK!

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on.

CHEVROLET

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvaire 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

CORVAIR—Side doors open a full 49" wide. Loading height is a low 14" BMT

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Luke	10	8
Monday	John	16	30
Tuesday	Matthew	23	11-12
Wednesday	Acts	13	1-8
Thursday	Revelation	22	12-14
Friday	Isaiah	4	15-16
Saturday	Luke	9	38

It's hard for grownups to grasp what it means to be a child today!

We grew up yesterday. The planes and radios which had startled our parents were commonplace to us. Television and jets we could take in stride. But Space! Who among us expected to live in a Buck Rogers era?

Yet to our youngsters nothing seems more natural than man's invasion of the universe. Everything that went before was preparation. We are ready to blast off. And the man who will establish our first colony on Mars is probably training for his mission in a sixth grade classroom...

Was there ever a time when religious, moral and spiritual development were more essential to our youth? The Truth man will cherish on Earth, and carry with him among the stars, is being taught every Sunday in our churches. Is your child... and the home in which he is growing up... FIT FOR THE AGE?

Mrs. J. A. Keeney—FL 7-5018

Surprise! We were expecting only one minister to arrive after conference, but just learned we have two. On Sunday evening the W. S. C. S. had charge of the service and really thrilled us with a talk on "Be Instant in Prayer."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loney and J. B. Loney visited his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gilligan at Batavia, Ohio on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Barnett had as luncheon guests on Saturday, Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Barley, Rev. and Mrs. Warner P. Davis and the Shepherds.

J. A. Keeney celebrated his birthday in Oct. 31. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rector and grand children, Mrs. T. J. Stephens, Misses Alma and Mary Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stephens and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton and children were guests for a birthday dinner. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Don Keeney and Mrs. E. B. Rich called. He received quite a few cards and thanks all of his friends for everything.

The turkey supper that was planned for Nov. 12th has been cancelled for the present. We hope you will not forget us and watch for a future date.

Mrs. Larry Haubner who has been quite ill is much improved.

Unified Thanksgiving Service Wednesday At Methodist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Webb

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas Webb, (nee Ester Ashcraft), were married October 15th, in a candle-lighted, double ring ceremony, Rev. Joseph R. Tackett officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wootson J. Ashcraft, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Day of Walton.

Mr. Wilbur Ferguson accompanied by Mrs. Bryan Rector, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in prayer by her father the bride was lovely in her gown of Tulle and Chantilly lace, with a billowing full skirt that tapered into a chapel train.

Miss Myra Ashcraft, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Miss Sylvia Day, sister of the groom was bridesmaid.

James Burden, cousin of the groom, was best man, and John and Kenneth Ashcraft, brothers of the bride and William Burden, cousin of the groom were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the lower auditorium of the church.

After a honeymoon to Cumberland Falls, the groom returned to Norfolk, Va. where he is a 3rd class petty officer in the U. S. Navy, assigned to the cruiser U. S. S. Newport News. Mrs. Webb will join him in Norfolk in January.

Building Fund Started

For some years there has talk that Walton Chapter No. 161 needed a Building Fund, so a committee has been appointed, we have a small bank account, but with the help of all members we can see this grow. The committee is selling wrapping paper, ribbon and tags, all to make your Christmas gifts more beautiful. So anyone needing these things please contact any member or see Evelyn Sizemore or Viola Roberts.

O.E.S. TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Walton Chapter of the O. E. S. will be held Monday Nov. 21st at the lodge hall. Plans will be made for the Christmas party. Mrs. Ann Ritchie, Worthy Matron and Mr. Charles Alphin, Worthy Patron will preside.

Farm - City Week Activities Climaxed By Dinner Nov. 22nd

Farm City Week activities for Boone and Kenton Counties will be climaxed by a dinner at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, November 22 at Town and Country, Park Hills, with Kentucky Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward as speaker.

Those voting for were Amanda Yealey, Clinton Shields and Howard Fieldhaus. Those opposed Bryan Rector and Robert Stephenson.

There was about twenty people at the meeting, some for and some opposed, and a lengthy discussion was held. Some suggested that the decision be postponed, due to some misunderstanding of what the report, Mr. Hertzmann, had recommended. The request was not approved.

After the delegation heard the Council approve the Sewer Survey, and left, City Council proceeded with Resolution, that passed unanimously, authorizing Mayor Leon B. Hall and Trustee DeMoisy, City Attorney, to obtain forms from the Federal Home and Housing Finance Agency for a grant to make preliminary survey to determine feasibility of the system.

Mr. DeMoisy explained that the grant which will pay for the survey will not cost the citizens anything if the sewers are found not feasible. If the system should be built, the grant must be repaid to the government.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Klingsbury

It's All Over:

By the time this reaches you, it'll be all over and the nation will have a president-elect. It will also have some new congressmen and senators.

By this time some of their already are on the way to the Capital City in spite of the fact that Congress will not convene until early January. The newcomers, however, will want to get their names in for some of the better office suites. Some of the old timers will want to make changes.

How It Works:

For many years Congress has abided by a set of rules on assigning space. For example, such a veteran as Congressman Brent Spence can get almost any suite of rooms he desires. Congressman John Watts of the Blue Grass district also is in a favorable position.

Others, like Rep. Frank Stubblefield of the First District, is a comparative newcomer and must stand in line. However, he, too, may cap additional accommodations, assuming he wants them. We might add, though, that Mr. Stubblefield already is in one of the better office apartments.

More To Come:

Some lawmakers, like Congressman Frank Chelf, just don't want to make a change. He has occupied the same set of rooms in the Old House Office Building for many years although he is high on the list if he wants to move.

Another congressional office building is being constructed but it will take several years before that structure is completed. It will provide each lawmaker with much, much more space if he wants to make the change.

The Standing:

After all the oldtimers are cared for, the newcomers get a chance. Here, too, there is a system. Some defeated congressmen are returning and they come in ahead of the freshmen. In addition, any high state official, like a governor, also gets a priority.

In addition, many other benefits go to lawmakers, free haircuts, reduced costs on making television and radio tapes, free stamps, free stationery and, of course, an office staff based on a complicated formula.

We Give Thanks

Lesson for November 20, 1960

"THANKSGIVING will never be as commercialized as Christmas," some one remarked, "because no presents are given at Thanksgiving. Stores can sell Christmas gifts, but they can't sell gratitude!"

Well, is this true? No presents at Thanksgiving? On the contrary, when this holiday is truly celebrated, it is precisely because of the avalanche of gifts. Not these that can be bought in a store, they are not gifts to which any price tag can be attached. They are God's gifts, and Thanksgiving is the day when we stop to think about him and thank him. Or do we?

Who Give Thanks

You don't always feel very deeply grateful for something you have earned by hard work. You may be very glad you got when it was. You may be highly satisfied by getting it. But if thanks are due, they may be more in the way of self-congratulations than anything else. You are most in the mood for thanks when you know very well that you did not and perhaps could not have produced whatever it is for which you are thankful. We who give thanks to God—whether every morning or every Sunday or on such special occasions as our national Thanksgiving holiday—are his beneficiaries. There is no possible way of repaying God for his blessings.

It is quite true that there are some blessings in life which we do not have unless we work for them. For example, the respect of the community where we live is a real blessing; but without genuine effort on a man's part, other people will never respect him. Health is an incalculable asset; but health never perches over a man's door if the man persists in doing all the things that ruin health. Health is earned, respect is earned, in a way; but nevertheless in both these cases, and others the reader can think of, one can demand neither respect nor health. There is no "delivering" so much honor or respectability, in barter for the respect. There is no precise set of rules for the keeping of which one will always be as buoyant as a sixteen-year-old. Some people keep health all their lives but are dogged by illness. Others live honorably, yet are repudiated by their own neighbors. (Jesus suffered that tragedy.)

Whom Do We Thank?

There are other blessings which more evidently come from God. They were, so to speak, given with the world at creation. The succession of the seasons, the beauty of the skies, the marvel of life itself, this body so cramped with miracles, this spirit that can soar out of time and space; for all these we thank God because there is no other Creator. Yet there are also blessings that come to us through friends, parents, brothers and sisters—yes, even through our enemies. Here we can give double thanks. First we can thank those who brought these blessings to us—friends, relatives, strangers—and also we can thank God. For if you sit down at a quiet time and ask yourself about any particular blessing, let us say the trust of a little child whom you know—ask yourself, where did this come from, in the long run?

For What Are We Thankful?

We give thanks to God for the great mercies, for sparing our lives from destruction, for the forgiveness of sins (the greatest single blessing we can have) and for the "hope of glory." But in the brightness of these great mercies we may overlook the smaller gifts from His hands, those lesser mercies without which the greater could not be. Easiest of all to overlook are those blessings which come disguised. In a time of deep suffering one may not see what God has in mind—one may be tempted even to feel that God has forgotten and does not care. But in time—in God's time—we can look back and see our pain in perspective. And then we may gratefully see that not only did God permit it, he sent it, for reasons even we shall see.

Dr. Foreman

WORLDWIDE BIBLE READING
AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

Yes, faces are different the world over. But hearts have a common hunger. For Hope... Life... Truth.

Therefore, expressing the fervor of the citizens and churches of this brave, free land, the American Bible Society has sought for 144 years to translate and distribute the Scriptures for every nation and tribe.

Many local congregations, directly or through their denominations, are supporting this vital work. In addition, the suggested readings which appear regularly in these advertisements are provided by the American Bible Society, and reach you as another contribution of American citizens and churches to this important cause.

You see, worldwide Bible reading is the simple, practical expression of one of our fundamental convictions: The Bible IS the Book for Everyone.

Tonight—at the dinner table or in a quiet moment—millions of American homes will put that conviction into earnest, reverent, daily practice! Will yours?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a schoolhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four main reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plans to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Beechgrove Homemakers

Credit is a useful tool when it is intelligently used, however, it may be unwise to use it when it provides a scale of living beyond the family's ability to pay. Credit is often the only way some families have to meet emergencies. These were some of the points stressed in the lesson, "Wise Use of Credit" given by Mrs. F. M. Powers and Mrs. Vergil W. Kelly at the October meeting of the Beechgrove Homemakers Club.

Ten members were honored for perfect attendance last year and given a gift from the club.

The following officers were installed for the coming year: Mrs. Russell Quick, President; Mrs. Roy Kumer, Vice-President; Mrs. Virgil W. Kelly, Secretary; and Mrs. Frank Afterkirk, Treasurer.

COOPERATION Is a Kentucky tradition!

COOPERATION brings electricity to 9,059 rural families in Pendleton, Carroll, Grant, Campbell, Owen, Boone, Galloway, Scott and Kenton counties.

VOLUNTEER FIRE FIGHTERS OR POWER LINE REPAIR CREWS!

There's not a man or boy here in Kentucky who won't turn out to lend a hand at the cry of "Fire!" To provide effective fire fighters in the less populated rural areas, volunteer fire departments have been organized and trained. No one gets paid—no one expects to. It's merely another case of neighbors banding together to take care of their own needs by themselves.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. And the power line crews doing emergency repair work day and night in all sorts of weather are symbols of that cooperation. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves... show how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited, too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in the cities and towns.

Rural Electricity Benefits Everyone

Clothing Collection Continues for Needy The World Over

The new stories all over the world dramatize the great need in time of emergency of wearable used clothing, shoes, blankets, bedding materials and still supplies collected in the annual Thanksgiving Clothing Collection. Over and above these emergencies there is the continual appeal for these supplies from the needy and destitute of the world.

Last year through the Clothing Collection 14,080,957 pounds of clothing were shipped to people in 53 countries with an estimated value of more than $20 million. Why not take time out to check through your clothes closets this week.

Gather together all the clothing which you are no longer using but which is still wearable and bring it to All Saints Church, Verona Road, Walton, (any time of the day) until November 27. You bring us the clothing and we pack it, ship it, to the needy.

Regulations Given Farmers "How To Get Tobacco Base"

Applications for 1961 new grower tobacco allotments are now being accepted in the Boone and Kenton County ASC Offices according to the two county chairmen, J. Lassing Huey in Boone, and Russell Rector in Kenton.

They pointed out that all of the following requirements must be met in order to qualify:

1. Have had at least two years experience within the last five years (1956-60) in growing tobacco as owner, operator, sharecropper or cash renter.
2. Live on the farm.
3. Own the farm.
4. Operate the farm.
5. Not own or operate another farm that will have a 1961 tobacco acreage allotment established on it, and the farm covered by the application must not have a 1961 allotment established for any other type of tobacco.
6. Derive at least 50% of his entire livelihood from the farm covered by the application.

In addition the farm must not have been part of a farm that has had an allotment established on it within the past 5 years, unless the entire tract covered by the application was determined to be noncompliant at the time it was divided from the parent farm. A farm that has lost its allotment within the past 5 years because of failure to harvest tobacco in any of those years would be eligible for a new grower allotment if all other eligibility requirements are met.

Applications can be secured from the County ASC Offices. February 15, 1961 is the last day that an application can be filed.

Petitions Are Being Signed at 3 Places

The Committee for Citizens Welfare, made up of a growing number of interested citizens of Walton, went on record Friday night as opposed to a sewer system in Walton at this time.

At the same meeting this policy was expressed, officers were elected and the Committee named was selected (it was formerly the Committee for Planned Progress). The new name, Committee for Citizens' Welfare, was suggested by Mr. Hess Vester, and unanimously adopted as being very appropriate because, a spokesman said, the Committee was formed with the welfare of all of Walton's citizens uppermost in mind.

Officers elected were: R. C. Brakefield, chairman; George W. Readnour, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Margaret Finnell, secretary-treasurer.

"This planned sewer system is not subject to the vote of the people," explained Chairman Brakefield, who further explained, "Most people think they will get a chance to vote on it but such is not the case. It is a startling fact that if the majority of action council decides to go ahead with this $750,000 sewer system, there is nothing the people can do about it, even if 90% of the citizens are opposed to it."

At the town council meeting on November 14th, after a motion by Councilman Amanda Yealey, seconded by Councilman Clinton Shields Yealey, Shields and Councilman Howard Feldhaus voted that a sewer survey grant be applied for even though several citizens were present who requested that vote be postponed until the Government expert, Mr. Robert Goetzman, could attend and repeat his views. Councilman Bryan Rector and Robert Stephenson voted not to apply for the survey at this time, and therefore, the Yealey motion carried three to two.

A Committee spokesman explained that the Committee was not against a sewer system altogether, because some day it may be needed, but that the Committee by-laws adopted the principle that the Committee is opposed to any sewer system until the population is at least 3500, then only upon an expression of approval by the majority of Walton's citizens. The cost per user at this time would be tremendous, he explained.

A petition seeking signatures of all who share the same feeling has been prepared and may be signed at the Brakefield Drug Store, Readnour Coal and Feed Co., and at the law office of Miss M. Rouse, who is the Committee attorney.

"As Mr. Brakefield has said, the people will get no vote on this, no matter how much it may cost them or how much they are now opposed to it," said Mr. Rouse. "You see, under the law, this bond financing prevents this from being like a tax levy which, for example, would require a vote of the people."

The Committee secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Finnell explained, "We have formed this Committee because we simply cannot take a chance on the town council will do. I went to the town board meeting last Monday night (Nov. 14th) with an open mind and was startled when three members of the council overrode the other two and overrode the wishes of the citizens that were there and forced a vote for the sewer survey without waiting a week or ten days for the Government expert to clarify his position. The three council members seemed to insist that the Government man had recommended the survey. There was considerable disagreement on whether he did or not."

Mr. Brakefield, the chairman, added, "I am concerned when these three members of council ignore so many people and refuse to wait for just a week or ten days if they act that way concerning the sewer survey, they might as well raise the $750,000 sewer system up now."

When planning your food budget, keep in mind the resources you have available—time, money, energy, skill in meal planning; buying and preparing food; and equipment for preparation space and refrigerator space for storage. These factors will enter into the type of food you buy, notes Miss Elizabeth Helton, UK Extension specialist in foods and nutrition.

Here's a rule for buying that women usually remember when buying food but men forget when buying socks—yet it is important in both cases. Purchase two pair of the same color; then when one wears out, you will still have an undamaged pair, points out Mrs. Rachel Wallace, UK Extension specialist in clothing.

Strength In God

Lesson for November 27, 1960

WHAT IS needed in this world is not always better people. It's people who will stay as good as they are, just a while longer. You have your best moods, don't you? Or if you don't, some people around you surely have some good moments. Suppose those moods lasted longer? Suppose those moments became hours or days? The difference between one really good person and another who really isn't, may not always be that one is good, the other bad. They both may be good, only one of the two is able to stick with it, he has staying power, he doesn't fade; while the other one folds up in a hurry.

Strength Against

When you read the 6th chapter of Ephesians you get the impression that life is a fight, a struggle for the Christian. Yes, that is true, we must say especially for the Christian. The non-Christian doesn't try to swim against the tide, he goes with the crowd. If a man sets out to be a Christian he soon enough discovers that it is no bed of roses. He discovers where strength is needed: for one thing, against the pull of temptation. Strength of body may help, but one's very physical strength may be a source of temptation. Strength of mind may help; but a strong mind again may itself be a temptation to doubt and pride. It is strength inside, strength of spirit, that counts most in the fight against temptation. Many an alcoholic, or others who find liquor a real temptation even if not rated "alcoholics," knows how this is! Just to say NO—how hard it is! Other people can help, but the fight is really on the inside of the one who is tempted. The battle-field may be out of sight, but the battle is terribly real.

Strength For—

Just as a Christian needs inner strength to hold out longer against temptation of all kinds, so he needs strength within so as to keep his good intentions going. All of us have generous impulses. We aim to do something for some one. We have a picture of ourselves helping some one out of trouble... and that's all it ever is, a picture. We hang the walls of our mind with these pictures of ourselves all noble... but pure imagination. They are pictures of what we intended doing, what we may be started to do but never finished.

Or perhaps we really do get going on these fine projects, but get too tired too soon. We are like the grain in Jesus' parable that fell on rocky soil. It came up all right, but a few days' sun and it was gone. The good start had no follow-up. There was life in the plant but it had no staying power. What we need is inner strength, the "will that says, Hold on!"

How To Find Strength

One thing should be kept in mind at all times: inner, spiritual power is not like physical or mental power. Some people are born with better physiques than others. Some are born with high IQ's and the low-IQ people just never will catch up. Not everybody, in short, can be an athlete, not every one can be a "brain." But every one can have the inner strength about which we have been talking. If every one does not have it equally, and some not at all, it is not because any are barred off by God's decree. It is because some do not fulfill the conditions.

The very first condition, and the continuing one, can be put in a question: Do you want it? Here as in other matters, God is more willing to give than we are to receive. We do not have to make ourselves ready or fit before God's spirit comes into our hearts. We do have to do one thing, quite seriously. We must put ourselves at the Spirit's disposal. The Spirit of God will not come to the help of any one who uses, or tries to use, the Spirit for his own private ends. Only the Spirit of God within us is able to give us that inner strength which we so continually need. But the Holy Spirit is not to be bought, wheedled, harnessed or controlled. Only those who welcome the Spirit and yield to Him may have Him.

TO GIVE THANKS

Danny and Tess took part in the Thanksgiving tableau at school last week, and they did a good job. As I looked at them, I thought of the real Pilgrim children and that first Thanksgiving.

Our forefathers weren't inoculated against childhood illnesses. They didn't have miracle drugs and warm clothes. They certainly didn't have more than they could eat. They faced incredible hardships, with no bright toys for special rewards, no candy bars. But they knelt down in the cold with their parents and gave thanks to God just for being alive.

Can we do less today? Can we possibly do less, this Thanksgiving, than go to Church and humbly give thanks to our Creator for His wonderful gift of life?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Good Manners In Children As Easy To Learn as Reading

Any child can learn good manners, just as any normal child can learn to read, says Mrs. Mary Browder, UK Extension family life specialist. However, teaching good manners may take harder work and more patience than teaching the child to count to ten.

A child does not develop manners by himself, he must have help from adults, she points out. Home environment almost always shows up in the child's conduct. Children's bad manners usually can be traced to one of two major causes in their home life.

The first cause may be carelessness in the parent's own manners and speech, the parents may insist the child have good manners that the adults in his family do not practice themselves. The second cause could be unbalanced love, where overfond parents cannot bear to curb their child's freedom of expression or thwart his desires. Giving in to a child's every whim results in a spoiled child who causes everyone unhappiness, including himself.

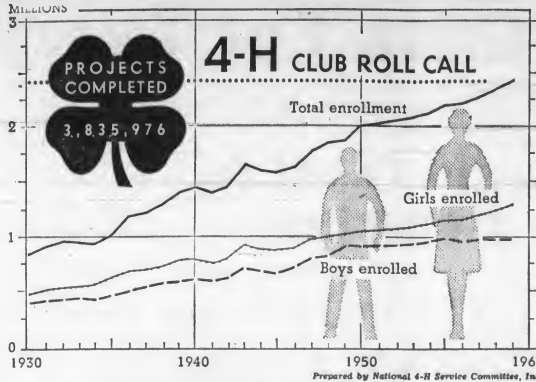

Children's manners, good or bad, usually are copied from the older persons with whom they spend their first few years. Yet very few adults bother to be as polite to children as they are to other adults, she notes. The child hears "please" and "thank you" often, he quickly will learn to use them himself.

Parents often make the mistake of considering manners apart from everything else the child thinks, does and says. His manners must be based on everyday manners. Children who are rude by habit cannot be taught to be polite on special occasions unless they are very good actors.

True politeness is the outward expression of the sympathy and kindness felt toward another. The child's manners should spring from his feelings. Unless he is guided so that he "feels" gracious or respectful or generous, there's no point in having him pretend to feel that way.

The first need, then, for training a well-mannered child is a home life no matter how simple, where each person is treated politely and considered of real worth, Mrs. Browder concludes. The child's manners will reflect what he has seen and heard at home, very few polite children come from homes where children are "seen but not heard," helpers always are "put in their places," or older persons are pushed aside as of no account.

The new plastics are good winter protection for pansy plants. Stretch the plastic over the pansies and fasten at the edges to prevent it from blowing off. Once or twice during the winter, lift the edge of the plastic to let in fresh air, then refasten.

The nearly four million projects completed by 2,300,000 4-H Club boys and girls in a single year is further proof that the "learn by doing" system is keeping young minds and hands busy. As a matter of fact, youth specialists say that the backbone of the organization which has grown steadily for more than a half century.

During the past three decades the number of girls enrolled in 4-H has topped the boys in just about the same proportion, according to figures supplied by the USDA. There are presently some 300,000 more girls than boys in club work. Ages range from 10 to 21 years.

Originally planned to help farm youngsters, the voluntary educational program now claims nearly half its membership from city and non-farm rural homes. Apparently "pride of accomplishment" is a key factor in the success of this particular brand of youth organization.

Sight from the very beginning of 4-H, interested parties have donated awards in recognition of top performance in citizenship, leadership and project achievement. This fall more than a thousand expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago will be given to state, sectional and national 4-H award winners. In addition about 200 teenagers will receive college scholarships, and one out of 15 members will win medals in local competition.

Six persons now engaged in Extension work and who are former 4-H'ers will share $18,000 in educational grants to be used in graduate study.

Business firms that sponsor programs and awards include: Ford Motors, achievement; Olin Mathieson Chemical, alumni recognition; E. I. du Pont de Nemours, beef; Standard Brands, bread demonstration; Oliver, dairy; Carnation, dairy foods demonstration; Simplicity Pattern, dress review; Hercules Powder, entomology; Arcadian Products Dept. of Allied Chemical, field crops; Betty Crocker of General Mills, food preparation.

Also, American Forest Products Industries, forestry; Whirlpool, frozen foods; Eli Lilly, health; John Deere, recreation; Moorman Mfg., sawing; Singer Sewing Machine, clothing leader training; Wm. Wrigley Jr., community relations; Ralston Purina, dog care and training; Pure Oil, public speaking; Chicago Board of Trade, grain marketing.

College scholarships and fellowships in amounts from $500 to $3,000 each are provided by: California Spray-Chemical, Homelite Division of Textron, Sperry and Hutchinson, Massey-Person and the National 4-H Service Committee.

Social Security Facts

For the fourth time in six years Congress has passed amendments to the social security law which liberalize the protection afforded disabled workers and their dependents.

Under the 1960 amendments, approximately 250,000 people, disabled workers under 50 years of age and certain of their dependents, are now eligible for social security benefits. Until now only those disabled workers between 50 and 65 and their dependents were eligible for monthly social security payments.

Younger disabled workers are now likely to have families dependent on them than older workers age 50 and over. Before the change in the social security law, many of them were dependent upon public assistance payments which are financed out of general tax funds. It is estimated that $28 million will be saved in public assistance payments during the next year now that many of these young disabled workers and their families are eligible for disability insurance benefits based on their past earnings and social security tax contributions under social security. It is expected that savings will be even greater in the years to come when fewer people who become disabled before age 50 will need help through public assistance.

If you are under 50 and have already had your social security record frozen, you will receive a letter explaining the new benefits and what you need to do about getting them for yourself and your dependents.

Do not get in touch with your social security office at this time. It will only delay the district office in taking action to get checks to you and others who are eligible for payments under the new law.

However, severely disabled workers under 50 who have worked under social security, but have never applied to have their social security records frozen, should get in touch with their nearest social security district office now to inquire about their rights to payments.

To qualify for disability insurance benefits, a disabled worker must be so severely disabled that he is "unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity."

In addition, he must have worked under social security for at least 5 years out of the ten years before he became disabled.

Benefits for disabled persons under 50 and their families can start with the month of November 1960.

NITROGEN APPLICATION NEEDED VERY SOON

Bluegrass fields from which seed will be harvested in the spring of 1961 should get on application of nitrogen fertilizer about Dec. 1, says R. C. Buckner, U. K. Experiment Station agronomist.

This application is part of a "split application" scheme devised to rotate seed production, Buckner says. This first application, about 100 lbs. ammonium nitrate per acre, is coupled with another 100 lbs. application made between Feb. 15 and March 15. This split application has been found most beneficial for seed production.

Medium to high levels of potassium and phosphorus also should be maintained on bluegrass seed fields, he says. The "pH" (acidity level or sweetness level) should be between 6.0 and 6.7.

Buckner notes that foliage in the field should be clipped or grazed to about 3 to 4 inches height sometime after seed harvest and before the December application. Spring grazing of such fields is detrimental to seed production.

Dwarf Hybrid Corn Inferior To Regular Kinds, Say Experts

Here's something to remember next season if you are considering switching to dwarf corn hybrids: They are inferior in yield to the standard types.

So says Frank Loeffel, UK Experiment Station corn specialist, reporting this week in the West.

Normal US 13 corn hybrid, at 11,600 plants per acre, yielded an average of 102.7 bushels an acre at the two location test site. Dwarf US 13 averaged 62.3 bushels an acre.

Normal US 13, at 21,000 plants an acre, averaged 127.9 bushels an acre, and dwarf US 13, at the same planting rate, 70.1 bushels an acre.

Loeffel said the ear-height factor in harvesting of US 13 averaged about 4 feet, for the dwarf, 1.5 feet. The dwarfs had a slightly higher erect plant percentage than the normals but not significantly so.

His conclusion: "The performance of the dwarf hybrid was distinctly inferior to normal height US 13 at each of the two planting rates."

NEW IDEAS FOR A NEW ERA

NATIONWIDE INSURANCE

NATIONWIDE MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY

Home Office Columbus, Ohio

Mr. Zion Homemakers

Mrs. Holmes created through the charts and visual aids the picture of Short Term Credit. Credit is family finance is a useful tool and a serious problem. It should be studied before attempting to use this privilege. With six families out of ten using some form of credit we also see possible failure to control over buying. Always remember to read the contract and figures. Most interest rates are astonishing when we stop to figure. Let Insurance Policies be the last source of credit. True credit is tricky as the nine members of the Mt. Zion Homemakers agreed during the November meeting held at the home of Mrs. R. McGuire.

For Devotion Mrs. R. Vanderschmidt read the one-hundredth Psalm. This was tribute to National Heritage "Why I am Thankful" was roll call response and Mrs. R. McGuire composed a poem "Thanksgiving" which she read, giving much inspiration.

Landscape chairman, Mrs. J. Schira read how to care for roses, during winter. She mentioned how every home could well afford a winter bouquet of plastic flowers.

Delicious luncheon was served by the hostess to the following: Mrs. R. Burns, Mrs. Noel Denham, Mrs. F. Domaschka, Mrs. A. Insko, Mrs. J. Schira, Mrs. R. Vanderschmidt, Mrs. H. Winburn and Mrs. C. Holmes.

The members decided to have a Christmas party, to be held at the Oyster Restaurant on December 14.

THE HEART OF AMERICA STILL BEATS

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Never Throw Away

Ever have a desire to toss away a lot of old letters, manuscripts and such other materials? Ever have a desire to clean out the desk drawers?

Well, Kentucky's lieutenant-governor, Wilson W. Wyatt, may have had that "clean-up" desire after the defeat of Adlai Stevenson in 1956 when he—Mr. Wyatt—was the Stevenson advisor. But he resisted the impulse.

Needed Today

Today a document prepared four years ago by Lieut. Governor Wyatt is being used by the Brookings Institute, a research organization located near the White House. It's a highly regarded Washington operation used by both Republicans and Democrats.

At any rate, Brookings has asked (and received) the Kentucky's paper he had prepared on the orderly transfer of government from one administration to another. And the data is now in the hands of the researchers.

May Be Used

There's no assurance, of course, that the incoming regime will use the material but it undoubtedly will serve to make easier the shifting of authority.

Naturally, the material was prepared for Mr. Stevenson but the impersonal approach to the problem can serve for any new administration. There's been a need for such a fact book for a long time.

Lot of Research

The document undoubtedly will save a lot of research. In fact, the request for it came from Clark Clifford, an attorney who was prominent in the Truman administration. He has been designated as "the man to work out the plans before inauguration day, January 20."

Incidentally, plans for the swearing-in ceremony are going ahead.

The stand in front of the Capitol will soon be completed and radio and television network officials are picking their camera spots right now.

Mammoth Cave, one of nature's most awesome wonders, is one of the largest caves in the world. Containing five different levels, the cave has over 175 miles of chartered avenues. Discovered in 1799, the cave first gained national fame during the War of 1812, when it was a major source of salt petre to supply gun powder for the American soldiers.

Social Security —

More the 900,000 children are now receiving social security survivors benefits. Under the 1940 amendments to the social security law, about 400,000 of these children will receive some increase in their monthly benefits.

The new law provides that the monthly social security benefit of each child of a worker who has died will be three quarters of the amount the amount the worker would have received if he had lived to draw retirement benefits. The old law provided that each child would get one half that amount with an additional one-quarter of the total amount divided among all the children.

Families eligible for increased payments do not need to get in touch with their social security office. The increased amounts will be added automatically to the check they will receive in January 1961.

However, not all families of deceased workers will get increased checks as a result of this change. For instance, where there is only one child entitled to benefits, that child is already receiving the amount will be payable under the new law. When Tom Milton died two years ago, he left a widow and his daughter, age 12. Since there was no other child entitled to benefits based on his earnings under social security, his daughter did not have to share the extra one quarter of Tom's retirement benefit amount. She has been and will continue to get a benefit equal to three quarters of his retirement benefit amount.

There are also some families with a number of children entitled to benefits who will not get an increased monthly check under this change in the law. These are families already receiving the maximum monthly amount that can be paid on the basis of the deceased breadwinner's earnings.

CARD OF THANKS

The family would like to take this opportunity to say, "thank you" to those who expressed their sympathy in the illness and death of our loved one, Wash Readnour.

ENFORCEMENT SEEN FOR CONSTITUTION

A well-known Kentucky newsmen, Allan Trout of the Louisville Courier-Journal, has ventured an opinion that the Kentucky Council of Appeals will begin strict enforcement of the state's constitution. A referendum to call a convention for revising the 70-year-old document was defeated in the last election. Trout indicated that enforcement of all the constitution's "archaic" provisions will cause residents to take it that should be updated. He ventured his opinion in a talk before journalism students at the University of Kentucky.

Burley Bring Record Price on Opening Day Ky. Markets

Burley tobacco, on the opening day Monday, brought an all-time high average of 66.29 a hundred pounds Monday in Kentucky as the new market opened.

The price of this best burley producing state, was 56 cents a hundred better than the old high of $65.73 two years ago. And on opening day last year it amounted to $63.47.

The 29 markets sold 15,903,877 pounds Monday, returning gross $10,341,124.

The high price reflected the pre-season forecast of numerous tobacco men who said the new crop, while not fancy, contained much useful tobacco sought by the cigarette manufacturers.

At Erlanger's Market

Opening at Erlanger's New Kenton warehouse was strong and continued firm throughout the day, according to Ottwell Rankin, secretary-treasurer of the warehouse and of Covington Independent Tobacco Co. Tobacco companies purchased 141,066 pounds of burley at an average price of $62.42 a hundred-weight.

The price of Erlanger's market was approximately $350 a hundred-weight higher than last year's opening day market.

Tobacco was auctioned at the rate of 440 baskets an hour, according to Rankin.

Other Markets Report

Carrollton reported $66.16 for 1,054,914 pounds; Mayville $66.79 for 1,041,262 pounds and Shelbyville $65.42 for 830,214 pounds; Lexington at $67.70 for 2,329,744 pounds.

State Market News Report

The Federal-State Market News Service said good tan lungs brought $72, the high end, and prices ranged downward to $20 for light to medium nondescript.

Some markets reported no tobacco was going under loan; others estimated it at one to two percent.

FISHING ACTION TOPS IN KENTUCKY LAKES

Late-fall fishing in Kentucky's major lakes still shows a part of the outdoor spotlight reports the Kentucky Tourist and Travel Commission.

Trotting along rocky points is taking its toll of big bass at Cumberland Lake, Deway and Dale Hollow while surface plugging and flycasting are nailing them at Kentucky and Herrington.

Mayor Leon B. Hall offers the following statement to the people of Walton, Kentucky:

"Since the above date of Council several citizens have approached, asking me for my opinion of the sewer system for the City of Walton, hence I stand on the subject as they stated they have not heard me so how I stood on this matter. "Citizens have asked the the question, 'In your opinion what would be the maximum service charge per month per user?' My answer to this question is 'If the cost per month per water consumer is more than 100% of the water bill it would be too much and in my opinion, it would place a burden on the majority of the water users and I am not in favor of placing a hardship on anyone.' "This program of decentralization which is taking place will not come about overnight. It will be a gradual development taking place over a period of time, but it is not too soon to think about it and plan for it. The change is now in process and whatever plans we make now for our city's development will not be completed over night. It will take years to carry them out, but unless these plans are made now and we begin to think about necessary city improvements and an expansion of opportunities for family life and employment, we will find that our city will be passed by and other cities which are more alert and more progressive will obtain the advantages which we would like to have come here.

"A real and promising future lies ahead for us and our community, if we pull together with a single mind and single purpose. The time is here for great things.

Mayor Leon B. Hall.

25 Miles of Concrete Bids Are Being Let

Boone County will have a part of one of the longest stretches of freeway in the state when work is completed next summer in Inter-State 75.

The announcement was made by Henry Ward, State Highway Commissioner, in a visit this past week to Northern Kentucky.

He said that bids on paving contracts have been taken to put down concrete on 25 miles of four-lane road from Maple Avenue interchange in Ft. Mitchell, Kenton County through Boone County and into the central portion of Grant County.

With the exception of the Elizabethtown toll road, Inter-State 75 will be the longest stretch of completed expressway in all Kentucky.

Mr. Ward also told Northern Kentucky audiences that work is continuing in all phases which will lead to a cross-state highway from the Ohio River at Covington to the Tennessee border.

Also of interest to county officials and citizens having highway problems was Mr. Ward's announcement that Covington will be district headquarters under the re-organization of its department.

Under present conditions, officials and citizens are forced to take their problems to both Lexington and Frankfort for a decision which, in the past, has caused delay.

The Covington office will have charge of all engineering, planning, surveying and construction when the shift is completed.

Judge Carroll Cropper of Boone County and Joe Claxton, Boone County Farm Agent, attended the meeting in Covington at which time Mr. Ward made his announcement concerning road progress in Northern Kentucky. He also repeated his assurance that the access road to the Kenton-Boone industrial park would be built once a factory has been located there.

Kenton County PTA Council Discuss Four Basic School Policies

Mrs. F. H. Herzog, first vice president of the Sixth District Congress of Parents and Teachers, discussed the policies to follow as a guiding principle in all Parent-Teacher work at the recent meeting of the Kenton County Council of Parents and Teachers.

Educational, Noncommercial, Non-sectarian, and Nonpartisan; Working with the School and Cooperating with Other Organizations are the policies named by Mrs. Herzog with the advice that all P. T. A. members study their Parent-Teacher Manual and use to the maximum as a guide.

The devotional meditation was in keeping with Thanksgiving as Mrs. W. C. Whitson, character and spiritual education chairman, read portions of Deuteronomy and spoke on "Our Country."

Presidents, or a representative, from each local unit answered roll call to what has been accomplished in their unit to date.

Mrs. Shelby Kinney, president of the council, announced that "The Forest Hills and Spring Lake P. T. A. units have been terminated due to their consolidation with the new Ryland Heights school. Plans for organizing a P. T. A. at the new school will be effected at a later date.

Local P. T. A. units represented were: Beechwood, Bromley, Caywood, Dixie Heights, Kenton Elementary, Ludlow, Park Hills, Piner, Simon Kenton, and Taylor Mill.

A NEW SILVER METAL SIRE COMES TO K.A.B.A.

Roy Sussex Progressor has recently been purchased by the Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association. He has been awarded the breed's highest award for milk production, "Sussex" Silver Medal Production award was based on the production records of his first 15 daughters. They averaged producing 14,890 lbs. of milk and 551 lbs. of butterfat. This is an increase in production over his dam.

The "Sussex" bull represents Carnation bloodline. He was proven at Silver Lakes Farm, Newtown, Pa. He is sired by a son of Hallrose Progressor and out of the daughter of Carnation Robinhood. The "Sussex" daughters are uniform for size and for shape and attachment of udder. They have very level rumps and stand on straight legs. The "Sussex" bull should be a herd improver for Kentucky dairymen.

For service to dairymen, call Henry F. Hudson, Route 1, Burlington, Ky. Phone HU. 9-7349 (Paid Advertisement)

Hebron Homemakers

A feeling of Thanksgiving was present when the Hebron Homemakers answered the roll call with a quotation from the Bible using the word, "thanks". Mrs. Henry Dye read the 100th Psalm as part of the devotion and pointed out that every good gift comes from God.

Mrs. Ellen Aylor from Hebron Florists demonstrated how to make beautiful fall bouquets. She also gave some good tips for tying wide Christmas ribbon and how to keep holly bright and shiny all through the holiday season.

Mrs. Newton Sanders and Mrs. D. C. Smith gave a flannel-graph lesson on "Short-Term Credit". Short term credit was defined as credit granted for a year or less.

Final plans were made for the Christmas party which will be at community center on December 14. Members enjoying the November meeting were: Mesdames: Henry Anderson, Elbert Baker, Chas. Birch, Geo. Casper, G. P. Casper, Elmer Cummins, Art Conley, Sterling Dickey, Henry Dye, Myron Garnett, Gerald Garvey, Nelson Goodridge, Wm. Hagedorn, Ruby Hollis, Russell Horn, Howard Jenkins, Wm. Leo, Arthur Leder, Herman Oberjohn, Harv Martin, Jos. Pepper, Andy Rouse, Newton Sanders, Wilbur Shinkle, D. C. Smith, John Whitefoot, and Lewis Whittenburg. Guests included

Mesdames Ellen Aylor, Jas. Elliston and Leo Cotton.

Are the stairs in your home safe? Mrs. Gladys Lickert, UK Extension housing specialist, makes these suggestions. Build a handrail on unprotected stairs. Be sure all stairways are well-lighted, with control switches at both top and bottom. Keep steps clear of all items over which someone might trip.

THE FACE OF FAITH

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

Day	Book	Chapter	Verse
Sunday	Psalms	94	8
Monday	I Corinthians	4	8
Tuesday	Psalms	122	1-8
Wednesday	Acts	2	38
Thursday	John	1	9-17
Friday	Isaiah	1	16-17
Saturday	II Timothy	1	1-4

Sometimes a face is striking. It isn't the sort of face you're accustomed to. It's a face you wouldn't have expected to see. But you have seen it! That's why you call it striking.

The Face of Faith is like that...

The eyes seem lifted toward the hills, to a source of strength. The lips are firm with a courage that rests neither on prowess nor weapon. The countenance shines with a joyous light... a light that seems to reflect some mystic Sun though the world around is cast in shadow and gloom.

I see the Face of Faith each Sunday... the face of a child... perhaps your child!

I am her Sunday School teacher—and the joyous light of that striking face inspires me to seek more faithfully in the worship and work of my Church the help of God.

You are her parents. How that confident, expectant radiance must inspire you!

4-H Club Enrollment At All Time High In Boone County

4-H Club enrollment in Boone County is now at an all time high according to Marvin Davidson, Assistant County Agent. There are now 902 club members enrolled in 29 4-H Clubs. This year's figure represents a 15 percent increase over that of last year. Five new 4-H Clubs have been organized, one at Burlington, one at Walton-Verona, one at Verona, one at the Florence Grade School. The Constance 4-H Club merged with the 2 clubs at Hebron.

Boys and girls in 4-H Club work may take a project in a number of home economic or agricultural subjects. For the non-farm boy or girl, there are projects in subjects such as electric, woodwork, home and yard improvements or insect study.

Many adults give of their time and of themselves in helping the 4-H'er with his project or in the 4-H activities of which Camp and the 4-H and 4-H Club are examples.

4-H Club work is a cooperative endeavor of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the University of Kentucky, Agricultural Extension Service, and local county appropriating body (Fiscal Court). Project work is carried on in the home and on the farm. In Boone County, monthly meetings are held in the schools with the exception of the Florence Club which meets in the club members' homes.

PICK TOBACCO LAND IN NEAR FUTURE

If you're thinking about the land on which to grow your 1961 tobacco crop, says Russell Hunt, UK Cooperative Extension Service tobacco specialist, here are a few things to remember:

Pick land that is high in fertility; a good grass-legume soil field is better than land that has been cropped in tobacco or other row crops for years. Level or rolling land will be better suited for the crop. Make a rough sketch of the rough, hilly land. Choose well-drained land which has good structure; this kind of land can better stand drought or excess rains.

Test the soil to determine fertilizer needs and be sure to check on lime (acidity) requirements.

Government Expert Letter Is Released

The Committee for Citizens Welfare, which opposes a sewer system and survey in Walton at this time, has released through their attorney, Asa M. Rouse, the following letter from Robert R. Goetzman, expert and field engineer for the United States Government.

"This letter explains that Walton, just like any other city in the continental United States, may apply. But it makes it clear that the Government expert feels that a sewage problem in Walton would be too expensive at this time." Mr. Rouse said.

The letter follows:

Dear Mr. Rouse:

Subject: Sewer Facilities

Walton, Kentucky

This has reference to the conversation between you, your father, and myself on the afternoon of November 15 in Crittenden after the Pre-construction Conference for the Bullock Pen Water District.

But it makes it clear that the Government expert feels that a sewage problem in Walton would be too expensive at this time." Mr. Rouse said.

First of all—I confirmed the existence of three Federal Acts which bar some applicability to the sewer problems of Walton. These are:

1. P. L. 660, under which the Federal Government can make a grant up to 30% of eligible sewer treatment facilities. This act is administered by the Kentucky Water Pollution Commission in the State Health Department in Frankfort.

2. The Public Facility Loan Program, administered by this Agency, under which we can purchase the revenue or assessment bonds of a financially sound project.

3. The Public Works Planning Agency, under which we can make our sewerage advance to cover the cost of a Preliminary Plan for your sewer and plant. This advance would be payable in full whenever you started construction of any sewers.

Also commented, gratuitously, that a sewerage program in Walton would be VERY costly and probably beyond the reasonable ability of the citizens to pay, at least at this time. This observation is based on the following factors:

(a) Walton lies, generally, along a North-South ridge, with several sub-ridges extending East or West from this main ridge. This will necessitate several pumping stations which, of course, are expensive.

(b) Walton is traversed in a North-South direction by two railroads, and a main Highway which must be crossed several times, or else employ deep cuttings, either of which is expensive.

(c) There is much undeveloped land along locations where sewer lines should go. Also, in many cases, the sewer lines are too low to get into sewers, again making sewers, on a per-construction basis, quite expensive.

(d) There is no large receiving stream, thus, complete treatment will be required, again an expensive procedure.

(e) The outstanding water debt offers little in the way of help to sewer financing.

Based on these factors, it appears unlikely that Walton is in a position to undertake a sewer program, however, they are an eligible applicant in so far as the applicable Federal laws are concerned, and are entitled

OAK RIDGE

Shirley Tallent, Editor—FL. 7-6881

A very beautiful but very sad wedding, took place, Friday night, when Miss Linda Yates was married to Mr. Eugene Heidel at the Oak Ridge Baptist Church. Her father, Russell Yates was badly injured in a fall from a ladder while at work in Friday morning, died a few minutes before the wedding was to take place. Since everything was in readiness for the wedding, they went through with it, but everyone was heartbroken for the young bride and her family.

Mrs. Myo Smith is visiting Miss Emma Yates. She came for the wedding and stayed for the funeral of her brother.

Little Bill Wren now has the mumps.

The Annie Allen Circle of Oak Ridge Baptist Church will hold their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Robert Butte on Thursday evening, December 8th.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wamble in the birth of a baby boy last Monday. The baby weighed slightly more than 2 pounds and is in an incubator at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barrier were awakened about 1 a. m. Saturday by a loud crash and found a car in their living room. The car was driven by Dennis Moore, 18, of Covington, who lost control of the car and crashed into the house. He suffered a broken arm.

Mrs. Eugene Tomlin got word from her son, Bob, who lives in Washington, D. C. that he has been sick and in the hospital this past week.

We are sorry to report the deaths of three of our neighbors this past week. Mr. A. J. McDonald passed away suddenly of a heart attack and was buried on Saturday. Mr. Ed. Wintling died on Thursday morning after a long illness. On Friday Mr. Russell Yates suffered a fatal accident while at work. The community will greatly miss these three men.

A beautiful White Bible Ceremony was held at the Oak Ridge Baptist Church on Wednesday evening, when a white Bible was presented to the bride to be, Miss Linda Yates, by her fellow members of the Y. W. A. Following the ceremony a Bridal Shower was given for her at the home of Miss Carol Tallent, when she received many lovely gifts.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Chester Tallent taught the book "Buenos Dias" to the members of the G. A.'s of Oak Ridge Baptist Church. Following the study course, a chili supper was held for the G. A.'s at the church. There were 21 members and three counselors present. The counselors were Mrs. Tallent, Mrs. Robert Butte and Mrs. Eugene Gatewood.

Mrs. Arthur Nitschke is home from the hospital where she underwent surgery.

The first white man to see any part of Kentucky was the French explorer, Robert de la Salle, who reached the Ohio Rapids at the present site of Louisville in 1670.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Please go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

COLD, WET WEATHER CAN CAUSE FOOT ROT

Keep a sharp lookout the next few months for limping cattle, says the UK Experiment Station animal pathology department; the limps may be the first signs of foot-rot.

This disease which causes a raw condition on the feet of cattle can spread rapidly through a herd. The foot-rot organism gets its start when feet of cattle become softened and damaged in wet, muddy lots and pastures in winter.

Early treatment usually can clear up the condition; generally a trimming of affected tissue will do the job. The farmer can help by keeping cattle out of pools of stagnant water, away from water-logged lots and pastures, and by keeping areas around water and feed troughs as clean and dry as possible.

Insects are connected with two, maybe three, of the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse; insects can cause famine, pestilence and death.

GOVERNMENT EXPERT'S LETTER IS RELEASED

to submit applications. The applications will, in accordance with agency policy, be considered solely on their merits.

"I hope this restatement will clear up the misunderstandings arising from my talk on October 27.

Sincerely yours,

Robert R. Goetzman,

Field Engineer.

"This letter was written after Mr. Rouse conferred with the Government expert on the day following Town Council's 3 to 2 vote in favor of the $7,500 sewer survey.

Last week, the Advertiser quoted Mayor Hall as saying, concerning the monthly sewer bill: "If the cost per month per water consumer is more than 100% of the water bill, it would be too much in my opinion." To this a committee spokesman answered saying, "We have calculated the average water bill in Walton and it is approximately $5.50, based on an audit of the city's books by the Orwell Rankin firm of CPAs. The total revenue the town received last year from customers for water was $30,580.00. If the sewer system cost as much as the Government expert estimated, the year's interest alone on such a debt would be $37,500.00 which is about $7,000 more than all of the combined income of the water system. So Mr.

Hall may easily see that the sewage bill would exceed the water bill even if all we did was pay interest.

"If we pay the principle amount which would be due, our total year's payment on the sewer debt would come to $51,500.00. And, mind you, this is not figuring the cost of maintenance which, if its like that of the water system, will average approximately $3.00 per month per customer.

"When all of this is taken into consideration, it is clear that the sewer bill will be considerably more than twice as much as your water bill," the spokesman concluded.

OFFICIAL PLANNING COMMISSION REPORTS

Following the remarks and statements of Mr. Goetzman at the meeting the Walton Planning and Zoning Commission unanimously voted to recommend that the City Council proceed immediately to request the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the Federal Government, to finance a Preliminary Plan for a Sanitary Sewer System for the City of Walton. A roll call vote of the members of the Planning and Zoning Commission was taken and the following were present and voted for the recommendation to the City Council: Dan Roberts, Willard Rice, James Webster and Bryan Rector.

This Preliminary Plan will not cost the citizens of Walton any amount until such time as the City places the system under construction and further that the advantages are in the form of Interest Free Loans. In the event no sewer system is ever installed, the City Council has not incurred any indebtedness on the City.

The members of the Planning and Zoning Commission have been advised by the engineers that the Preliminary Plan, to be made now, will be used when or if a system ever is installed, same as in other cities.

A meeting of the Walton City Council was held November 14 and the citizens were urged to attend. After the recommendation from the Planning and Zoning Commission was presented to the City Council requesting the Council to proceed to have a Preliminary Plan for sewers made, several of the citizens voiced their opinions, some in favor and some not in favor of the City Council proceeding to have the Preliminary Plan made.

At the conclusion of the questions and remarks by the citizens, a vote was taken by the City Council on whether or not to receive the recommendation. The vote was as follows: Clinton Shields, Mrs. Amanda Yealey and Howard Feldhaus voting yes; Robert Stephenson and Bryan Rector voting no.

The next order of business of the City Council was the introduction of the following Resolution 1960-9 which reads: "WHEREAS, it has been determined by the City Council of the City of Walton, Kentucky, that it is desirous to provide an adequate Sanitary Sewer System to the citizens and residents of the City of Walton and, WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Walton deems it advisable and necessary to improve the health and welfare of its citizens by obtaining a preliminary survey to be financed by the Federal Government through one of its agencies in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"FURTHER, the City Council of Walton, Kentucky, hereby authorizes the Mayor, Leon Hall and the City Attorney, Truett R. DeMoisey, to contact the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the above named Department of the Federal Government to make application for such preliminary survey and to do whatever is necessary to promote such application at no cost to the City. NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF the City of Walton, Kentucky, that the Mayor, Leon Hall and City Attorney Truett R. DeMoisey, be and are hereby authorized to make immediate application for a preliminary survey for a Sanitary Sewer System. Said application to be made with the Regional Office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Atlanta, Georgia. Said preliminary survey to be paid for wholly and totally by the Government Agency with no cost to be borne by the City at this time. Passed and approved and ordered published by the City Council of the City of Walton, Kentucky this 14th day of November, 1960. Passed by a vote of five members present unanimously.

(Signed by Leon B. Hall, Mayor, Walton, Kentucky. Attest: John J. Romes, Clerk, Walton, Kentucky.) The above Resolution was voted by roll call and each of the following members of the City Council present, voted yes: Clinton Shields, Mrs. Amanda Yealey, Howard Feldhaus, Robert Stephenson and Bryan Rector.

You will observe from the preceding Resolution that the authorization is for a survey only, and at no cost to the City of Walton at this time.

The logical question in order is "Where do we go from here?" The next step is to have the Preliminary Plan made by a competent engineer in this vicinity, being paid out of the aid secured from the Federal Government. This survey will take quite a while and will furnish the City Council, the Planning and Zoning Commission and the citizens with precise information as to cost and locations. The next step after the completion of the survey is to fit it into the Master Plan being developed by the Commission and we agree with others in their opinion that it will take another year or two to complete the Master Plan.

While the Master Plan is in the making as well as when it is finished the general public will be requested to attend the meetings and offer their advice and comments on its progress and how it will affect the citizens.

Not until after the Master Plan is completed will the Planning Commission entertain the construction of a Sewer System. When and if such construction is contemplated, several public hearings will be held with all the citizens of the City, to determine their desires. You see, construction will first be considered by the Planning Commission and if the citizens in the majority deem that it is within their means, feasible and necessary then and only then will the Planning and Zoning Commission recommend that the City Council consider the construction of a sewer system.

How does the Preliminary Plan fit into the Master Plan? It is necessary to determine the location of pumping stations, pipes and disposal units, which are large units and some times not desirable to be too close to residents. The Planning Commission does not want to suggest that certain land be used for residences, at this time, and in the future, if you decide in favor of a system being built, that then it is determined that the necessary units will be detrimental to nice homes. It is necessary also to have the Preliminary Plan to assist the Commission to determine just where future streets are to be built. Keep in mind, the Planning Commission must be constantly planning for the future, not just the present.

It is certainly hoped that our citizens will not let their personal desires or animosity override their better judgement.

Social Security Facts:

On December 3, the first disability insurance benefit checks for people under age 50 will be delivered. Up to now, only people 50 years of age or over, and their dependents, could qualify under the disability provisions of the law. Under amendments to the social security law enacted in September, severely disabled workers under 65, with credit for 5 years of work under social security in the 10-year period before they became disabled, can qualify for these disability benefits. Benefits may also be payable to his dependents, just as if he were receiving social security retirement benefits.

Approximately 250,000 people—disabled workers and their dependents—are eligible for benefits because of this change in the law.

Most of them have already applied for their benefits, but some may still not be aware of their rights. If you feel you can qualify, and have not yet contacted your local social security office, do it now. The people there will be glad to give you additional information about the disability provisions of the law, and assist you in applying for benefits if you wish to do so.

Get ready for the gang this winter by clearing closet space for their winter coats. And check your storage space for folding tables and chairs. Indoor activities make these articles more in demand and you'll want to have them handy.

The Visalia Baptist Church Completely Destroyed By Fire

The Visalia Baptist Church was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The flames were fed by flowing fuel oil. The building was eight years old and was almost a total loss which will reach about $57,000.

Kenton County Fire Chief Cecil Ishmael said the blaze apparently started in a defective basement furnace and lines leading to the underground fuel oil tanks burst in half, allowing oil to gush out onto the flames.

Kenton and Community Fire Department was called about 9:45 p. m., then two trucks from Highland Heights also responded and firemen fought the blaze until nearly 3 a. m.

There was $27,000 insurance on the building which will not come near to covering the loss, Curtis Gross treasurer, said.

Church services will be held in the Visalia Public School until further notice.

Walton Reaches Sewer Agreement

Claude Adams Killed By Train Monday

Claude Adams of Walton, was killed Monday morning at 7:45, when his truck was hit by a Southern Railway freight train a quarter of a mile north of Walton.

Mr. Adams, who lived on Walton-Nicholson Road, is 57 years of age. He was considered one of the best farmers in this area. He was on his way, at the time of the accident, to work at a tobacco warehouse in Erlanger.

His pick-up truck was struck at Chambers Road crossing by a north-bound freight train. The truck was wedged on the front bumper of the diesel and carried nearly a mile, but Adams was thrown from the truck and killed about a half mile from the scene of the collision, according to reports. He was alone when the accident occurred.

Police said the accident probably was caused by the poor visibility afforded by the icy conditions that morning. The truck was struck in the middle and wrapped around the front of the engine.

Mr. Adams was an elder in the Independence Christian Church.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 1 p. m. at Chambers and Grubbs funeral home, Walton, with burial in Independence cemetery.

Season Average For Burley At $66.13; $3.02 Above 1959

Kentucky's seasonal burley tobacco average stands at $66.13 a hundredweight despite four successive days of lowering prices last week.

The State Department of Agriculture said Sunday the 29-market average for the second week of sales was $65.46. The seasonal average was bolstered mainly by exceptionally good prices opening week.

The market, which began its decline Tuesday a week ago, dropped to a $63.70 average by Friday. The volume also had slackened off and quality was slightly lower.

The picture was a little brighter on the eight-state burley belt; the Federal-State Market News Service reported.

The belt's average so far is $3.02 a hundredweight more than last season's first two weeks.

City Council Hires Engineering Firm

Walton City Council at a special called meeting Thursday night hired an engineer to make a preliminary survey to determine the feasibility of a sewer system for the city.

The Cincinnati firm of Karl, Zepf and Associates were hired. O. G. Loomis & Son, Covington, was the other engineering concern; bidding for the job.

The Council accepted the bid of Karl, Zepf and Associates which was $5000 for the Preliminary Survey and 6 1/2% for the entire Sewer System if ever built. The $5000 will be included in the 6 1/2% total.

The bid of Loomis concern was $1500 for the Preliminary Survey and 8 1/2% for the entire system including the $1500.

Council decided that the overall saving of 2 1/2% by the Karl, Zepf and Associates concern, was the best offer, even if the initial cost was higher.

The hiring of the engineer was done through authority of a Resolution previously voted.

As an elected official of the City of Walton, Boone County, Kentucky, for as an employee of said city, and for in consideration of the confidence of Walton's citizenry, I will and do agree that any proposal for the construction and installation of a sanitary sewer system shall be first presented to the general public at public hearings, held after due notice has been published.

At these hearings, an opportunity will be afforded the citizens to acquaint themselves with all pertinent information necessary to allow them to carefully consider the cost involved, the feasibility and the desirability for a sanitary sewer system.

Further, after public hearings have been held, that a referendum vote will be taken by means of ballot polls within the city to determine the desires and will of the citizens of Walton, regarding the construction of a sanitary sewer system for our city.

The vote of the people shall be held and properly conducted whether required under Kentucky law or not and regardless of the method of financing used. Majority vote of the citizens shall be sufficient in the event of the use of the revenue bond finance plan.

Promise Come True

Lesson for December 18, 1960

"IF OXEN could invent a God, it would look like an ox." So a scornful Greek wrote, long ago. He was making the point that men make gods in their own image—we like to think that God is like ourselves. This is all true; so the real God is not always like our pictures of him. Last week we recalled that although the Jewish people had long looked for a Deliverer, when the "coming one" came, they did not recognize him. This week we have an opportunity to look into this further. If Jesus, the Son of God, did not exactly match what people had expected, what was he like.

Dr. Foreman

Worker

If God himself took human form and walked our world's streets, what would we naturally expect? One thing we should look for is that he would surely seem to be a great thing. A God, visible or invisible, who would only sit silently upon a throne, never lifting a finger, would be no sort of God at all.

So the ancient Hebrews thought, and so we think, and it is true. But when Jesus came, although his life was very busy, though he worked with all his might, he did not do the kind of things people looked for. He did not leap off a temple roof unharmed, as he was tempted to do. He did not send for 12 troops of shining angels to rescue him when his life was in danger. He did work miracles, but most of the things he did were not miraculous. And the miracles he did were simple, quiet, almost shy acts, never done to show off, always done to help some one. When Jesus said "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me," he made it plain that this Divine Spirit in him showed itself in the healing and the helping he did day by day.

This brings out the second point. The ancient Hebrews expected, and we should all naturally expect, that if God were here on earth he would be of course the superior over all men. He would be known by the absolute authority of his commands, he would be known by the way he bent all to his almighty will.

Again they were disappointed, and it can be doubted whether we should have been any surer if we had been there. For Christ, the Son of God, was not known by the way he commanded, but by the way he served. One of the greatest passages in the Gospels, in which Jesus claims a knowledge of God such as no other has, comes to its climax through the words, "My yoke is easy, and my burden is light." The Son of God—we should expect him to wear a crown! But no, he carries a yoke. Only animals wore yokes; only animals and slaves carrying burdens. Christ speaks of himself in such a way as to call up not a picture of radiant glory, but just a simple servant ready to carry on his shoulders whatever burdens may be laid there. Is that too humble?

Friend

People who listened to Jesus talk were familiar with oxen and how they were harnessed. Yokes for two were very common. Jesus (who perhaps had many a time carried out ox yokes in the carpenter shop) speaks of this kind of thing when he says "Take my yoke upon you." Let us go back a minute. Let us ask once again the question, if God himself walked upon this earth, what might we expect him to do and be? One thing that would be natural would be to hope that he would befriend us, be on our side, and take our part. And so it is, but not the way most of us would expect and hope. We would want him to take us out of trouble, to shelter us from responsibility, to make things easy for us. Well, this is true, but again is a surprising way. Christ the Promised Son "comes true" in a way we had not wanted. He offers us his friendship—in work. Take my yoke—share my yoke—lift the burdens of life by my side. We cannot know his friendship if we never share his work.

The earliest horse breeding farm in Kentucky was Keeneland Stud near Lexington.

Market Street! Just a handful of shopping days before Christmas! The best-organized parade of the year!

Every marcher has been summoned by advertisements . . . lated by the music and decorations . . . inspired by the joy of giving. Each has a destination, an objective, a mission. And there's a kind of desperate dedication in it all: everyone searching for something someone else needs!

But never confuse the December parade with the real dedication of Christmas.

What every soul needs is not displayed in windows.

And Christmas means nothing unless it means: ALL WE REALLY NEED . . . GOD HAS GIVEN!

In the church of your choice, dedicate your life anew to the Christ Child.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

OAK RIDGE

Shirley Talbot, Editor—FL 7-6881

We were so sorry to hear of the fire that destroyed the Visalia Baptist Church on Saturday night. It was such a lovely new building, and the congregation was planning to enlarge it in the near future, and now they have to completely rebuild it.

This sudden cold weather has brought a lot of fires, and everyone should be extra careful about overheated furnaces and stoves and flues. It is practically impossible to successfully fight a fire with water in subfreezing temperatures.

The Annie Allen Circle of Oak Ridge Baptist Church had a lovely Christmas party last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Butte. The home was appropriately decorated and the table was set with Holiday decorations. Mrs. Jack King and Mrs. Joseph Wren led in prayer for those on the Cananda of Prayer, and read the story of the birth of Christ from the Book of Luke. The members stood around the table, each holding a lighted candle, and had sentence prayers then sang Silent Night, before sitting down to their refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Hines and children of Milford, Ohio visited her mother, Mrs. R. R. Hutchins on Sunday.

The new laundromat at the corner of Hands Road and Taylor Mill was opened for business last week. They were able to turn the water on for laundry use a few days earlier than they could for general household use. They are installing the water meters in the community now, and expect to turn the water on in a few days.

The Band and Glee Club at Simon Kenton High School held a lovely concert on Sunday afternoon at the school, which was very well attended despite the icy weather.

We heard this morning that the father of Mr. Edgar Baker, Principal of Taylor Mill School, passed away this weekend.

Gladys Hopewell Circle

The Gladys Hopewell Circle at the Walton Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Vera Wright for their December meeting.

The program "Recruits for Mission Service" was presented by the Program chairman, Mrs. Tommy Cook. The business session was conducted by the Circle chairman, Mrs. Vera Wright.

Those present were Mrs. Mabel Webster, Mrs. David Deaton, Mrs. J. B. McCubbin, Mrs. Lawrence Wilson, Mrs. Jim Woods, Mrs. Gene Newby, Mrs. Lloyd Shields, Mrs. Tommy Cook, Mrs. Joseph Tockett, Mrs. O. J. Struve, Mrs. George Mullins, Mrs. Edward Perkins, Mrs. Patty Myers, Mrs. Dora Pennington and the hostess, Mrs. Vera Wright.

REVIVAL SERVICES

A continuous Revival will begin Thursday Dec. 15th, at the Walton Church of God. Sister Wanda Gadd will be the evangelist for the first two weeks.

Rev. O. B. Mullins of Newport will be with the church this weekend.

We have enlarged our building and re-decorated the interior. Come and see what the Lord is doing.

McNEELEY CIRCLE

The McNeely Circle met December 8 in the home of Mrs. Grace Knox with fifteen present, ten members and three new members and one visitor.

Mrs. Virginia Kacaba gave the Devotional.

Those taking part on the program were Mrs. Jim Huanick, Edith Percival, June Brewster Virginia Kacaba and Mrs. Mary Rector.

A delightful lunch was served. The next meeting will be at the Walton Baptist Church.

Mary Sampson Circle

The Mary Sampson Circle of the Walton Baptist Church met Dec. 8th with Mrs. Leonard Cook, eight members, three children present. The meeting was led by Mrs. Gerley. Prayer by Mrs. Daniels. Should draperies be lined? Generally, any of the heavy materials will be more satisfactory if lined, especially if the fabric is patterned, according to Miss Ruth Burr UK Extension specialist in home furnishings. Advantages of lining draperies are: they look better from the outside of the house; they hang better; the fabric is protected from the sun; and the draperies look more professional.

COOPERATION is a Kentucky tradition!

DIGGING WELLS . . .

OR SETTING POWER POLES!

Here in Kentucky a man's neighbors are always on hand to help out with the real big jobs. If a farmer finds he needs a well, he knows that he may count on the help of his friends. By the same token they know that he stands ready to lend a hand whenever they need help. It's another example of the way neighbors cooperate in our state to make things easier for all.

Rural electrification is neighborly cooperation, too. A crew of men setting up power poles is symbolic of that cooperation. Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops . . . created by folks who got together to make a better life for themselves . . . show how neighborly cooperation serves our Commonwealth. As the countryside has brightened and prospered, so the townspeople have benefited, too. The new rural prosperity made possible by electrification is spent in the cities and towns.

Now Is Best Time To Start 4-H Club; Many Advantages Listed

Let's talk about the best resource that Kentucky has, boys and girls. Now is the best time of the year to get them started in 4-H Club. All boys and girls like to produce something useful, that has some value, either to themselves or to others. They want to have something of their very own. 4-H Club work gives boys and girls just such an opportunity.

Each member of a 4-H Club selects a project to do at home to fill the membership requirements, and of course it's more fun to do something that other boys and girls are interested in too. To own something of his own, to have a responsibility for it, and to learn while doing, gives a youngster a place in the sun.

Projects for girls and future homemakers vary from clothing, foods, home improvement and homekeeping, dog grooming and housekeeping. For the boys, a selection may be made from the many different livestock, crop horticulture, or forestry projects. The urban boy or girl may take such projects as woodworking or electricity. Particulars of all projects are written out in circular form, especially prepared for 4-H member's use, and are furnished free to members by club leaders and Extension agents. Many new projects have been added recently, including photography, junior leadership, and money management.

In addition to project work, the club members develop through association with other boys and girls in activities such as camps, meetings and fairs.

Any interested boy or girl from 9 to 20 years of age should find out about 4-H in the local community and either join the local group or by working with others; get a new club started. Now is the time to start. Twenty-nine 4-H Clubs are already started in Boone County.

We hope all parents will urge boys and girls to get into 4-H Club work and will encourage them to do a good job after they do get in. Naturally a boy or girl can't get much out of an organization unless they have the enthusiastic support of the father and mother. Local leaders and Extension Agents will appreciate inquiries and do all they can to welcome new members into 4-H Club work.

Boone Homemakers Met Recently, Study Home-made Breads

"Yeast Breads" was the leader lesson subject for Boone County Homemakers which was taught recently. The lesson was most ably taught by one of our own club members, Mrs. A. Becker of the Florence Club. Mrs. Becker not only taught the lesson in her home but provided a lunch of her own special chowder recipe and her own freshly baked yeast breads and rolls.

Mrs. Becker not only had things well organized for demonstrating all steps in making yeast breads and rolls by different methods but also had three kitchen helpers to relieve her of responsibilities in the kitchen.

Club leaders and the home agent, Gertrude Paparotta, wish to publicly thank Mrs. Becker and her helpers for the very outstanding day of fun and learning. Kitchen workers were Mrs. Chas. Riehemann, President of Burlington Road Club, Mrs. Stanley Woosterfeld, her daughter and Mrs. Edna Rolfen, both of Point Pleasant.

Members present were: Burlington: Mrs. Vernon Pope and Mrs. Grant Maddix, Bullittsville: Mrs. Huey Aylor and Mrs. Irvin Anderson, Burlington Road: Mr. Al Becker and Mrs. Chas. U. of K. Specialist Advises Use of Ky. Feeder Calf Assn.

Feeder calf prices have declined from 4 to 5 cents a pound from the 1959 level and many Kentucky beef producers are wondering if selling calves in the Kentucky Feeder Calf Association sales are "worth the trouble."

The answer is "yes," says George Pendergrass, UK Cooperative Extension Service beef specialist. Prices received at the 1959 feeder-calf sales were, on the state-wide average, above prices at regular sales.

For instance: Steer calves weighing 300 to 500 pounds and grading good to choice brought $28.54 on the regular market, but went for $31.19 at a difference of $2.74 a hundredweight on the association sales circuit.

Medium calves sold for $24.48 in regular sales and $27.61 in association sales, a difference of $3.13 a hundredweight.

Pendergrass thinks this trend will continue in favor of the association sales.

Home Furnishing Leaders of Kenton Homemakers Met

Home Furnishing leaders of the Kenton County Homemakers association assembled recently at the recreation room of the Trinity Methodist Church in Latonia, Ky., for a study on the subject of mixing old and new furniture presented by Miss Zelma E. Byrl, County Home Demonstration Agent.

The lesson included a study of the different periods of furnishings, fashions and fads in furnishings, scale, balance, line and texture.

Miss Byrl said the question of what furniture "goes together" is often asked when homemakers buy new furnishings to use with what they already have.

For success in mixing old and new furniture, Miss Byrl gives these guides:

A piece or two of old furniture in a modern room or a piece or two of modern furniture in a period room may be desirable as an accent. Never mix equal amounts of two furniture styles. Have the majority of the furniture in one style, then add a second or third style in small amounts.

Pieces that look comfortable together usually "go together" well; they may be related in color, texture, scale or style. Mix woods if they are alike in color or in texture. Walnut and oak are similar in texture, walnut, cherry and mahogany are related in color.

Winged upholstered chairs and sofas often can be used in casual or more formal rooms. Their color and fabric often relates them to other pieces.

The styling of flounces on upholstered chairs and sofas helps relate them to other furnishings. A gathered flounce is informal, while a pleated one may be either formal or casual. One pleat at the corners of a flounce on a sofa or chair gives the piece a more tailored, modern look. Upholstered pieces with old flounces appear more formal.

Leaders in attendance were: Mrs. Virgil W. Kelly, Mrs. F. M. Powers, Mrs. A. R. Lueders, Mrs. Roy Irwin, Mrs. Everett Steuart, Mrs. Alby Stauffer, Mrs. Delbert Casey, Mrs. T. B. Renaker, Mrs. Karl Schmidt, Mrs. Cecil Pearson, Mrs. Edwaid Kerr, Mrs. Russell Rector, Mrs. Robert O. Heilemann, Mrs. Bernard Grimm, Mrs. Charles E. Couch, Charles E. Adams is executive director. Committee members are Highway Commission Henry Ward, Herndon Evans, of Lexington; and John Ed Pearce, of Louisville.

The Greatest Gift

It's wonderful to receive "the world" for Christmas—but think how much more wonderful it would be if we could give Christmas to the world! If the true Christian spirit could permeate the globe, all fear of war, destruction, extermination, would be over.

It is only through the Church that Christian teachings can hope to reach to the darkest corners on earth, bringing enlightenment in their wake. By proclaiming God's eternal message, the Church can bring the hope of peace closer to reality.

But if Christmas is to be given to the world, then all of us must first do our part by living our own individual lives in the Christian way. Start now—by attending regularly the church of your faith.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons
why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. First to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
